Wright-Freeman Nuptials Held Friday

Miss Alma Wright of Charlotte and Fallston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Wright of Fallston, became the bride of Thomas B. Freeman, son of David C. Freeman and the late Mrs. Freeman of Spartanburg, S. C., Friday afternoon at 5:30 in a beautiful wedding held in Friendship Methodist Church at Fallston. The Rev. E. A. Lamb, pastor of the church, read the double ring ritual for the couple.

Oregon and plumosa ferns were fashioned into a central fan-shaped arrangement of greenery at the back of the altar and in front of it were two arrangements of white gladioli, flanking an arch entwined with ivy and white flowers. Four floor candelabra, each holding seven white tapers, were also grouped on the altar.

Mrs. Clem Martin, church organist and Mrs. Sam Greene of Mooresboro, vocal soloist, presented a program of wedding music.

Formal Satin Gown

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Odus A. Wright of Taylors, S. C. She wore a gown of white satin fashioned with yoke of lace, flange collar, pleated at center-front below the yoke, fitted bodice, extending below the waist line, fitted sleeves, ending in conventional calla lily points, and long, flared skirt, which ended in a train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was draped from a bonnet of lace outlined with seed pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a fan-shaped bouquet of white roses arranged around a white orchid and tied with white satin ribbons.

Miss Velma Wright attended her sister as maid of honor and Misses Clara and Jean Wright, also sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. The three attendants wore white taffeta gowns made on lines similar to the bride's, coronets of white net, pompons, and white mitts. They all carried fan shaped bouquets of red roses, the honor maid's bouquet being tied with red satin ribbons and the bridesmaids' bouquets being tied with white satin ribbons.

Best Man, Ushers

Carroll Shook of Spartanburg, S. C., was best man for the bride-groom and Hugh and Winslow Wright, Jr., of Fallston, brothers of the bride, and Walter Randle of Kings Mountain served as ushers.

The mother of the bride wore a navy blue sheer dress with navy blue accessories and a corsage of white roses.

After the ceremony the couple received friends at the front of the church. Later they left for a wedding trip and upon their return will make their home at 2112 North Pine street in Charlotte.

Mrs. Freeman received her B. S. degree from Asheville Teach-
