Three Are Hostesses Junior Woman's Club

The Junior Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting at the Woman's Club on Monday evening at 7:30 with Mrs. Grady McCarter, Mrs. J. W. Webster and Mrs. Myers Hambricht as hostesses.

Colorful fall flowers were used in charming arrangements in the meeting room. Miss Irene Allen and Mrs. Sam Weir, Jr., were in charge of the program with the theme for the meeting, "Education." Mrs. J. S. Evans gave a very educational and informative lecture on "Communism," how it has spread and how we as civic-minded citizens must be on guard against it.

During the business meeting plans were made for the October meeting to hold the annual covered dish supper for new teachers in Kings Mountain.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the hostesses served Floating Delight and cookies. Hostesses for the October meeting are Mrs. S. S. Weir, Jr., Mrs. Franklin Limerick, Mrs. Hubert Davidson and Miss Grace Davis.

Miss Betty Lynch Bridge Hostess

Miss Betty Lynch was hostess on Tuesday night when her guests were members of the Queen of Clubs.

Purple Lupine and spider lilies were used at vantage points as decorations.

When tallies were compiled it was revealed Mrs. David Neill held high score, Miss Peggy Arthur low score, and Mrs. Buddy Lackey received the floating prize.

A dessert course was served when cards were laid aside.

Hi-Lo Bridge Club Met With Stallings

Members of the Hi-Lo bridge club were delightfully entertained Friday night by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stallings.

Dahlias and zinnias in harmonizing tones were used for decorations.

High score prizes were awarded Mrs. J. C. Bridges and Dr. D. F. Hord.

At the close of four progressive ice cream and cake was served.

The J. E. Whites Hosts At Cake-Cutting

Mr. and Mrs. James White entertained with a cake-cutting at their home on the Shelby Road Saturday night following the Hord-Bennett rehearsal.

The traditional colors of green and white were used to decorate the home. Across the living room mantels lay button chrysanthemums in a bed of green fern and ivy. The archway between the two living rooms was flanked with silver lace fern and hanging from the center were silver wedding bells.

A white linen cloth covered the table in the dining room. On one end was a triple-tiered wedding cake which was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, and on the other was a crystal bowl of white gladoli with green fern. In the center of the table were white candles in crystal candelabras which lighted the room. Silver wedding bells were suspended from the chandelier. A crystal punch bowl surrounded with white asters and fern was on another table.

In the hallway leading from the dining room to the first living room, placed on a buffet, was a replica of the church decorations.

After the bride's and bridegroom's attendants had drawn the charm ribbons from the cake, and the nuptial couple shared the first serving, the cake was cut and served by Mrs. L. P. Baker, Jr., and Miss Betty Hord. Mrs. Ben Goforth, Jr., was at the punch bowl assisted by Peggy Davis. Sue Davis and Martha Wallace passed mints. Directing guests throughout the home were Mrs. Ben Goforth, Mrs. Bun Goforth, Mrs. Gus Petty, Mrs. L. W. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Wallace.

Guests for the after-rehearsal party were members of the wedding group, the two families and a few close friends.

Miss Helen Ramsey Accorded Courtesy

Mrs. J. B. Simpson was hostess Tuesday night at a lovely canasta party planned to compliment Miss Helen Ramsey much feted bride-elect of the week.

When the guests arrived, the tables were appointed for refreshments and the hostess was assisted in serving pretty refreshment plates holding homemade ice cream, cake and coffee.

After the bridge and canasta games prizes were presented Miss Leone Patterson, Miss Irene Allen, Miss Helen Ramsey and Mrs. Joe Hedden in bridge and Misses Diane Gambli and Margaret Payseur in canasta.

The hostess' gift to the honoree was linen.

Mixed summer flowers were used to decorate the party rooms.

The W. L. Presslys Dinner Hosts

A group of young people leaving for school were entertained by Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Pressly at their home on Tuesday evening. A three-course dinner was served from a table which had as its centerpiece a flat bowl of full bloom pink roses.

Guests included Misses Iris Paterson and Clara Plonk, Moffatt Ware, Jr., and Norman McGill.
