Honeybees Needed In Defense Effort
 Farmers have known for years that honeybees were useful not only as gatherers of honey but also as pollinators of seed, fruit, and fiber crops. Now Uncle Sam has discovered that bees are also vital to the defense effort.

Beeswax, a by-product of honey, is needed for coating war munitions and for the manufacture of airplanes. Although the wax is in short supply, no satisfactory substitute for it is known. W. A. Stephen, extension beekeeping specialist at State College, explains that bees make their comb out of beeswax. After they gorge themselves with honey, their wax glands secrete a liquid that hardens when it comes in contact with the air. This material is used by the bees as capping for cells of honey and for the cells where the young bees are hatched, as well as for the combs which hold the honey and serve as cradles for the young bees.

Stephen urges beekeepers to save all of their precious beeswax and sell it to dealers. The price is higher now than ever before. Small amounts of beeswax can be melted down by heating in hot water. It should not be allowed to boil. When it cools a cake of solid wax will be floating on top of the water. For information on how to handle old combs and large amounts of wax, farmers should write the Extension Beekeeper, State College Station, Raleigh, ask for information sheet No. 3 entitled "Salvaging Beeswax."

Padgett's Mother Wins High Honor
 Mrs. T. R. Padgett, mother of Dr. P. G. Padgett, of Kings Mountain, was chosen Forest City's Mother-of-the-Year, in a contest sponsored recently by the Forest City Courier.

Mrs. Padgett was accorded the honor by a group of seven judges, representing Forest City civic clubs. The Courier had this to say about Mrs. Padgett: "Mrs. Padgett has been instrumental in the planning and beautification of Forest City's public square and was first president of the Betterment club which in 1925 became the Forest City Woman's club.

"Her special interest has been in the Home and Garden department of the club and she served on the state committee of that department. "She is an active member of the First Baptist church and has taught in the Sunday school and worked in the missionary society for years. She is a former member of the board of trustees of Gardner-Webb College.

"The Padgetts have seven children, three sons and four daughters. The oldest is Mrs. Nelle P. Norris of Asheville, a graduate of Davenport college and a music school in New York city, who is now employed in the office of the U. S. deputy marshal in Asheville.

"Two of the sons are doctors and the other is associated here with his father in the furniture and undertaking business. "Dr. Charles Padgett is a graduate of Jefferson Medical college in Philadelphia and is practicing in Shelby. He served in the medical corps of the army during World War II. Dr. Philip Padgett, a practicing physician in Kings Mountain, is a graduate of Tulane Medical college and served in the European theatre during the last war. James Padgett lives in Forest City and is active in civic and church affairs.

"The other daughters are Mrs. Gus Thomas, wife of a prominent Hendersonville automobile dealer, is active in the Junior Charity League of that city. Mrs. Lex Hood, wife of an architect, is graduate of Brenau college and teaches school in Matthews. Mrs. J. W. Griffin, Jr., is a graduate of the University of Georgia and is married to a theatre owner in Forest City where she is active in club work.

"Mrs. Padgett has 13 grandchildren. "Because of the inspiration her Christian guidance has been to her family and because of her extreme interest in the beautifi-

Youth Fellowship To Give Minstrel
 The Presbyterian Youth Fellowship will present a minstrel "Shut My Mouth!" at 8 o'clock May 25th in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

The proceeds of this show will be used to buy a record player for the new recreational building. Miss Nancy Densy, director of music, Selwyn Ave. Presbyterian church, will be accompanist for the minstrel.

Those taking part will be: Dolores Davidson, Dick Webb, Bill Ruth, Ann McKelvie, Gertie Jenkins, Ann Dilling, Lottie Lynch, Nora Jane Deese, Jackie Arnette, Elain Goforth, Johnny Kiser, Gilbert McKelvie, Susan Moss, Jean Arthur, Charles Painter, Sammy McCarter, Jerrie McCarter, Cynthia Platt, Nickie Smith, Mike Morris, Derise Weir, Patsy Goforth, Phyllis Ann Wilson, Flem Mauney, Bobby Houser, Frank Hoyle III, and Sandy Campbell. The public is cordially invited to attend.

First of the fall series of district junior dairy shows will be held at Asheville on September 11. Others will be held later at Statesville, Lexington, Wilmington, and Oxford.

Cotton Services To Be Available
 The farmer who knows the official grades of his cotton is in the best bargaining position when the time comes to sell it. Howard Clapp, county agent for the State College Extension Service, asserted this week in reminding growers that federal cotton classing and market news services will be available again this year.

Mrs. Clapp's statement was a part of a report on the classification of Forest City, the committee stated. "It was felt that Mrs. Padgett best typifies the outstanding mother of Forest City."

coupled with a timely reminder that August 15 is the deadline date for cotton improvement groups to file application for the U. S. Department of Agriculture services.

Under authority of the Smith-Doxey Act, cotton classing and market news services are free to the growersmembers of any group organized to promote the improvement groups, and sent to the nearest USDA classing office. As each sample is officially classed, the classing office prepares and returns to the farmer a "green card" showing the official grade and staple length.

Farmers who are not now members of cotton improvement groups are urged to contact the county agent for information on groups already organized in the county, or for help in forming a new group.

Here's something Special in Spaciousness

A LOT of folks like the two-door idea, because they feel that tiny tots are safer in the back seat.

But that's no reason why back-seat headroom should be dimensioned for midgets only.

So Buick engineers have done something about it, in the Buick SPECIAL 2-door Sedan pictured here.

They've kept the compactness of over-all length that's important in modern garages.

But they've arched that sturdy steel top to give you he-man headroom—headroom in back as well as headroom in front—that makes a six-footer feel at home.

And they've designed a trunk that has "room for tourists."

Don't ask us how they did it. Come see for yourself.
