Annual Christmas Seal Sale Opened Last Week With Mailing Of Letters

Have you made your T-B contribution yet?

Annual sale of Christmas seals was opened officially in Kings Mountain last week with the mailing of some 4,000 letters containing two dollars worth of seals and some 300 gearing five dollar bonds.

Mrs. B. M. Jarrett, of Shelby, who made the announcement, stated that no personal solicitations will be made this year. Bonds were mailed to business firms and seals to individuals and all persons receiving the letters are requested to forward their checks as soon as possible. Persons who do not receive the appeals are urged to make a contribution by mailing their check to the Cleveland County Tuberculosis Association, Shelby, sponsors of the annual drive for funds to fight the dread disease.

Goal of the drive in the county is $9,750.

Major portion of funds received from the seals will be used to support the county's mobile X-Ray unit, which in its first six months of operations has X-rayed approximately 7,000 Cleveland residents. Goal of the chest survey program is to X-Ray every person in the county over 12 years of age at least once each year, it was explained by Mrs. Jarrett, who is executive secretary of the association.

Summarizing success of the county X-Ray program, Mrs. Jarrett pointed out that a total of 17 new cases of tuberculosis had been detected by the unit, while some 60 other persons were discovered who had scar tissue indicating previous infection, and who were made aware of the need for caution against a future recurrence of the disease.

An added expense to be borne by the association during the next year will be the necessity to pay for the services of a doctor in reading the Commission Issues Warning Against Shooting Over Bag Limit—The North Carolina Wildlife Resources Commission has issued a warning to hunters, particularly small game hunters, not to kill more than the daily bag limit of game in any particular day, according to Executive Director Clyde P. Patton.

"In many cases," Patton said, "hunters who are good shots are inclined to shoot their own daily bag of game and then take birds for other members of their parties who are not so successful. Such practice is illegal and are not in keeping with the principles of good sportsmanship."

Patton said that violations on the daily bag limit are particularly prevalent among quail hunters. The daily bag of quail this year is eight birds, and when a hunter has killed eight birds he cannot lawfully kill more for his companions.

Semi-Wild Hog Hunts Announced—Regulated hunting of semi-wild hogs will be permitted again this year in the Fires Creek Wildlife Management Area in Nantahala National Forest, according to Director Patton.

Dates for the hunts are November 28, 29, 30, and December 1, 2, and 3. The daily bag of hogs will be one per day per hunter, and no limit will be placed on the number of hunters who may participate in the hunts. Daily permits costing $1.00 will be available at checking stations at the hunting area. The semi-wild hogs are descendants of domestic hogs owned by persons who were given permits to graze hogs in the Fires Creek area number of years ago. The hogs have gone wild, and the object of the hunt is to reduce the number of animals on the area.

National Forest Coon and Possum Hunts Announced—Coon and possum hunting in the Pisgah National Game Preserve and the Santeetlas, Fires Creek, and Standing Indian Wildlife Management Areas in Nantahala National Forest will be permitted this year Col. Patton said.

Ten nights of hunting, from December 12-23, will be permitted in the Pisgah National Game Preserve, and ten nights of hunting, from December 5-16, in the Nantahala areas. In the Daniel Boone area of Pisgah National Forest, hunting will be allowed only on December 19-23. Special permits to hunt in the Pisgah Preserve will cost $5.00 for a party of from one to five hunters. In all other areas special permits will cost $1.00 per hunter with no limit on the size of the party.

Bag limit on all hunts are one raccoon per hunter, with an unlimited number of opossums allowed in the bag. Permits and general information will be available at checking stations in the areas opened to raccoon and opossum hunting.

Wheat stocks in all positions in North Carolina as of October 1 totaled 3,532,000 bushels, as compared to holdings on the same date last year of 3,220,000 bushels.
