

MRS. CARL HERMAN MAUNEY

Mauney - Fisher Nuptials Vows Exchanged In Saint Mary's Chapel

Miss Emily Margaret Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert Adam Fisher of Raleigh, became the bride of Carl Herman Mauney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fisher Mauney of Kings Mountain, at 5:30 p. m. Saturday in the Saint Mary's Chapel. The Reverend Herman G. Fisher of Spindale, N. C., cousin of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Barbara Fisher, also the bride's cousin, presented a program of organ music including "Romance" by Rubenstein, "Londonderry Air," "Les Cygnes" by Saint-Saens, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach, "Prelude" by Clarendon, and "Though I Speak with the Tongues of Angels" by Brahms. Soloists were Mrs. Kenneth W. Winston, Jr., and Mrs. W. Murray Linker, Jr. Their songs were "O Perfect Love," "Wedding Benediction," "Lord, Who at Cana's Wedding Feast," and "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee." Acolytes were Mr. William C. Cobb, Jr., cousin of the bride, and Mr. Richard Park, cousin of the bride. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original gown of tulle and hand-clipped imported Rosepoint lace over slipper satin. The lace bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline embroidered with seed pearls. The long sleeves were accented with the same motifs over the wrists, and pearls also edged the diamond shaped lace medallions of the bouffant skirt which extended into a cathedral train. Her full length veil of French illusion fell from a cloche of pearl embroidered Rosepoint; the lace also formed medallions which bordered the veil. The bride's bouquet was of butterfly orchids, lilies of the valley, stephanotis and a center white orchid; it was tied with satin streamers. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Bridal Attendants

Mrs. Edward H. Eaker of Hempstead, N. Y. was matron-of-honor, and Miss Sarah Katherine Mauney, sister of the bridegroom, was junior bridesmaid. They wore identical full length gowns of cell blue, fashioned with crushed tulle bodices which had hand made tulle flowers and tulle beading extending from waist to shoulder and onto the bouffant skirts. Their headresses were tiny Juliet caps of tulle trimmed like the bodices, and they wore matching mitts. They carried arm bouquets of Romance roses, delphinium and multicolored pompons tied with blue streamers. Bridesmaids were Misses Betty Battle and Jackie Clarkson of Raleigh, Miss Rebecca Barnhardt of New Bern and Miss Patricia Morris of Hertford, college roommate of the bride. They wore gowns similar to those of the honor attendants in pastel shades of orchid, lemon yellow, sea foam green and shell pink, and they too carried arm bouquets of mixed summer flowers. The bridegroom was attended by his father as best man. His groomsmen were Hilbert Cobb Fisher, brother of the bride, and John McAllister of Raleigh, Charles Mauney, brother of the bridegroom, Louis Arnold Kiser, Jr., Garland E. Still, Jr., and Charles Blanton, all of Kings Mountain, and William Rhyne, of

Society Mrs. P. D. Herndon, editor

Ellenboro.

The mother of the bride was gowned in rose chiffon with beaded neckline and sleeves. The bridegroom's mother wore blue lace and chiffon. Each pinned an orchid at her shoulder. Honorary bridesmaids were Misses Betty Denne Trentman of Raleigh and Thelma Barclift of Durham, sorority sisters of the bride, Misses Polly Pope of Dunn, Sue Gulley of Raeford, Doris and Beverly Cobb of Gibsonville, cousins of the bride, and Mrs. Ben Hudson of Kings Mountain and Miss Joan Mauney of Spindale, cousins of the bridegroom. They wore pastel floor length dresses and wrist corsages.

Reception

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained at a reception in the Virginia Dare ballroom of the Hotel Sir Walter. Greeting the guests at the door were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clogston and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Kiser. Col. and Mrs. J. W. Harrelson introduced guests to the first receiving line composed of the wedding party. The second receiving line included Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Park, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Marrow, Mr. and Mrs. George Houser, Mr. D. C. Mauney, Mrs. J. H. C. Fisher, the Reverend and Mrs. H. G. Fisher, and the Reverend and Mrs. Raymond M. Bost, and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Smart.

The bride's table was covered with an imported lace and cut-work cloth. A central cluster of seven branched silver candelabra had side arrangements of Golden Charm roses in tall epergnes. Southern Smilax extended to the centrally placed three-tiered wedding cake and to the corners of the table where it was caught up with nosegays of yellow roses. Bridal mints in silver bon-bon dishes completed the arrangement.

Presiding at the bride's table were Mrs. G. D. Arndt, Mrs. Willis Zehmer, and Mrs. George McAllister.

Mrs. S. R. Baker, Mrs. John C. Anderson, Mrs. Clayton Cobb, Mrs. Ida Hetrick, Miss Hazel Cobb and Miss Linda Maddry presided at the serving table which was centered with an arrangement of white summer flowers flanked by silver candelabra holding white tapers. Silver punch bowls were at each end, and the honorary attendants served decorated cakes, sandwiches, nuts, and mints.

Registering guests in the bride's book were Mr. and Mrs. H. Leslie Cobb, Mr. and Mrs. E. Boyd Cobb and Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Graeber. Assisting in receiving were Dr. and Mrs. Charles Carroll, Dr. and Mrs. John Cell, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Clarkson, Dr. and Mrs. Jack Levine, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Mumford, Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Nahikian, Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Strobel, Mr. and Mrs. George Watson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Page Williams, Dr. and Mrs. L. S. Winston, Miss Anna Mae Harris, Mr. and Mrs. F. V. The Reverend Clyde Bridges pastor of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony before a background of white cathedral candles, baskets of white gladioli, and greenery. Following the ceremony, the couple received in the vestibule of the church.

A program of wedding music was presented by Miss Catherine Sutton, organist of Steele Street Methodist Church, Sanford, and Mr. Howard Coble, vocalist, director of music, Goldsboro City schools.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, William Lord London, III, of Pittsboro wore a gown of white chantilly lace over satin styled with a front panel of pleated nylon, a scalloped neckline with a yoke of illusion outlined with seed pearls, fitted bodice, long sleeves ending in calla lily points over the hands and a full gathered skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion cascaded from a Juliet cap outlined with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations, gypsophila, and gardenias.

Miss Doris Stout of Siler City, maid-of-honor, was gowned in floor length blue net over taffeta and carried a fan shaped bouquet of yellow carnations, gypsophila and asters. Miss Jettie Ross Halthcock and Mrs. James Misenheimer of Mount Gilead, Mrs. William McClurg of Greensboro, and Mrs. Benjamin Coble, Jr. of Mehane, bridesmaids, wore floor-length yellow gowns of net over taffeta and carried fan shaped bouquets of blue carnations, gypsophila and asters.

The bride had as junior bridesmaid, little Miss Sally Bule of Biscoe dressed in blue net over taffeta and carrying a bouquet similar to those of the adult attendants. There were pink carnations for the mother of the bride who wore navy blue crepe and the bridegroom's mother who wore grey silk shantung.

Mr. Marshall Odom of Fayetteville was best man for his brother. Ushers were Mr. Milton Odom

Miss Jean Davis Given Lovely Bridal Luncheon

Mrs. Jack White was hostess on Thursday at a beautifully appointed luncheon at the home of her parents in Faison, at which time she paid charming compliments to Miss Jean Davis, bride-elect, and her bridesmaids.

A pink and white color scheme was cleverly carried out in decorations and appointments. The living room and dining room were made festive with pink roses, asters, white gladioli, and gardenias.

Miss Davis had selected as her costume for the luncheon, a white lace dress and white accessories. She was presented a corsage of pink gardenias upon her arrival. Her gift from the hostess was a pale pink George Washington bedspread.

The luncheon was served buffet style from the table in the dining room. In the center of the table was an arrangement of pink asters resembling a ship. Guests found their places at auxiliary tables in the living room, each place being marked with a corsage of pink gardenias.

Miss Davis took this occasion to present her bridesmaids with a strand of pearls and matching ear bobs which they wore in the wedding.

Mrs. White was assisted in serving the tasty meal by her mother, Mrs. Edward Cline, and Mrs. E. G. Spurling.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hudson Entertained With Dinner

Dr. and Mrs. Phillip Padgett and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Cooper were host Wednesday night at a perfectly appointed buffet dinner honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hudson.

The spacious Padgett home was appropriately decorated throughout with numerous arrangements of seasonal flowers with a golden hue, creating a picturesque setting of festive beauty for the occasion.

The dining table from which the delectable meal was served buffet style was covered with a gold cloth overlaid with a white lace cloth, centered with a lovely arrangement of gardenias. On a side table and buffet were delightful bouquets of hydrangeas, Romanasias, lilies and white gladioli.

Auxiliary tables in the living room and porch were centered with antique vases holding silver sage daisies and gypsophila. On the bride's table was a crystal compote with purple ruffled glads with airy greenery.

Guests were invited to make up 8 tables. Following the meal, spritely conversation was enjoyed.

The hosts presented Mr. and Mrs. Hudson with silver in their chosen pattern.

Mrs. H. E. Lynch Fetes Ace Of Clubs Thursday

Mrs. H. E. Lynch was hostess on Thursday afternoon to members of the Ace of Clubs and two additional guests, Mrs. Sam Davis and Mrs. Jimmie Simpson.

The home was adorned with numerous bouquets of cut flowers which added a party atmosphere. During the progressions, a very attractive and tempting party plate was served.

Duplicate bridge was played with Mrs. Howard Jackson and Mrs. Jimmie Simpson, holding high score.

Linda Snow Notes Birthday With Party In England

Linda Linda Snow, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Richard M. Snow was four years old Wednesday, June 17, and celebrated the event by playing hostess to ten of her little friends, both English and American.

The birthday tea, given in her honor, was at her home in Curdles' Flat, Harleston, Norfolk, England. It was carried out in the typical English fashion with all the children seated around the table for their "high tea" (or supper) which is the meal the children have just before going to bed. Each child had sandwiches, "biscuits" (cookies) served with fruit punch (American) no tea!

After the children had played for awhile, they were given cake and ice cream. There were lots of happy faces as each child received a sand bucket and shovel on his departure.

Linda is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mauney of Kings Mountain.
