

Recorder's Court Held On Monday

Regular weekly session of City Recorder's court was held in city hall courtroom Monday afternoon. Judge Jack White presided and Joe Mull, city attorney, acted as solicitor.

Marsall Wright, Negro, received sentence of 12 months on the road for assault with a deadly weapon on his wife, Eda Wright. The assault occurred December 15. Weapon used in the assault, according to testimony, was an iron rod. Defendant gave notice of appeal and bond was set at $500.

Amanda Jamison and Emma Spencer, Negroes, were both found guilty on charges of illegal possession of non-taxed paid whiskey. First defendant was given judgment of 60 days work on the roads, suspended upon good behaviour conditions and payment of a $10 fine and costs of court. The second defendant was given 90 days with judgment suspended upon good behavior conditions and payment of a $20 fine and costs of court. Attorney John J. Mahoney of Shelby was counsel for the defense.

Lonnie Hopper was found guilty of disposal of mortgaged property belonging to Grayson's Jewelry. Mortgaged property in the case was a watch originally purchased in September of 48. Judgment was 90 days work on the road, suspended upon payment of a $5 fine and cost of court.

Preliminary hearing was waived in the case of Eugene Wiggins, charged with breaking and entering Shockley's Grocery and taking merchandise from the establishment at a value of $29. Bond was set at $300.

Several cases of public drunkenness were heard in the Monday session.

about $3,000, according to an announcement by G. C. Kelly, general superintendent.

Park Yarn Mills will shutdown for the Christmas holiday Wednesday morning and resume work schedules Monday, as will Loom-Tex Corporation, while Neisler Mills, Inc., is taking a full week's holiday.

Elmer Lumber Company will close for the weekend, but will operate through Wednesday. Herald Publishing House will close Tuesday at noon, resuming operations Monday.

Ware & Sons, feed manufacturers and wholesale grocers, will follow the merchants' holiday schedule, suspending operations only on Thursday and Friday.

Superior Stone Company will cease operations Tuesday and resume Monday. However, office personnel will be on duty through Wednesday, returning to work Saturday.

The city offices will close for the weekend, from Wednesday afternoon to Monday morning, as will a number of the city's cleaning establishments. B. & B. Restaurant announced it would be closed Christmas Day, and Kings Mountain Drug Company will be open for prescription service only from 10 a. m. to noon, and from 4 to 6 p. m. Griffin Drug Company said it would be open for prescription service only a short while Christmas morning. Drug stores and restaurants will be open on regular schedules Friday.

The history of Jerusalem goes back to the Stone Age, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Clubs, Churches Spreading Cheer

Civic clubs and churches of the community are again working this year to make Christmas a pleasant occasion for the needy of the community.

The Kings Mountain Lions club meets as usual on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, but it will forego its regular dinner to allow more time for distributing baskets to the blind of the community. The work is under the direction of the Christmas committee, which includes Dr. N. H. Reed, J. C. McKinney, Denver King and C. D. Ware.

The Kings Mountain Kiwanis club is brightening Christmas for Willie McCrimmon, colored invalid, by replacing her dilapidated bed with a new hospital bed and mattress, and the Kiwanis club is collaborating with the Lions and Junior Chamber of Commerce in purchasing an artificial arm for Dexter Williams, armless colored man.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will put the finishing touches on its second annual "Buy A Can, Leave A Can" project, which means that the Jaycees will distribute baskets of food to many of the city's neediest families.

The Kiwanis club also contributed about $50 to the Walter Smith family, which recently lost its home and furnishings by fire.

verse of the Scripture, "Well Done Thou Good and Faithful Servant; Thou Hast Been Faithful," after stating that he was deeply appreciative of his long service.

Commissioner Davis said, "We really appreciate the work you have done, along with all city employees."

Mayor Still said, "It will be a good many years before we can do without you."

Commissioner Pearson told the honored guest that his work has always been appreciated and that he was looking forward to working with him further "during the next four months."

Hunter Allen, long-time city employee, praised Mr. Parson's work. M. K. Fuller said that "no one could ask for more hearty cooperation than he has given" and Tom Henry said, "I've been with him all day, every day since I've been here. I consider his best attribute to be his good Christian character."

Mr. Fulton and Sam Suber also made remarks and E. A. Harrell said, "I've been Mr. Parson's next-door neighbor — I didn't get us quite as early (as he did) — his truck has gone rain, snow or shine — I've never known a man as faithful — when you live next to man for so long, you get to know him — I've found out he is a Christian and I want to congratulate him — he's done a fine job."

Mrs. Parsons said that the honored guest has always been a wonderful husband and a grand father.

Among the dozen Negro city employees present were Clarence Wade, who has been with the city for 26 years, Alex Adams, 18 years, Sam Williams, 13 years, Walter D. (Smokey Joe) Johnson, 9 years and Ed Link, all of whom made short talks.

The dinner was served by ladies of Second Baptist church and Mrs. Ethel White presented dinner music.

The menu consisted of turkey and dressing, ham, green beans, saw yams, creamed potatoes, cranberry sauce, hot rolls, French apple pie and coffee.
