Fractional Point Winners At Duplicate Bridge Game

A fractional point bridge game was played Thursday night at the Country Club.

North-South winners were Mrs. W. K. Mauney, Jr., and Mrs. Howard Jackson, and scoring highest for East-West were W. R. Craig and Fred Plonk.

Other North-South winners were Mrs. Kenneth Todd and Mrs. Mart Reid of Gastonia. East-West winners were Mrs. Drace Peeler and Mrs. L. E. Abbott.

Players were present for eight tables. After the games, refreshments were served.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Palmer were Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Allen of Shelby and Mr. and Mrs. Nevette Hughes.

Duplicate Bridge Club Met With Mrs. Paul Neisler

Graceful arrangements of American Beauty roses and camellias were featured at vantage points in the spacious home of Mrs. Paul Neisler on Monday afternoon when her guests were members of the Duplicate Bridge Club and additional guests.

Several progression of bridge were played. When covers were laid, the hostess served calamondian pie, cheese straws, other party accessories, and coffee.

Bridge was resumed and at the comparison of tallies it was revealed Mrs. Carl Mauney and Mrs. Paul Hendricks were the most successful players for the afternoon.

Other than club members, Mrs. Carl Mauney, Mrs. Amos Dean, Mrs. Hayne Blackmer and Mrs. Haywood Lynch were guests present to share the charming hospitality.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hambricht spent last Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cline and daughter in Charlotte.

MRS. WILLIAM LAWRENCE MAUNEY
Miss Elizabeth Fisher Winget Bride Of Dr. William Lawrence Mauney

ALBEMARLE — The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Fisher Winget of Albemarle, and Dr. William Lawrence Mauney of Kings Mountain took place on Saturday afternoon, February 21st., at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents.

Dr. Roy E. Watts of High Point officiated and used the double ring ceremony. Prior to the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was presented by Paul Fry, organist, of Albemarle and Mrs. Frances Watlington Wilson, soloist, of Reidsville. Mr. Fry's selections included "Gypsy Sweetheart" by Romberg, love theme from "Overture to Romeo and Juliet" by Tschalkowsky, Schubert's "Serenade", "Spring Song" by Mendelssohn, "Clare de Lune" by Debussy, and "Ave Maria" by Schubert. Mrs. Wilson sang "Thank God for a Garden" by Riego and "Because" by D'Hardelot.

The bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" by Wagner was used for the procession. During the ceremony, Mr. Fry played "Liebestraum" by Liszt, "O Perfect Love", Barnby, and "Bless Be the Tie that Binds". Following the vows and as the couple knelt in prayer, Mrs. Wilson sang "Seal us, O Holy Spirit".

The vows were spoken before a background of Kentia palms and Southern smilax. Adding much to the beauty of the improvised altar were large urns filled with stately calla lilies and snapdragons; along with seven-branched candelabra, holding lighted Cathedral tapers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Bennie Wallace Winget was her sister's maid-of-honor, and the junior attendants were Miss Virginia Boger Winget of Gastonia, niece of the bride, and Miss Christine Still of Kings Mountain, niece of the bridegroom. Miss Peggy Winget of Gastonia, niece of the bride, was flower girl and Master Lawrence Mauney of Kings Mountain, son of the bridegroom, was the ring bearer.

The groom had as his best man, his father, R. Lawrence Mauney. The ushers were A. Knox Winget, Jr. of Gastonia, brother of the bride, and Garland Still, Jr., of Kings Mountain, nephew of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white Point de Lyon lace over satin, fashioned with long tapering sleeves and portrait decollete scalloped with the pattern of the lace. The tightly fitted bodice accented the bouffant skirt of accordion pleated nylon tulle with a lace overskirt, which ended in a wide sweeping train. Her fingertip, double tiered veil of French illusion fell from a French forward bonnet of matching lace. Her only ornament was a diamond lavallere, and she carried a Victorian bouquet of white lilacs centered with yellow roses.

The maid-of-honor wore a gown of Minuet pink nylon tulle over taffeta, fashioned with moulded bodice and full flowing skirt. Her corsage was of pink orchids. The junior attendants wore similar gowns of frost blue nylon tulle, with wrist corsages of pink carnations. The flower girl wore pink nylon tulle and carried a small nosegay of Spring flowers.

Mrs. Winget, mother of the bride, wore a Windsor blue crepe dress and her corsage was of pink orchids. Mrs. Garland Still, of Kings Mountain, sister of the bridegroom, wore a black and pink taffeta dress and pinned a pink orchid at her shoulder.

Immediately after the ceremony, the parents of the bride entertained at a reception. The bride's table was covered with a French lace cloth, placed over white satin. The punch bowl was placed between five-branched candelabra, holding white tapers. Low arrangements of white lilacs and gardenias completed the table.

Later in the evening, the bridal couple left for a wedding trip to Sea Island, Georgia. Mrs. Mauney chose an original Traina Norell suit of navy. She wore navy and white accessories and pinned a white orchid at her shoulder.

After March 1, Dr. and Mrs. Mauney will be at home in Kings Mountain. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Knox Winget. She received her education in the Albemarle city schools and was graduated from Salem College, Winston Salem. She received her B. S. in Library Science from the University of North Carolina. Mrs. Mauney is a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, D. A. R. and the American Library association. She has been active in the North Carolina Education association, and until January was supervisor of elementary libraries in the Albemarle city schools.

Dr. Mauney is the son of R. Lawrence Mauney and the late Mrs. Jennie Grace Redfern Mauney of Kings Mountain. He attended school in Kings Mountain, Fishburne Military school, Waynesboro, Va., and Temple University in Philadelphia, Pa., where he was a member of Pi Epsilon Delta professional fraternity, Blue Key National Honor Fraternity and the Sterling Honorary Anatomical society. He completed his training by doing post-
