MYF Group
Very Active

The Methodist Youth Fellowship met early Sunday evening for Junior choir practice, directed by Mrs. E. C. Brandon, Jr., assisted by B. S. Peeler, Jr., with Miss Barbara Gault as organist. Following the rehearsal, the young people were served a weenie supper in the basement by Circle No. 6, of which Mrs. G. F. Latimore is leader.

At 6:30 the MYF met in the Youth Chapel for a dedication service on "Peace." The American flag and the Christian flag stood on each side of the picture of Christ, illuminated by a candle, and formed an appropriate worship center. Miss Jo Ann Fall conducted the service, assisted by Miss Patsy Jolly and Miss Jean Lynch. A solo was rendered by B. S. Peeler, Jr., during the program. 28 were present.

Following the business led by Jack Matthews, president, during which the group made plans to attend the District Youth Rally in Charlotte Dec. 7, the Junior choir sang for the evening service.

A workshop was held Tuesday evening at the home of Misses Jackie and Betty Wilson to make plans for the coming month for the young people's activities and programs.

The Junior choir will practice Friday night at 7 o'clock in the church basement in preparation of a Christmas program.

Next Sunday evening the group will discuss "Friendship."

W. B. Barber Feted
On His Birthday

On Sunday, November 28, at the home of Mrs. Clyde Lindsay a dinner was given honoring W. B. Barber on his birthday.

A bountiful spread was enjoyed by the following: Mrs. Y. O. Weaver and children, Mrs. Joe Strong and family, Mrs. Clifford McMurry and family of Shelby, Mrs. Bill Green and family of Forest City, Mrs. Hall Goforth and family, Mrs. Bill Mullinax and family, Mrs. Barber of Kings Mountain, Mrs. Barber's brother, J. D. Ashley and Mrs. Ashley of Charlotte.

Ace Of Clubs With
Mrs. Aubrey Mauney

A profusion of fall flowers and Bitter Sweet added to the attractiveness of the Mauney home on Friday night when Mrs. Aubrey Mauney entertained members of the Ace of Clubs and invited guests.

The guests found their places at beautifully appointed tables and a delicious turkey dinner with all accessories was served.

Thanksgiving motifs were carried out in tallies and decorations. On a table in the end of the living room were miniature Pilgrims on their way to church surrounded by shocks of corn, pumpkins, a rail fence and vegetables.

Mrs. Phillip Padgett was recipient of high score prize for ladies, Jacob Cooper for men. E. Abbott received the floating prize. Mr. and Mrs. Haywood E. Lynch received high score for couples.

Mrs. James Anthony, a recent bride, was presented a piece of crystal.

Dr. and Mrs. Herman Easom of Wilmington, rouse guests of the hostess, were given a set of hand crocheted mats.

Out-of-town guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parris, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cothran of Shelby, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lohr of Shelby, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wolfe of Charlotte.

Fortnighters Club Meet
With Mrs. Ramseur

Two tables of Bridge were in play last Friday afternoon when Mrs. W. L. Ramseur entertained members of the Fortnighters club and the following guests: Mesdames Paul Neisler, Hunter Neisler, George Lattimore and O. P. Lewis, at her home on West Mountain street.

Colorful berries and foliage were used for decorations.

A desert course was served.

Mrs. George Houser held high score for the afternoon.

Hamburger Supper
At Lake Montonia

On Friday night, November 26, a group of young people enjoyed a "Hamburger Supper" at the Carpenter home, at Lake Montonia. Cards, progressive conversation and singing was entered into by the following: Dorcas Carpenter, Gene Mitchem, Louann Herndon, Bill Bryner of Bessemer City, Jean Webb, David Neill, Frances Payne, Ted Ramsey, Betty Lynch, George Tolleson, Mary Beth Hord, Tommy Baker, Bobbie Simmons, Walter Harmon, Betty Hord, Don Carpenter of Bessemer City, Lenora Plonk, Buddy Lackey of Fallston.

Miss Gantt Honored
At Pre-Nuptial Party

Mrs. H. C. Mayes delightfully entertained Tuesday night at ten tables of bridge honoring Miss Mary Frances Gantt, bride-elect of the tenth of this month.

The lovely Mayes home was effectively decorated in the Christmas spirit. The living room, dining room and den were thrown en-suite.

Guests were greeted at the den door where a crackling log fire, pine boughs and lighted tapers were used. A happy Santa Claus in an aquarium of snow balls added to the holiday party.

Miss Gantt's place was marked with a miniature white colonial bridal corsage.

A dessert plate of green and white ice cream, individual bride cakes, nuts and hot tea was served.

At the conclusion of play Mrs. Willam Rudbeck was winner of high score. Mrs. Dan Finger second high and Mrs. Jacob Mauney, low. The floating prize was won by Mrs. Otto Williams.

The hostess presented the bride-elect with crystal in her chosen pattern.

Miss Virginia Plonk
Fetes Miss Gantt

One of the loveliest pre-nuptial parties for Miss Frances Gantt was given Friday afternoon when Miss Virginia Plonk was hostess to three tables of bridge and one of rook.

On her arrival Miss Gantt was presented a corsage of chrysanthemums.

After several progressions, guests were invited to the dining room. On the dining table were paper dolls dressed as a bride and her attendants, the dresses were made with a full skirt. After the Ohs! and Ahs! the guests were asked to select a doll, cleverly hidden underneath the skirt was a perfectly appointed salad plate. A sweet course of ice cream and cake was passed.

Mrs. W. B. Thomson won high in bridge. Mrs. Arthur Gantt in rook.

Miss Gantt, the honoree, was remembered with silver in her pattern.

Clippers To Meet
All-Stars Sunday

Charlotte. — Just as last year, the professional Charlotte Clippers take a long winning streak into the annual Variety Club College All-Star Charity game at Memorial Stadium Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

Yet even those nine consecutive wins, the most recent a 20-14 thriller over theretofore unbeaten Weirton, W. Va., qualify them for no more than a co-favorites role.

For facing them will be 25 of the outstanding seniors from the Southern and North State conferences, a crew which looks stronger than the one which upset the Clippers, 21-13, in 1947's inaugural game. Directed by Coaches Peahead Walker of Wake Forest and Rex Enright of South Carolina, the All-Stars are one of the most impressive "dream teams" ever assembled in this section.

A look at the roster is enough to show that the Clippers will have a full afternoon against the "T" formation dynamite of the collegians. The All-Star squad:

Ends—Ed Austin and Bill Duncan of Duke; George Blomquist of N. C. State; Will Harvin of South Carolina Tackles — Phil and Kale Alexander of South Carolina; Captain Al DeRogatis of Duke; Bernie Hanaul of Wake Forest; Captain John Odom of Lenoir-Rhyne. Guards — Phil Ball, Ed Dew and Jake Land of South Carolina; Ed Schwarz of Maryland. Centers — Boyd Allen of Wake Forest; Captain Gene Kinney of Maryland.

Backs—Harry Bonk and Vic Turyn of Maryland; Captain Oscar Bozeman of N. C. State; Captain Jack Couch, Claud Harrison and Ernie Lawhorne of South Carolina; Tom Fetzner and Harry Dowda of Wake Forest; Fred Folger of Duke; and Lee Spears of Catawba.

This will be the season's climax for the Clippers, who each Sunday have given fans the best in wide-open football. They rolled up 429 points in 11 pro starts, with such men as Casey and Ralph Jones, Butch Butler, Nick Ogrovich, Rocci Spadaccini, Carroll Blackwell, Ernie Knotts, and Bo Saunders setting a new ceiling on thrills with every game. Spectators at the Weirton game were unanimous in calling it one of the most exciting football battles ever waged in Charlotte.

Proceeds from the All-Star game go to the "Heart Fund" for charity work by the Charlotte Variety Club. Reserved seat tickets are on sale at the National Hat Shop, 108 S. Tryon Street, and at the Variety Club business offices, 118 S. Poplar street in Charlotte.
