Tar Heel State Dairying Facts

In North Carolina:

There are 776,000 cows valued at 67 million dollars.

These cows are better fed—North Carolina's acreage of Lado clover increased almost 1,000 times between 1945 and 1950—from 800 to 700,000 acres.

These cows produced 780 million quarts last year (average of 2,074 quarts per cow, which is an increase of 200 quarts per cow since 1945).

Milk imports during 1951 were 6.5 percent less than 1950 and 47.1 per cent less than 1949.

In 1950 gross farm income from dairy products in N. C. amounted to $87 million.

1909—First dairy processing plant was built in N. C.

There are now over 200 plants in the State providing markets for 4,344 grade A dairy farmers.

The value of dairy products produced in North Carolina has more than doubled in the past 15 years.

Industry is owned and operated chiefly by natives of North Carolina.

Milk, less than 12 cents per lb., is the greatest feed value on the market today.

Fluid milk and cream sales to N. C. consumed during 1951 exceeded 1950 by 13.6 percent and 1949 by 32.8 per cent.

153,531,600 half pints of milk were served under the Federal lunch program in N. C. schools in 1950-51 and it is estimated that 62,500,000 half pints will be served during the 1951-52 school year, as compared to 7,722,141 half pints of milk served in 1943-44 during the first year of the State-wide child feeding program.

Dairying builds soil and human resources in the state.

We have some of the finest breeding farms in the nation.

We have some of the finest teaching and research facilities at State College, second to none in the United States.

The inspection and supervision of the production, processing and distribution of dairy products in N. C. assures the consuming public of the finest quality dairy products to be found any place.

Cherokee Drama Opens Thursday

— BY JOHN PARRIS —

CHEROKEE — America's only Indian drama, "Unto These Hills", opens its third summer-long season here at Mountaintide Theatre at 8:15 p. m., Saturday, June 28.

Taken from an almost forgotten page of history, the drama will run for nine straight performances and thereafter nightly, except Mondays, through September 1.

Direct descendants of the Cherokee Nation's great, will re-live here at Mountaintide Theatre one of America's great true stories.

Blood-kin of such immortals as Junaluska, Sequoyah, John Ross, and Tsali, who gave his life so a remnant of his people might forever live in their native mountains, are cast in the 1952 production of Kermit Hunter's internationally acclaimed play of history.

Green Pastures Become "Golden"

Cleveland's 120 Grade "A" Dairies are doing an annual business of almost $1,500,000, which is a lot of money for a relatively new industry in this area.

Our Cleveland County and Kings Mountain area farmers have been quick to adopt modern methods, and put into practice the best that is known in the production of quality milk.

June is National Dairy Month, and this bank thinks it fitting on the occasion of National Dairy Month to pay tribute to the farmers of the county and area for their efforts in building the milk business to its present proportions. Truly, milk is "Liquid Gold."
