WINTERS GETTING Milder? DON'T BELIEVE IT! DESPITE THE TALK OF OLD TIMERS U.S. WINTERS ARE JUST AS SEVERE TODAY AS THEY WERE 150 YEARS AGO!

Markings on the Woolly Bear caterpillar, Super Pyro Weather Forecaster, as observed by Dr. C. H. Curran, Curator, Museum of Natural History, N.Y.C., indicate that this winter will be reasonably mild, with sub-freezing temperatures being followed at unexpected intervals by moderate conditions.

Colored Farmer Making Progress

DUPLIN FARMER FORGES
Eleven years isn't such a long time in a man's life, but much can happen in that time, says Miller, Negro farmer of Rt. 1, Varsaw.

In 1940, when Miller moved from Kenansville to Varsaw, he had little to show for his work. This situation caused him to start analysing his problems and seeking a solution.

"Where can I get a little money to get started?" was his first problem. After investigating, he decided to borrow $3,700 from the Farm Security Administration to buy 75 acres of land. Although he was given 33 years to pay off the debt, by following sound farming practices he was able, after only three years, to burn the canceled mortgage and purchase more land.

Riddick E. Wilkins, Negro county agent in Duplin for the State College Extension Service, says that several years ago, Miller and some of his neighbors went to Seven Springs to buy purebred Duroc Jersey hogs. All returned with an empty trailer except Miller, who believed that for premium stock a premium price must be paid. He still believes that, although he is now on the selling end.

Miller probably is the only Negro Duroc Jersey breeder in Duplin. In Union County, heifers from artificial breeding are bringing a premium price. In fact, many farmers who have "test tube" calves don't want to sell them at any price.

More Doctors smoke CAMELS than any other cigarette

—according to a nationwide survey of doctors in every branch of medicine

In county who can furnish the proper registration papers to his customers, Sam's Queen, Pride of Warsaw, and Jacob are not just empty names on the Miller farm, but are the results of careful breeding. The average size litter on his place is 10 pigs. In addition to swine, he also has artificially bred calves, expects better than a bale and a half to the acre on his cotton crop this year, and is planning to seed additional pasture and make other improvements.

"Today, after 11 years," says Miller, "I would be slow in considering $35,000 at a sellout price lock, stock, and barrel."
