Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Kincaid Entertained Eastern Star Officers

One of the loveliest and most outstanding social events of the week was the reception given Sunday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kincaid honoring the grand officers of the 17 District of the Eastern Star.

The entire lower floor of the spacious home was thrown en suite for the occasion and was arranged with the most exquisite of flowers. In the living room the focal point of decoration was the unusually pretty mantel arrangement of white glads and snapdragons on either end of the mantel were silver holders with white, burning tapers. Harmonizing arrangements were used elsewhere around the room. To further enhance the attractive setting, in the hall and den bowls of red carnations, white foam hearts and lacy fern were used. In the music room jonquils and white candles made a lovely setting for the soft music rendered by Mrs. F. C. McCurdy and Mrs. J. C. Bridges.

Mrs. Floyd Noblett of Bessemer City welcomed guests at the door and invited them into the living room to greet the honor guests. Those composing the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Kincaid; Mrs. Maude Foy, State grand-matron; Mrs. Roy Moore of Belmont Associate grand conductress; Mrs. Frank Tucker of Shelby, grand Electa; Mrs. Claire Leonhardt, Shelby, District Deputy Grand-Matron; Dewey Sigmon, Hickory, District Deputy Grand Patron of the 17th district; C. Yates, Chadbourn, state grand officer.

From the living room guests were directed to the register by Mrs. Wayne Church, Mrs. Denver King presided at the register. Mrs. F. A. McDaniel, Jr., directed callers into the dining room.

The tea table was beautifully overlaid with a lace cloth and centered with a huge arrangement of white snaps, freesias, and red carnations. Extending above the flowers in the center was a white skeleton heart with miniature ruffles of red maline. On either side were tall silver candelabras holding lighted red tapers showered with red maline and white foam hearts. Silver services graced each end of the table, coffee was served from one by Mrs. C. R. Whitmire of Raleigh and tea from the other by Mrs. Dickie Tate. Silver and crystal platters of fancy sandwiches, and cakes completed the appointments. On the buffet was a graceful arrangement of red carnations and giant white tulips flanked on either side with crystal epergnes with flowers in the center and burning red candles. Assisting in serving the assorted dainties were Mesdames Glee E. Bridges, C. J. Gault, Jr., Robert Beason and Sara Kincaid of Bolling Springs and Miss Helen Movelay of Hickory.

Mrs. D. E. Callis of Bessemer City directed guests into the den to a second receiving line composed of the wives of the grand officers. Kings Mountain, North Carolina

February 13, 1952.

Dear Friends and Customers:

We are happy to report that our introduction of Boltaflex Saton, the new upholstery plastic woven by Neisler Mills of Kings Mountain was an unqualified success.

A large number of people in the Kings Mountain trading area has visited our store since last Friday to see this new product, and many have bought furniture covered in this fine new plastic and others indicated they expect to buy it in the near future. We, in turn, have already re-ordered from our furniture manufacturer and expect to keep this merchandise on our floor at all times.

We feel Neisler Mills will have much success in manufacturing this plastic and we wish Neisler well in it. Neisler has been most cooperative in aiding us in this first-in-Kings Mountain showing.

If you haven't seen this new development in plastic, come in today and let us demonstrate why it's more comfortable, longer-wearing, cooler in summer and warmer in winter.

Cordially,
DAN HUFFSTETLER, Mgr.
