 INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT NORTH CAROLINA

PIRATES
 The most famous pirates in North Carolina history were Edward Teach, called Blackbeard, and Stede Bonnet. They cruised along the American coasts selling goods and spending plenty of gold, some of which they paid to officials for protection. Eventually Blackbeard was cornered near Ocracoke Inlet and killed. Bonnet was later hanged.

Miss Dolores Davidson Elected Vice-President
 The Planning Committee for the F. H. A. of District Eight held its meeting Saturday, September 15th at the high school in Swannanoa, N. C.
 This committee is composed of seven girls and their adult advisors from Western North Carolina and the state advisors. Mrs. W. H. Page and Dolores Davidson, members of last year's committee, were asked to serve on this committee also.
 The meeting was called to order at ten o'clock by the State Parliamentarian. During the business session Dolores Davidson was elected vice president of district eight to serve for a period of one year. Plans were also discussed for the F. H. A. Rally to be held in Valdese on October 20th.
 At twelve o'clock lunch was served by four senior girls of the Swannanoa high school. The meeting ended at three o'clock.

Edgecombe Leading Better Sire Contest
 Edgecombe county currently is leading in the North Carolina "Better Sires" contest for 1951, which closes October 31, reports J. S. Buchanan, extension animal husbandry specialist at State College.
 Thirty-eight counties are competing in the contest, which is sponsored by the North Carolina Purebred Beef Cattle and Swine Breeders' Association. Lenoir County is in second place, Watauga is third, and Northhampton fourth.
 Buchanan says the contest is helping to promote the use of more and better purebred registered sires, which will improve the quality of livestock on farms throughout the State.
 The farm agent of the winning county will be given $100 toward a trip to the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago this fall. Credit is given to agents reporting purebred registered beef bulls, boars, and rams placed in their county from last December 1 through October 31 of this year.
 An estimated 154 million pounds of milk were produced on farms in North Carolina during August. This was equal to the amount of milk produced during July this year and was one million pounds above production for August, 1950.

Family Reunion Held With C. A. Goforth's
