Woman's Club Federation Sponsoring Week Course

The Fine Arts Department of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs is conducting a summer festival at Mars Hill college beginning the week of July 26.

Classes in art craft are to be taught by Ben Williams of the State Art gallery and another speaker for the week is Mrs. Horace Ritchie, of Athens, Ga., who will speak on the "General Field of Woman's Club Work."

Music, drama, and creative writing, observance of fine art crafts, visits to Penland, and other displays of art craft are part of the week's training.

The week's fee for the course is $35, which includes room, board, tuition, and a $5 registration fee. Bedding is furnished. Reservations are to be made July 12 at the college.

Tuesday Bridge Club Met With Mrs. Blackmer

Members of the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge Club and several additional guests enjoyed a meeting this week with Mrs. H. S. Blackmer.

Mrs. Blackmer entertained at the Country Club which was very festive with arrangements of mixed summer flowers.

When all had assembled, Coca Colas were served. Bridge was played in progressions. Tallies were added after the fourth progression and prizes awarded.

Mrs. Hugh Ormand for receiving club high and Mrs. Arnold Kiser for scoring highest among the visitors, Mrs. Hugh Logan, a new comer to town was remembered with a gift.

Following the third progression a fruit salad course with lime sherbert cookies and ice tea was served.

Those playing other than club members were Mrs. Arnold Kiser, Mrs. Hugh Logan, Mrs. Audrey Mauney, and Mrs. J. L. McGill.

Mrs. Craig Entertains Home Arts Club

Mrs. W. R. Craig delightfully entertained members of the Home Arts Club at the Country Club Tuesday afternoon. Rooms were beautifully decorated with roses and petunias, one eye catching arrangement was in a copper teapot, which was used in the hall.

Mrs. Clarence Plonk, Jr., gave a most interesting and informative program on silver, tracing the origin of silver craftsmanship from the beginning, bringing it up to modern silverware. Many antique pieces were on display showing the three types, sterling Sheffield plated, and electroplate silver.

Mrs. B. D. Ratterree, vice-president, presided over the routine business. Two new members, Mrs. Martin Harmon and Mrs. Wilson Crawford were welcomed into the club.

The hostess served a fruit salad plate, a sweet course, and ice tea.

City Still Needs Twelve Teachers

City Schools Superintendent B. N. Barnes announced yesterday resignation of two teachers and employment of one and said that 12 new teachers are still needed to complete the 1953-54 faculty.

Miss Mary Nolan, of Lawndale, has been employed as a primary department teacher, he said.

Resignations were received from Mrs. Hill Carpenter, girls physical education teacher, and from Mrs. W. L. McSwain, second grade teacher at Central Elementary.

Due to increase in enrollment last year, the city system gained two white teachers on the state allotment but lost one Negro teacher, Mr. Barnes reported.

Kings Mountain Holiday Quiet

Last Saturday's Independence Day holiday was observed quietly in Kings Mountain.

Temperatures were high, increasing activity at nearby swimming pools, and the country club's golf course was busy.

Majority of commercial establishments were closed for the day, though the holiday observance was not unanimous. Virtually all grocers were on duty July 4th.

Commerce was back to normal Tuesday morning, with all business firms back on regular schedule.

Some persons have been vacationing this week, but the current week will end all industrial vacation schedules. Sadie Cotton Mills and Neisler Mills, Inc., have been vacationing during the current week.
