Two Summer Brides Feted At Party

Miss Ruth Beam, Miss Lois Watson, Mrs. W. S. Fulton, Jr., and Mrs. W. C. Palmer entertained at the Woman's Club Wednesday evening honoring Mrs. William Page and Mrs. S. C. Hardill of Lattimore, recent brides.

When the guests arrived a dessert course was served after which bridge was played at six tables. When the scores were tallied, Miss Sybil Spratt was awarded high prize and Mrs. Charles Thomason runner-up. The floating prize went to Mrs. B. N. Barnes and the bingo to Miss Marie Lineberger. The brides were presented silver spoons in their chosen patterns.

Guests other than those mentioned included Miss Alice Ridenhour, Miss Janet Scoggins, Miss Mary Crommie, Miss Sarah Alexander, Mrs. Joe Hedden, Mrs. Grady Howard, Miss Mary Belle Teague, Mrs. Dan Finger, Mrs. Harold Coggins, Mrs. R. S. Suber, Miss Margaret Goforth, Miss Annie Roberts, Mrs. John Gamble, Miss Marceline Weathers, Miss Helen Turner, Miss Katherine Dowd, Mrs. Lloyd Little of Shelby, and Mrs. Tom Lattimore of Lattimore.

Mrs. Harry Elliott Hostess To Supper

Mrs. Harry Elliott was hostess to Miss Betty Elliott and her wedding attendants at a supper party at her home on Grover street, Shelby, Friday night at 7 o'clock.

Miss Elliott chose a semi-formal dress of changeable colored taffeta with gold and blue predominating. The dress featured huge pockets on the full skirt and a square shirred neckline.

The guests were served a delicious supper followed with a sweet course at small tables in the living room of the Elliott home.

Miss Elliott's place was marked with a bouquet for her hair made of yellow rosebuds.

Each table was covered in white and was centered with a small vase holding white mums. Arrangements of mixed fall flowers were also used throughout the room for decoration.

Mrs. Elliott gave the nonoree silver in her pattern.

The bride-elect gave each of her attendant's a strand of pearls.

Contract Club With Mrs. M. L. Harmon

Mrs. M. L. Harmon, Jr., entertained members of the Contract Club on Tuesday afternoon in her home on West Mountain street. The Harmon home was decorated with numerous displays of chrysanthemums and bowls of fruit.

Covers were laid upon arrival of guests a dessert course was served with coffee.

Several progressions of bridge were played with Mrs. Hal Plonk receiving high score prize, Mrs. Charles Carpenter, Jr., and Mrs. Amos Dean tied for second high.

Mrs. D. F. Hord was an invited guest.

MRS. ROBERT HARRISON NEILL

Miss Elliott And Mr. Neill United In Lovely Church Ceremony

Miss Betty Louise Elliott of Shelby and Robert Harrison Neill of Kings Mountain were united in marriage in a ceremony of beauty and dignity Sunday evening at 5:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church in Shelby. The Reverend Harlan Harris, pastor of the bride, officiated, with the double ring ceremony service.

The vows were exchanged before an unusual and elaborate setting in the form of an archway which tapered to a low level at either side with extending wings. The framework of the arch held lighted tapers at spaced intervals and tapers in candelabra were placed at either end of the wings of the arch. At the center of the archway, slightly recessed, was a lower tier of lighted tapers, in front of which was a large arrangement of giant white mums. Garlands of plumosus and tiny white mums were draped from the center of the arch to each taper. The background for this setting was a network of Woodwardia fern, the rostrum was covered with white satin and the choir rail was decorated with swags of plumosus and tiny white mums.

Prior to and during the ceremony Mrs. Hubert Plaster, organist and Mrs. Joe D. Hamrick rendered a program of nuptial music. Before the ceremony Mrs. Plaster played, "Clair de Lune," Debussy, "Poeme," Fildich, "Chanson," Prime, "Consolation," number 6, Litz, Mrs. Hamrick sang "Because," DeHardelet, "I Love Thee," and for a musical benediction, "The Lord's Prayer." The wedding march from "Lohengrin," by Wagner, was played for the processional. "Imptovisation" was softly played during the ceremony. Mendelssohn's march from "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was used for the recessional.

The Bride
The bride approached the altar on the arm of her father, B. H. Elliott, who gave her in marriage.

Her gown of white slipper satin was fashioned with long sleeves, small covered buttons at the wrist and down the back of the dress. The off-the-shoulder neckline was delicately scalloped with Chantilly-type lace ruffling scalloped below it, falling over the arms bertha-fashion. White marquisette filled in the neckline, and an extended bodice swirled into a bouffant skirt lengthening in back into a full formal train entirely edged with lace.

Her full length illusion fell from a filigree headress made of seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses, centered with white orchids.

Attendants
The matron of honor, Mrs. Jack Fortune, sister of the bridegroom, wore a gold satin gown featuring a softly draped off-the-shoulder collar, fitted bodice and wing pannelled skirt. She wore a half hat made of gold satin and carried a bouquet of white mums, centered with pom-poms set in a profusion of nylon net and backed with blue satin leaves, with garlands of pom-poms falling from the bouquet.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Buren Neill, Jr., sister-in-law of the groom, Mrs. Robert Williams, Miss Barbara Tiddy, Miss Frances Atkinson, Mrs. Harry Elliott, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Mary Elizabeth Greene, cousin of the bride.

They wore costumes and carried bouquets identical to those worn by the matron of honor. Their costumes were exotic blue satin and their bouquets were made in pink.

The bride's mother chose an aqua crepe dinner gown featuring applique designs. With it she wore a corsage of pink roses.

The bridegroom's mother selected a smartly cut black velvet dinner gown and at her shoulder wore a corsage of red roses.

The groom had his father, B. S. Neill, as his best man, and ushers were David and Buren Neill, brothers of the groom, Jack Fortune, brother-in-law of the groom, Harry Elliott, brother of the bride, George Tollison, Pete McDaniel and Walter Harmon.

The bride, a beautiful brunette, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Elliott of Shelby. After graduation from Shelby High school, she attended Gardner-Webb college at Boiling Springs. She has since been on the office staff at Hudson's. The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Neill of Kings Mountain, attended Catawba College and Gardner-Webb college. He is now associated with the Margrace Mills in Kings Mountain.

Going Away
The bride chose a hunter green costume suit to go away in. With it she wore a taupe velour hat trimmed in brown feathers and other
