

Kings Mountain High Gridders Meet Marion Rippers Here Friday Night

Kings Mountain high school's Mountaineers are scheduled to face Marion high's Rippers here at City Stadium Friday night in what will probably be the last home stand of the season. Kick-off is set at 7:30 p. m.

The Mountaineers will be going after their first victory in Western AA loop play against the Rippers, who defeated powerful Hickory last week for their first loop scalp.

Marion had previously lost to Forest City (15-0) and to Morganton, posting victories over Crossnore and Hendersonville outside the family.

Seven Kings Mountain players will probably be playing their last home game, as Coach Everett Carlton said this week that he has no game lined up to replace the Stanley game, cancelled by Stanley after being scheduled here for September 12.

Guard Kenneth Davis, Tackle Ben Hudson, Center Bob Hullender, Tailback Jimmy Kimmell, End David Kincaid, and Blocking Back Bill Ruth are scheduled for graduation and Tackle Robert Davis is playing his last year of eligibility.

The Rippers took mighty Hickory last week in a close scrap, 18-14, with Hickory racking up some 18 first downs but failing to outscore the Marion lads.

Georgia Executive Praises Cemetery

Mountain Rest Cemetery drew praise from a nationally known marble company executive at a meeting in Charlotte recently.

Sam R. Suber, cemetery superintendent, also received a letter from George A. Doss, Georgia man, referring to the Charlotte meeting.

"... I do want to congratulate you upon the cemetery, for it is one of the nicest, if not the nicest cemetery I have ever visited in a city the size of Kings Mountain," Mr. Doss wrote.

Mr. Doss also wrote that he had visited Mountain Rest Cemetery on September 28th.

"As it has been my privilege to visit cemeteries all over this country... I have no hesitancy in saying that you have done an outstanding job, both as to the up-keeping of the cemetery and as to making it a most beautiful one." Mr. Doss also wrote.

Guidance Program Forum Conducted

Parents and teachers met in the Central High School auditorium Tuesday afternoon, for the third in a series of discussions entitled "Learning to Understand Our Children."

The program under the direction of Miss Alice Averitt, supervisor of Kings Mountain City Schools, opened with two films. The first film presented the problem of a withdrawn and anti-social child who enters the classroom and is unable to adapt herself to school situations.

The second film demonstrated a most effective remedial program for helping the child to adjust to both home and school situations.

Following the showing of the films, Miss Averitt led a discussion of the problems such a child presents for both parents and teachers and the possible solutions to such problems.

Similar programs and discussions are held alternately on Tuesday and Thursday nights each week. The next program in the series will be held on Thursday, October 23, at 8 p. m., with Dr. Robert Dyer, of Gardner-Webb College as guest speaker.

Little Theatre Seeks New Members

Four new members of Kings Mountain Little Theatre were announced this week and Dr. P. G. Padgett again issued an appeal to interested persons to join the organization.

"We need people interested in stage work, makeup, lighting and other phases as well as actors," Dr. Padgett said. Named as new members of the group were Danny Thornburg, Bobby Eng, Louise Patterson, of Kings Mountain, and Betty Sue Weathers, of Shelby.

Recreation Group To Meet October 24

The city recreation commission met Wednesday afternoon and agreed to meet again October 24 to review plans and methods toward developing a community recreation plant.

Chairman A. B. Chandler said he would be ready to submit plans for a first-year portion of a long-term development program at the October 24 meeting. Commission officers are also to be elected for the coming year.

Burlington Mills Corporation has indicated it might give tract of land for the project.

John P. Latham, member of the commission and superintendent of Burlington's Phenix Plant here, told the group that his firm felt that their proposed land donation to the recreation program should be matched by the city and also by other business interests in town. The city board has set up $12,500 in this year's budget for the recreation program.

Present at the meeting in addition to Mr. Chandler and Mr. Latham, were Jack Hullender, Rev. P. D. Patrick, Mrs. Aubrey Mauney, Dr. P. G. Padgett, G. C. Kelly and Jack White.

MORE ABOUT City Stadium

Still and Mr. Layton and Mr. Pearson after discussion with A. B. Chandler and W. K. Mauney, Jr., of the recreation body.

"If you don't like it (the arrangement) you can get rid of the parks and recreation commission," Mayor Still told the three reluctant members.

The action came after heated discussion during which Mr. Layton made a motion to accept the resignation of the recreation group, which had not been offered. The motion drew no second.

Mr. Mauney had said, "If you don't trust the present group, I'm in favor of resigning."

Mr. Chandler had told the board that his group did not feel that the city should operate the stadium and a recreation program separately and that until something was done about the stadium, his group felt there was nothing to be done.

Mayor Still called the meeting to "get something done about the land Burlington Mills, Inc., has offered the city."

Mr. Chandler had told the board that there was two places to put recreation money, the stadium and the recreation program and his group felt that it should administer the entire city recreation program, classifying the school athletic program with the city-sponsored, projected recreational program.

Mr. Layton again voiced an opinion that the stadium did not enter into the city recreation plan-ture. Mr. Chandler said that in event the stadium is turned back over to the schools as per an agreement between prior school and city officials, that the state would become owner of the stadium because the state owns other school property and buildings in the city.

Commissioner Wright said that he was committed to the school board on the stadium transfer, having offered to "let them know before we do anything."

"Let the Jaycees help raise some money and get started with this program," Mayor Still had suggested.

President Joe Hedden, of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, then said that was the first he had heard of the Jaycees participation and "I don't know whether they (the Jaycees) will take it or not." Mr. Hedden suggested transferring administration of the stadium to the recreation commission.

After a reference by Mr. Hedden as to "the mess at City Hall", Mr. Layton replied, "there's no mess up here."

Mayor Still presided and the meeting was opened by prayer by Rev. P. D. Patrick, a member of the recreation commission.

Girl Scout News

Brownie Troop 32 met Thursday afternoon in the recreational building of the First Presbyterian Church. We had our pledges to the flags. Our president chose Margaret Jackson to dress the doll in the Brownie Scout uniform from the Netherlands. We popped pop corn and drew some, after which we went home. Margaret Jackson, Reporter
