Miss Randall Shower Honoree

Cleveland Times, Feb. 2)
Miss Sylvia Jean Randall, whose marriage to Andreil Donald Allen will take place on Sunday in Kings Mountain, was honored Wednesday evening with a prettily planned miscellaneous shower when Mrs. Otis Lee, Jr., and Mrs. Clarence Hoyle entertained at the Hoyle home on East Warren street.

Miss Randall chose an aqua semi-formal dress and had a pink rosebud and maline corsage at her shoulder, presented to her by the hostesses.

The rooms used for the party were exceptionally pretty with a predominance of pink roses used effectively with a single pink bud in a budvase centering each table and a large arrangement of pink roses combined with white carnations and white snapdragons.

For the evening's entertainment, bingo was played with all the prizes, which were kitchen items, presented by the winners to the honoree. After bingo, the honoree was surprised with a miscellaneous shower at which time gifts which she opened and displayed for the guests.

The hostesses served elaborate refreshments, also carrying out the bridal color theme, including lime sherbert, open-faced heart-shaped sandwiches topped with lime dressing, dainty sandwiches shaped in wedding bells topped with pink flower sprays, cheese sticks, white bridal cakes decorated with valley lilies, mixed nuts, pink, green and white mints and coffee.

MRS. ANDREIL DONALD ALLEN

Sunday Rites At Lutheran Church Unite Miss Randall, A. D. Allen

Miss Sylvia Jean Randall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Randall, and Andreil Donald Allen of Shelby were united in marriage in a beautiful church ceremony marked with reverence and charm at St. Matthew's church on Sunday, February 4th, at three o'clock in the afternoon.

The Reverend J. D. Sheppard, Lutheran pastor of the Ascension church, Shelby, officiated with the impressive double ring service and a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. J. E. Herndon, organist, and Howard Coble, vocal soloist. Mrs. Herndon used the traditional wedding marches and played before the service "Love's Dream," Liszt; "To A Wild Rose," McDowell, and "Evening Star," Wagner.

Mr. Coble sang before the entrance of the wedding party "Because" by D'Hardelot and "I Love Thee" by Grieg. As a choral benediction to the vows, he sang "O Perfect Love."

A pretty setting for the exchange of vows was created with a total background of potted palms and scheffelers, with baskets of white gladioli and snapdragons arranged before the greenery, and similar arrangements also placed in the altar vases. Seven-branched floor candelabra holding lighted white tapers arranged in overlapping pyramids completed the setting.

The Bride

The bride entered the church and approached the altar on the arm of her father, D. P. Randall, who gave her in marriage. A striking brunette, she made a lovely picture in her ballet-length hand-clipped Chantilly lace gown fashioned with a fitted bodice featuring an oval neckline finished with a wide lace bertha. The bouffant skirt of Chantilly lace with scalloped hemline was posed over double net skirts and a slipper satin slip. She wore shoulder-length lace gauntlets caught with tiny lace buttons, and white satin opera pumps.

Her finger-tip veiling of imported silk illusion was attached to a matching lace cap and she carried a satin padded Chantilly lace covered Bible with long pearl markers, cascaded with flowers and topped with a red lipped white orchid posed in white silk illusion. Her jewelry was a pearl necklace and earring set, a gift of the groom.

Attendant

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Ruth Randall as maid of honor. She wore a ballet-length gown of mauve pink marquisette and taffeta featuring an oval neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The bodice and gathered skirts were scolloped with tiny beads and she wore a half of mauve pink nylon maline and matching marquisette mitts. Her formal French bouquet was composed of flowers ranging from light pink to purple, and she wore matching mauve pink satin opera pumps.

The bride's mother chose a black crepe frock with lace yoke and accessories in black and had a deep lavender orchid at her shoulder.

The groom's mother chose a navy blue crepe dress with pink accessories and had a pink-tinted orchid at her shoulder.

Joe Hendrick served the groom as best man and ushers were Hayes Ledford of Gaffney, A. Pitt Beam and Roy Price of Shelby and J. W. White of State College in Raleigh.

The bride is a graduate of the Kings Mountain high school and the Shelby Hospital School of Nursing. She received her laboratory technicians' course under Doctors Summerville and Burns in Charlotte and is now nurse-

Allen-Randall Cake Cutting

On Saturday evening, following the wedding rehearsal of Miss Sylvia Jean Randall to Andreil Donald Allen, Mrs. Robert Wrenn, sister of the bride-elect from Gastonia, entertained at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Randall with a prettily planned cake-cutting.

Mixed flowers were used for decoration throughout the home with the exception of the dining room which was elaborately decorated in the bridal motif.

The white three-tiered bridal cake was at one end of the table and a silver coffee service at the other. The central decoration was a technician in the Hunter Clinic, Shelby.

Mr. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Allen of Shelby, graduated from Number Three high school and attended North Carolina State College in Raleigh. During World War II, Mr. Allen served with the Merchant Marines and for the last 18 months has been in the 674th TC Heavy Truck Reserve Unit in Shelby. He has been associated with the Shelby Supply Company for the past four years.

Following the ceremony, the bridal couple left for a wedding trip. For going-away, the bride chose a chic black gabardine costume suit with which she wore a white blouse and a black velvet cloche with a brief black veiling and other accessories in black. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet at her shoulder.

Upon their return to Shelby, the young couple will be at home at 1310 Gidney street, Shelby.

composed of two three-branched candelabra holding lighted tapers and banked with flowers. Streamers tied to the candelabra in bows ran to the edges of the table, ending in bows there, also. Additional flowers and tapers completed the dining room decoration and candlelight was used in the other rooms.

Mrs. Joe Moore, sister of the bride-elect from Charlotte, poured the coffee and Miss Ruth Randall, also sister of the bride-elect, cut and served the cake. Mints and nuts were served with the cake and coffee.

The guest list included the bridal party, members of the two families and out-of-town guests.
