Faculty Hears A. B. Chandler

"In a stretch of land extending from Lincoln to Gaffney there is the richest source of minerals in the United States," A. B. Chandler, Superintendent of Foote Mineral Company, told the faculty of Kings Mountain City Schools. Mr. Chandler was guest speaker at a Resource-Use-Education meeting held at Central High School, Wednesday afternoon, April 16th.

Specialist Warns Of Termite Swarms

When spring swarms of winged termites are observed in the house, homeowners should take immediate steps to control the insects, suggests George D. Jones, entomologist for State College Extension Service. Termites may be nesting in the soil near or beneath the house, says Jones. A thorough inspection of basements, porches, and first-floors will reveal any infestation that may be present.

Speeding on U. S. highways last year killed 13,730 men, women, and children. Three out of four traffic accidents happen in clear weather on dry roads. Male drivers in 1951 were involved in 90 per cent of all U. S. auto accidents.

Greensboro Posts Back Shuping

GREENSBORO — C. Leroy Shuping, Jr., Greensboro attorney, veteran of World War II, and a candidate for commander of the North Carolina Department of the National American Legion at its annual state convention in Durham next June, has received the endorsement of the four Greensboro Legion posts.

Shuping is at present judge advocate of the Legion's North Carolina Department. He is also a member of the National Americanism Commission of the Legion, and is a trustee of the Greensboro American Legion Building.

He is best known in the state for the active part he has taken in the Legion's fight against communism, having spoken in practically every section of the state during the past several years.

An alumnus of the University of North Carolina, Shuping is a partner with his father in the law firm of Shuping and Shuping. His wife is the former Miss Bobbie Clay of Boone and Greensboro.

He has been an active member of Gate City Post 282, which he served as commander in 1950-51. On the state level, he served during 1948-49 as a member of the department Americanism committee and as vice-chairman of the department subversive activities committee. He was chairman of the Americanism committee for two terms, from 1949 to 1951, and was elected as judge advocate last summer.

Before being named in 1950 to his present three year term on the National Americanism Commission, he served as a member of the National Law and Order Committee. His activities against subversive organizations date back to 1942, when he joined the Federal Bureau of Investigation as a special agent. He resigned from this position and entered the army in 1943, and was assigned as a special agent in army intelligence to the Security and Intelligence Division of the Manhattan Engineer District, better known as the atomic bomb project. In 1945 he was one of a small group of special agents on a special assignment to San Francisco, Calif., to handle intelligence matters in connection with the United Nations Conference on International Organization. He also was one of the special agents assigned to assist in the first atomic bomb explosion at the Alamogordo bombing range in 1945. In this assignment he served as an intelligence supervisor.

In 1951, 290,660 pedestrians were injured in U. S. traffic accidents.

Charles A. Dana, famous editor of the New York Sun, helped educate the public to want news.
