Wally Harris Notes Sixth Birthday

On the occasion of his sixth birthday Monday, Wally Harris was given a party by his mother, Mrs. Jimmie Harris, at their home on Cansler Street. Seven little boys present for the party were taken to the theatre, later returning to the Harris home for refreshments and games.

The large birthday cake served as a decorative centerpiece for the table. On the cake was a pumpkin and "Happy Birthday Wally." The cake was iced in keeping with the Halloween season, having black cats, pumpkins and little individual pumpkin cups filled with assorted Halloween candies were at each one's place. Halloween horns were given as favors. Ice cream and cakes were served.

Mrs. Cansler Speaks To Friendship Class

The Friendship class of Grace Methodist church met Tuesday night October 10, at the home of Mrs. Emmett Ross.

The meeting was opened with the group singing, "Praise Him" followed with a prayer by Mrs. J. E. Mauney. A responsive reading, "The Joy of Redemption" was used as for the devotional. Another song, "O Happy Day" after which Mrs. Luther Cansler spoke on "Gratitude and Thanks giving." The meeting was closed with the Lord's Prayer.

During the social interval the hostess served congealed salad, sandwiches, potato chips, cakes and a mint drink.

LARRY ABERNATHY

Party Honors Larry Abernathy

Mrs. John Mitchem entertained with a children's party Saturday afternoon at her home in celebration of her little grandson, Larry Abernathy's third birthday.

The Halloween idea was carried out in the decorations, favors and refreshments.

Centering the table was the birthday cake iced in orange with Halloween figures of icing used for decorations. Dixie Cups, cakes and colas were served. Halloween horns were given as favors. The party was held on the lawn, games were played. The children sang, "Happy Birthday" to Larry after which he opened the many lovely gifts brought him.

The party personnel included Paula Bennett, Mike Camp, Judy Barrett, Richard Wright, Dian Shroup, Barbara Lynn, Beck Lynn, Patricia Herndon, Susan Plonk, Robert Plonk, Ann Hammit, Thelma Ruth Lynn, Pete Lynn, Brenda Lovelace and the honorees parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Abernathy, of Shelby.

Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Fryer Have Coca-Cola Party Monday

An atmosphere of informality prevailed the lounge at the Woman's Club Monday morning when Mrs. C. T. Carpenter, Jr. and Mrs. F. M. Fryer used it as a setting for a Have-A-Coke party. From the original and very unusual invitations sent out last week to the minutest detail the party was a gala affair. The hostesses had concentrated on the color of black and white. The invitations were printed on white paper cut out as an apron with a black ruffle all around and black ties.

Callers were greeted by Mrs. Carpenter who wore peddle pushers with a gay plaid shirt. Mrs. Fryer wore a full shirt with a fruit design, a red vest, white blouse and a very pretty apron. Mrs. R. T. LeGrand, of Shelby, directed to the lounge. Mrs. Sam Stallings, Mrs. Bruce Williams, sister of Mrs. Carpenter's from Salisbury, presided at the refreshment table. Cakes were served by Mrs. O. P. Lewis and Mrs. Frank Hoyle. Mrs. John Butler Plonk, gave lucky number gifts and goodbyes were said by Mrs. J. E. Herndon. These ladies wore gay housedresses, aprons or slacks and sweaters.

Decorations
The entrance hall and lounge were bright with arrangements of yellow dahlias, marigolds and baby chrysanthemums.

In the lounge the refreshment table was the decorative center of attention. Covered with a black and white cloth it held a beautiful arrangement of mixed yellow flowers. On each side of the flowers were old wooden dough trays, one filled with hot ham biscuits, the other with doughnuts. A large iron skillet filled with pop corn, wooden bowls of potato chips, hot peanuts and an iron Dutch oven with cokes completed the appointments. Cokes were served from a large wash pot.

Small tables were placed around the room, each covered with a black and white cloth. In the center of one was an iron frying pan with floating dahlias. One held a relish set, one a teapot, one a grader. Each of these held miniature mums.

Over the mantle painted on the mirror was the quotation: "Man can live without Looks, Man can live without Books But civilized man cannot Live without Cokes."

On one end of the mantle was a black iron kettle filled with marigolds. On the opposite end were iron candle sticks, made in Germany. These held carrots instead of the usual candles. On the hearth was an iron pot of red apples. On the side of the room was an old fashioned work table with the dough board, rolling pin, and the pastry rolled out, a pan greased and waiting. A basket of assorted groceries and iron pots were on a nearby table. A garbage can was near the door for guests to dispose of their paper plates and napkins.

Mrs. John Butler Plonk gave miniature cooking utensils tied with yellow ribbon as gifts for the lucky number—every tenth person.

Around two hundred guests attended the affair. Calling hours were between 10 and 11:30 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ussery Have Silver Anniversary Celebration

LEXINGTON, Oct. 9.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ussery of Kings Mountain celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage on October 10, 1925, with a beautiful reception yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Brown, Sr., in Hillcrest. Mrs. Ussery was Miss Grace Swaim of this city before her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown greeted callers at the door and presented them to the receiving line, which included Mr. and Mrs. Ussery and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Ussery of Sanford. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williams presided in the dining room, and ice cream, individual cakes, mints and salted nuts were served by Miss Nona Swaim. Miss Amelia Brown, Miss Sandra Ussery of Sanford, and little Jeanie Swaim of Wilson.

During the afternoon Mrs. Curry Lopp played soft music at the piano. Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Williams invited guests into the gift room and presented novelty silver bell corsages to the ladies. Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer Swaim received in the den. Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Tate of Kings Mountain presided at the register.

Coffee was served on the sun porch by Mrs. Chester Walsh and Mrs. Mary Bell Eldridge of Greenville, assisted by Miss Caroline Swaim. Goodbyes were said by Curry Lopp and Carey Swaim.

The home was beautiful throughout with fall flowers. Green and white colors were observed in the living room and dining room, with chrysanthemums and white papers. The dining table was covered with a handsome imported cloth and had a centerpiece of dahlias and tuberoses. White galdoli were arranged on the buffet. Pink dahlias and other flowers were used in the den and sun porch, and a cluster of silver bells hung in the hallway.

After the reception a buffet supper was served to the receiving party and out-of-town guests from Smithfield, Raleigh, Sanford, Kings Mountain, Gastonia, New York and Greenville.

Methodist Enjoy Visit At Children's Home

On Sunday afternoon over fifty members of Central Methodist Church went on a pilgrimage (sponsored by the MYF) to the Children's Home in Winston-Salem. An outdoor picnic supper was enjoyed, followed by the evening program in the auditorium of the home. The group was warmly welcomed by the Supt. there, Rev. O. V. Woosley (affectionately known as "Pop"). Rev. J. H. Brendall, Jr., conducted the program for the large MYF group of the home and the visitors from Kings Mountain. Three selections of music were beautifully rendered by the girl's choir of the Children's Home.

Members of the Daughters of Wesley Class of the church here were delighted to meet the little boy whom they have "adopted", Dennis Wicker, age four. He was presented with a gift from the class.

A brief tour of the beautiful grounds and buildings was enjoyed by the Kings Mountain visitors while there.

The "Family" of the home is made up of 410 children, ranging in ages from two to nineteen years. At the Children's Home they receive Christian training and loving care, under the auspices of the Western N. C. Conference of the Methodist Church.

Party Is Given For Miss Walker

Miss Winifred Fulton and Dorothy Hayes were hostesses on last Tuesday evening at the home of the former entertaining at a canasta party planned to fete Miss Martha Walker, bride-elect of October. Miss Walker chose for the party a beautiful blue gray satin dress, with which she wore black accessories and a yellow rosebud corsage, a gift of the hostesses. Mixed fall flowers were used for effective decoration throughout the party rooms.

Following the canasta games high score prize was awarded Mrs. Charles E. Ramsey. At the end of the party, the hostesses served a delicious salad dessert course with Russian Tea. Miss Walker was given a cup and saucer in her chosen china pattern for her honor gift.
