Bridal Couple Honored With Luncheon

The spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Neisler was the scene of a very elaborate luncheon Saturday at one o'clock when they entertained for Miss Emelyn Gillespie and Franklin Pethel whose wedding was an event of the evening.

The home was decorated throughout for the occasion with beautiful floral arrangements, in the living room, roses and dutch iris were used with charming effect. Pink glads, snapdragons and purple Dutch iris brightened the hall. White and green was used exclusively in the dining room. A party cloth of white linen ornamented with Italian cutwork covered the table. A silver epergne holding calla lilies, white delphiniums, snap dragons, iris and fern provided a delicate mound of flowers, for one end of the table from this was a green ribbon extending the length of the table. Luncheon was served buffet style and consisted of ham, turkey, sweet potato balls, asparagus casserole, pickles, olives, halves of honey dew melons filled with jellied strawberries covered with cream cheese, strawberry tarts, and chocolate fingers. Guests found their places at auxiliary tables placed about the party rooms, each held a nosegay of sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Kiser Cake Cutting Hosts

Continuing the festive events honoring Miss Emelyn Gillespie and Franklin Pethel was an unusually beautiful cake cutting given Friday night at the country club by Mr. and Mrs. L. Arnold Kiser. The lower floor of the club was arranged throughout with quantities of flowers. As you entered a striking nosegay in pink and white caught your eye, pink was the predominating color in the club parlors. In the back hall handsome yellow roses in a brass container with matching candle sticks holding yellow tapers cast a soft cherry glow over the scene. The affair was keyed in pastels emphasizing pink the color theme for the wedding. Guests were greeted at the front entrance by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smyre and directed to the formal dining room where Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kiser welcomed their guests. The dining room was a picture of loveliness. The table was covered with an imported linen embroidered and lace trimmed cloth. One end of the table was a large three tiered all white cake decorated in wedding bells and roses in the top were two delicate pink orchids. In the center of the table was an antique five branched candelabra holding delicate pink candles, and crystal epergnettes filled with sweetheart roses and gypsophilla. A large punch bowl on the opposite end of the table was lovely in its mound of valley lilies and dianthus. Mrs. Hunter Neisler and Miss Leone Patterson served punch which was a delicate pink also carrying out the color scheme. After the bride and groom-elect had cut the traditional first piece, the cake was cut and served by Mrs. Phillip Padgett. Silver bowls of salted nuts were passed. Companion arrangements of pink roses in silver containers with lighted tapers were used about the room. The mantle was banked in green with white flowers. Across the back of the room was a huge arrangement of blooming magnolias the whole giving a harmonizing effect of beauty and enchantment. More than fifty members of the wedding party, out-of-town friends and members of the family shared the social affair. Bryon Keeter has returned from a visit in Shelbyville, Tenn.

AIMME Chapter Organized In State

E. R. Goter, W. R. Hudspeth, Jr. and D. L. Rainey, of Kings Mountain's Foote Mineral Company plant, spent Friday and Saturday in Asheville where they attended an organizational meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers. The chapter organized is the first A.I.M.M.E. Chapter in the Carolinas. Next meeting is scheduled in Charlotte. The revived interest recently in mining and metallurgy in North Carolina has prompted the Institute to set up this chapter to better serve the local industry, a spokesman said. The men also attended a meeting of the Appalachian Minerals Society at the home of B. S. Colburn, president of the First National Bank in Asheville. Mr. Goter, assistant plant manager of Foote Mineral Company in Kings Mountain, presented a talk on the late Dr. Foote, founder of Foote Mineral Company. Ralph Adair, consulting Engineer at Foote Mineral Company, was elected president of Southern Appalachian Minerals Society.
