Pre-Nuptial Courtesy Shown Miss Plonk

As a charming courtesy to Miss Lenora Plonk, bride-elect, Mrs. Floyd Cline entertained at four tables of bridge and one of rook at her home in Fallston Thursday afternoon.

The home was very attractive with the usual arrangements of azaleas, hyacinths, gladiolas, tulips, jonquils and apple blossoms. Tables were appointed for refreshments on the arrival of the guests. Each table was centered with a nosegay of sweetpeas. The honoree's place was marked with a corsage of pink rosebuds.

The refreshments plates were very colorful with pink pear salad stuffed with green cream cheese pink krackets, chicken salad in party shells with other accessories, and hot tea. A sweet course consisting of pink angel food cake with green whipped cream was passed, each guest was given a nosegay of sweet peas.

After the covers were removed several interesting progressions of bridge and rook ensued.

When scores were added and compared Mrs. John Boggs held high in bridge, Mrs. Bob Elmore in rook, the floating prize went to Mrs. Jim Mercer.

Miss Plonk, the honoree, was remembered with a linen bridge set. Those attending from Kings Mountain were: the honoree, Miss Lenora Plonk, Mrs. Jim Mercer, Misses Louann Herndon, Betty Hord and Kitty Falls.
