MYF Groups Have Hallow'en Parties

The Methodist Youth Fellowship groups had Hallow'en parties in the basement of Mrs. H. C. Mayes home recently. On Saturday night the Intermediates met with Buddy Mayes there for a scavenger hunt. They had decorated the basement in black and orange crepe paper, with attractive Hallow'en cutouts on the walls. The group enjoyed cokes and cookies following their interesting scavenger hunt. Mrs. David D. Saunders, adult counselor for the group, met with them.

The Senior MYF met with Ann Mayes on Tuesday night. Added to the decorations placed there by the Int. MYF were arrangements of cornstalks and tubs of water with apples for bobbing. A barrel of apple cider and dozens of doughnuts were enjoyed during the party. A large number attended, and played folk games to the accompaniment of their new "World of Fun" recordings, then enjoyed a period of songs, led by Barbara Gault and Ann Mayes.

The Senior group is looking forward to the Sub-District Thanksgiving banquet to be held at Main Street Methodist church, Gastonia on Thursday, October 19. Tickets for this are on sale for $1 by Doris Jolly, who is also in charge of arranging a skit to be presented on the program there by the group here. An added feature of the banquet will be the election of a king and queen by penny votes. Each church is to elect a king and queen, and from these the Sub-District king and queen will be elected.

Mrs. Lattimore Fetes Tuesday Bridge Club

Mrs. C. F. Lattimore entertained the Tuesday Afternoon bridge club this week at her home.

Effective arrangements of mixed fall flowers were used in the living room where two tables of bridge were in play.

Following the games when scores were tallied it was found Mrs. H. R. Webb held high score and received the prize.

Mrs. Carl Mauney, Mrs. Amos Dean and Mrs. Don Blanton were invited to play with the members. A salad course was served between progressions.

Mrs. M. A. Ware Bridge Club Hostess

Mrs. M. A. Ware was a delightful hostess on Monday night. Her guests included members of the Twin Table bridge club and Mesdames S. O. Davis, H. E. Lynch, J. E. Herndon and F. R. Summers.

Mixed autumn flowers were placed at vantage points in the living room and elsewhere throughout the home for decorations. The Hallow'en motif was pre-dominant in the decorations, table appointments and tallies. Each table held a lighted jack-o-lantern in the center. Hallow'en plates and napkins added additional color. The hostess served carrot juice cocktail, stuffed harvest moon, covered frankfurters, sandwiches, pumpkin and autumn leaf cookies, shirred mince meat tarts with whipped cream and coffee.

When scores were tallied Mrs. S. O. Davis and H. E. Lynch were recipients of prizes for visitors. Mrs. C. F. Thomasson and N. F. McGill for club members.

The editor of an early Boston newspaper organized public meetings and demonstrations in favor of forming a United States with a Constitution. It is believed that his activities did much to cause Massachusetts to ratify the Constitution.

Horticulturist Joins State College Staff

Appointment of Dr. G. William Schneider, former assistant professor of horticulture at Rutgers University, as research associate professor of horticulture at N. C. State College was announced this week by M. E. Gardner, head of the Department of Horticulture.

Dr. Schneider will devote most of his time to the study of tree fruits, a field in which he has had extensive experience.

A native of Ohio, the new State

College faculty member was awarded the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in June, 1950, at Rutgers University. He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in horticulture at Ohio University and served on the staff of New Mexico State College before World War II. After two years' navy service as an amphibious officer with the Atlantic fleet, he joined the faculty of Rutgers University in 1946.

Dr. Schneider has been elected to membership in Gamma Sigma Delta and Sigma Pi, honorary scientific societies. He also holds membership in the American Association of Horticulture Scientists, American Genetic Association, American Association for the Advancement of Science and the American Society of Plant Physiologists.

His appointment to the State College post has been approved by President Gordon Gray of the Greater University, Chancellor J. W. Harrelson of the State College unit, and by the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Schneider lives with his wife and son at 1228 Banbury Road in Raleigh.
