

Mountaineers Hit Newton-Conover Friday

Kings Mountain Eleven, Red Devils To Tangle At City Stadium At 7:30

Last year on a muddy field at Newton, Kings Mountain was swamped 27 to 0 by Newton-Conover high's Red Devils. The Mountaineers are probably hoping for a dry field at City Stadium Friday night when they again meet the N-C Devils. Kick-off is slated for 7:30 p. m.

The visitors will bring a record that reads something like two wins, four losses and a tie into the scrap Friday against the Mountaineers record of 4-2-1.

But, after a late start, the Red Devils became a very potent outfit last week, rising up to tie the mighty Hickory 21-21 in a starting upset. That game might have "made" the Devils who have defeated Lincoln (7-0) in West (AA) loop play and Spencer, while losing to Cherryville (6-34), Wilkes Central (12-32) and undefeated Lenoir and Valdese.

Coach Earl Broome's lads are sparked by a fleet of sturdy backs and a big forward wall that gave Hickory plenty of trouble last week. The backs are paced by Right Half Gaither, Fullback Travis and Quarterback Knott. The linemen are led by a bruising giant, Tackle Mosteller who also kicks off and kicks points after touchdowns.

The Red Devils run from the T-formation but last week tossed some double wing stuff at Hickory.

The Mountaineer camp was beset with more injuries this week. Tailback Jimmy Kimmell, who got back into action last week against Lincoln, is expected to be ready to go Friday as is Guard Gene Welch, who turned up with an injured finger this week.

End Johnny Kiser suffered a hip injury against Lincoln and will probably see little, if any, action Friday. Center Ken Davis, regular defensive halfback, has been moved to the offensive end post and is expected to see plenty of action.

Tackle Ben Hudson has been limping around in light uniform during practice sessions this week and Defensive Safetyman Charles Guyton turned up with a knee injury that will probably keep him out of action against the Devils.

Substitute End Ronnie Layton is out for the remainder of the season with a bad knee.

The game will be the next-to-last of the season for Kings Mountain, with Shelby coming to City Stadium November 9th for the finale.

Grammer Football Doubleheader Set At Stadium Monday Night at 7:30

West-Park Grace is to meet East Elementary in the opener, with the winner to play Central Elementary in a grammar grade football program double-header scheduled for City Stadium Monday night. First game starts at 7:30 p. m.

The twin bill is being presented by the Mountaineer club, sponsor also of the grammar program.

The games are to be played with six minute quarters and the whole bill should last less than two hours.

The Kings Mountain schools band will be on hand to add zest to the occasion and to march on the field between the games.

Advance sale of tickets is reported brisk by Dan Huffstetler, who is in charge of arrangements for the program. Tickets are moderately priced at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Players on the West-Park Grace team, coached by David Neill, are Dean Blackwell and Pochie Mitchem, ends; David Marlowe, Turkey Blanton, James Burns and Dickie Thompson, tackles; Johnny Hardin, Norman Boheler, Ken Burns and Jerry McCarter, guards; Joe Ormand, center; and George Harris, Terry Ledford, Johnny McGinnis, Leland Moore, Bill Huffstetler and Merle Valentine, backs.

Nickles-for-Know-How Campaign To Be Decided At Polls Saturday

The campaign for "nickels-for-know-how" will end Saturday, as North Carolina farmers and their wives vote for or against a five-cent per ton assessment on feeds and fertilizers.

The voting will be conducted at the PMA polling places throughout the state. The polls will open at 6:30 a. m. and close at 6:30 p. m.

No registration is required and all purchasers of feeds and fertilizers are eligible to vote.

Kings Mountain area farmers and their wives will vote at Beth-Ware school, the polling place for Number 4 Township, and Number 5 Township farmers will vote at Waco high school.

The 1951 General Assembly set up the act which provides for a re-submission of the question in three years, provided the vote Saturday is favorable.

Baptists Hold 101st Session

The Kings Mountain Baptist association held its 101st annual meeting last week and re-elected Rev. John W. Suttle as moderator for the 40th consecutive year.

One of the principal actions of the association was a unanimous vote by the association to adopt a resolution protesting the projected appointment of a United States ambassador to the Vatican.

Host churches to the two-day association meeting were Pleasant Hill Baptist church, Temple Baptist, of Kings Mountain, and Poplar Springs Baptist church.

The 1952 sessions will be held at Lattimore, Bethany and Norman's Grove churches.
