Cadet Blankenship To Receive Award

Charleston, S. C. — Cadet Alan Watts Blankenship, of 317 S. Galliard street, Florence, S. C., is one of 31 cadets at the Citadel, who will be awarded Distinguished Military Student Badges recently authorized by the department of the army. Presentation will take place at the regular Friday afternoon parade review January 21.

Cadet Blankenship was announced last October as one of the distinguished military students at the Citadel in recognition of outstanding service performed.

Selections of the young men for this designation were made by Colonel T. L. Futch, F. A. professor of military science and tactics with the concurrence of General C. P. Summerrall, president of the Citadel.

Cadet Blankenship, who is a senior at The Citadel, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Blankenship. Mrs. Blankenship was formerly Louise Gault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Gault, Sr., who reside at 209 East Parker street.

"In the two years following the war General Motors spent hundreds of millions of dollars in reconvertng its facilities, modernizing, improving and expanding them by approximately 15 percent — about the amount the country had grown since General Motors previous expansion in 1937" — C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors.
