Smith-Hord Vows Spoken On Friday

Miss Peggy Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Smith, became the bride of Joe Lawrence Hord, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Hord, Friday night at 8 o'clock in the First Baptist church. Rev. L. C. Pinnix, the pastor, officiated using the double ring ceremony.

The vows were spoken before a background of legustrum, boston fern, and palms interspersed by cathedral candelabras holding lighted tapers in pyramid style across the entire back. Floor baskets of white gladioli, fever-few and baby breath completed the beautiful setting. White lighted tapers in graduated stands entwined with ivy were used on the choir railing and in the windows.

The pews for the family and special guests were marked by miniature bouquets and satin ribbons.

Wedding Music

Miss Betty Jean Gaudin of York, S. C., cousin of the groom presented a program of wedding music which included "Indian Love Call" by Friml, "Andante Cantabile" by Tschalkow, "Clair de Lune" by Debussy, "Always," by Irvin Berlin. Miss Mary Beth Hord, sister of the groom, sang "Through the Years," by Youmans, "Because," by D'Hardelot and "O, Perfect Love," as the benediction. The wedding march from "Lohengrin" was played for the processional, and the march from "Midsummer Night's Dream" for the recessional. "To A Wild Rose," by McDowell, was softly played during the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mr. Hord was his son's best man. Ushers were P. M. Mauney, Jr., of Shelby, cousin of the groom, Demouth Blanton, Robert Smith and Houston Smith, brother of the bride.

The bride wore a gown of heavy Dutchess satin, the sculptured bodice was buttoned with tiny satin buttons and was topped by a yoke of embroidered Chantilly lace and seed pearls. The long pencil slim sleeve ended in cala lily points over the hand. Her full skirt featured a cathedral train. Her finger length veil of imported French illusion was held by a Juliet cap of rosepoint lace encircled with a halo of crushed illusion roped with seed pearls.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations, lily of the valley and maline centered with a purple throated orchid and showered with satin ribbon and tuberoses.

Bridesmaids

Mrs. Robert Smith, was her sister-in-law's matron of honor. She wore an orchid taffeta gown fashioned with a fitted bodice, drop shoulder neckline and a full skirt. Her headdress was of French maline and asters. She carried a nosegay of orchid asters showered with orchid satin ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Miss Joyce Foster, Miss Betty Knox Davis, Miss Betty Lou Hayes and Miss Glayds Sexton. Their gowns of green taffeta were identical with the matron of honors. They carried nosegays of yellow asters, tied with yellow satin ribbon.

Little Edith Jane Kincaid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Kincaid was the flower girl. Her dress was of orchid taffeta and she carried a basket of rose petals.

Kenneth Barnes, young son of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Barnes, was ring bearer. He was dressed in a white linen suit and carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

The bride's mother was attired in a crushed rose crepe dress and wore a shoulder corsage of orchids.

The bridegroom's mother wore an ice blue crepe dress with a shoulder corsage of red roses.

Miss Maxine Hord and Miss Mary Alice Nelson presided over the register in the front of the church.

For a wedding trip the bride wore a white suit and hat with a Poika dot blouse, bag and shoes, and the orchid from her bouquet.

On their return the couple will be at home on the York Road.

Mrs. Hord was graduated from the Central high school. She is employed by the Mauney Mills. Mr. Hord was also graduated from the Central high school and attended State College. He is at present employed by the B. & B. Food store.
