Blanton Reports April Bond Sales

County U. S. Savings Bonds Chairman, George Blanton announced today that according to the monthly sales report from Allison James, State Director of Savings Bonds in Greensboro, sales of Series E, F, and G Bonds in Cleveland County for the month of April totaled $23,087.50; of this amount $19,387.50 were in Series E Bonds and $3,700.00 in F Bonds.

Total Series E, F and G Bond sales for North Carolina's 100 counties were $3,011,232.75. Of this total $2,433,756.75 were in E Bonds; $105,376.00 in F Bonds, and $472,100.00 in G Bonds.

In announcing the sales figures of Series E, F, and G Bonds for the month of April, County Chairman Blanton made the following comments on the new Series E, J, and K Defense Bonds which went on sale May 1st, and the Series H Bond which will go on sale June 1st: "The net result of the recent changes in all Series of Defense Bonds is better bonds—higher interest yields and increased annual purchase limits. However, it appears that there would be no appreciable advantage to holders of the old Series E, F, and G Bonds in redeeming such bonds for the purchase of the new Series E, J, and K Bonds. The "give-up" yield on the current redemption value of the old Series E Bond exceeds 3% after the first six months of holding, and the yield on current redemption value of Series F and G Bonds exceeds 2.76% after the first eighteen months of holding."

Newsprint Price Increases Again

The price of newsprint is advancing again by another half-cent per pound, the second advance in newsprint prices this year.

Majority of the nation's newspapers are printed on newsprint purchased from Canada, and the Canadian government has permitted the price increase for export, though holding domestic prices at the same levels.

Newsprint is now at its highest price in history, having more than doubled since 1945.

The Kings Mountain Herald now pays 8.75 cents per pound for newsprint and has not learned from its suppliers how much the cost will be following the latest increase. However, it is expected that the increase to the Herald will be greater than $10 per ton.

The latest increase has brought sharp protests from the Truman administration and from publishers all over the nation, who feel the increase is unjustified. What effect the increase will have on subscription prices has not yet been indicated, but some daily papers in the Kings Mountain area only recently raised rates to compensate for the increase in newsprint cost of early winter.
