Charlotte Harrill To Be In Play At Clearwater

Approximately 20 amateur thespians tried out for parts at the Clearwater Little Theatre, which will produce "Guest in the House" as a pre-season play, tentatively set for October 20.

Mrs. J. G. Swinburne and A. J. Rucket, in charge of the casting, auditioned 18 women and three men for the well known comedy-drama in which an apparently ill girl who comes to visit her cousin disrupts the family completely in an effort to steal the cousin's husband.

The part of an eight or ten year old child will be played by Charlotte Harrill, who has already had two years experience in Little Theatre work in Kings Mountain.

Charlotte Harrill is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Beam.

Mrs. Howard Jackson Fetes Mrs. Davidson with Bridge

Mrs. Howard Jackson entertained with a delightful bridge luncheon Thursday at the Country Club paying charming compliment to Mrs. Carl Davidson, bride-elect of October. Mrs. Davidson wore a suit of light weight red geranium with black accessories.

Three tables were arranged in the living rooms which were lavishly decorated with dry arrangements in a color note of autumn gold and red. Contract bridge was the game of the morning, when scores were compared prizes were awarded Mrs. Jay Patterson and Mrs. Paul Mauney. The hostess gift to Mrs. Davidson was a singing copper kettle, and a large nose gay in fall colors.

A delicious three course luncheon was served. The place mats were hand made, cut in shapes of autumn leaves. Gay autumn leaves on the napkins added a further note of the season. Mrs. L. L. Benson joined the group for lunch.

MRS. ANDREW THOMAS DeBRULER, JR.

Miss Sarah Betty Stone Bride Of A. T. DeBruler, Jr. In Church Rites

The El-Bethel Methodist church of Kings Mountain was the scene of a candlelight wedding of charm and beauty Saturday evening, September 26, at six o'clock when Miss Sarah Betty Stone became the bride of Andrew Thomas DeBruler, Jr., of Winston-Salem and Burlington, N. C.

Reverend Boyce Huffstetler, the bride's pastor, officiated in the double ring ceremony. Vows were exchanged before the altar in a setting of wrought iron seven branch candelabrum holding white cathedral tapers that lighted a background of garlands of ivy, palms and Oregon fern, with a center arrangement of white gladioli and pom poms. Wrought iron baskets of gladioli and lace fern were on each side of the altar. Around the choir loft were garlands of ivy interspersed with pom poms, and atop the balustrade were lighted cathedral tapers. Family pews were marked with wrought iron candle-sticks clamped on the back of the pews and sprayed around with small pom poms and lace fern.

Wedding Music
Nuptial music was rendered on the piano by Mrs. T. E. Jackson of Bessemer City, playing "Indian Love Call", Harbach; "Clair de Lune", Debussy; "Lullaby From Joscelyn", Godard; "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice", Saint-Saens. During the ceremony, Mrs. Jackson played "To A Wild Rose" by MacDowell. The Bridal Chorus from Wagner's "Lohengrin" and the Wedding March from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream" were used. Miss Peggy Maples, Rockingham, N. C., cousin of the bride, sang "At Dawning" by Cadman and "If God Left Only You" by Densmore. Mr. B. S. Peeler, Jr., sang "The Wedding Prayer" by Dunlat and "Through the Years" by Youmans.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of Chantilly lace over duchess satin fashioned with a molded basque which fastened in the front with tiny self-covered buttons from the waist to the Peter Pan collar. Long sleeves fitted at the wrists with self-covered buttons ending in calla points over the hands. The bouffant skirt flowed from a rounded hip yoke and ended in a full cathedral train. Her full length veil of French illusion was arranged on a tiara of Chantilly lace appliqued in lace medallions and outlined with seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a colonial bouquet of bride's roses with white maline, fashioned with a sweetheart bow of bridal satin and centered with a white orchid.

Bridal Attendants
The attendants wore stoles with their gowns of starlight blue tulle over bittersweet taffeta styled with softly crushed rows of hemstitched tulle across the fitted bodices that fastened in the back. Fitted tightly at the waist with plaited satin bands, their full skirts were panelled with two vertical rows of the softly crushed hemstitched tulle. They wore tiaras of blue nylon tulle with rosebuds, gifts of the bride. Mrs. William F. Stone, Jr., matron of honor, carried a heart-shaped bouquet of rose painted pom poms outlined with lace and tied with rose velvet tubing. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Troy Morrow, Kings Mountain; Mrs. Roy Walker, Shelby; Mrs. P. N. Thompson, Jr., Burlington, and Mrs. William Stephens, Reidsville, carried small bouquets like that of the matron of honor.

Honorary bridesmaids were Misses Mary Stone, Patty Ledford and Nancy Spearman of Kings Mountain; and Miss Anita Stone of Shelby. Their rose colored gowns were net over taffeta. The heartshaped bodices were embroidered nylon lace and sprayed with pearls and rhinestones. On each side of the full skirts were small plaits held with rosebuds. Small buds with maline made up the matching headdress. Misses Elaine Dixon and Vicki Petty were flower girls and were dressed in white taffeta with full net over-skirts. They wore pearls, gifts of the bride, and carried baskets of rose petals.

Master Billy Stone, nephew of the bride, dressed in white, was the ringbearer. P. N. Thompson, Jr., of Burlington, N. C., was best man and the ushers were W. F. Stone, Jr., brother of the bride; William Stephens, Reidsville; Douglas Bule, Winston-Salem; Edward Martin, Kings Mountain.

The mother of the bride wore navy crepe with gray accessories and a white orchid shoulder corsage. Mother of the groom wore gray with navy accessories and a white orchid shoulder corsage.

Reception
Following the ceremony, the reception was given at the home of the bride's parents. The motif of the bride's table was valley lilies and roses and it was carried out both in the wedding cake and comports of flowers.

Throughout the home were mantel bowls of white bridal flower arrangements. Those assisting were the honorary bridesmaids and Mrs. Leonard Gamble, Mrs. James S. Ware, Mrs. Andrew Jenkins. At the register were Mrs. Clavon Kelly and Mrs. Dean Spearman.

Wedding Trip
For their wedding trip, Mrs. DeBruler wore a dressmaker suit of imported English wool with a loosely fitted short length coat. Her blue blouse was the same shade as her velour hat with the sweetheart point ornamented with a rhinestone clip. Other accessories were navy and at her shoulder she wore a white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Saturday's bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Floyd Stone and is a graduate of Bethware high school and attended Evans College of Commerce in Gastonia. She is now employed with Southern Bell Telephone Company.

Mr. DeBruler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Thomas DeBruler, Sr., of Burlington, N. C., is a graduate of Pleasant Grove high school. Mr. DeBruler served in the armed forces before he became associated with McClain Trucking Company in Winston-Salem.

When Mr. and Mrs. DeBruler return from their wedding trip, they will be at home in Parton Apartments, Carpenter street, Kings Mountain.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Maples, Rockingham; Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Maples, Hamlet; Mrs. W. O. Maples, Rockingham; Mr. and Mrs. Barney Stone and son, Larry, Shelby; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. DeBruler, Mr. and Mrs. Earley Welch and daughter, Julie, Mrs. Minnie Browning, Miss Maggie DeBruler, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. DeBruler, Burlington, N. C.; and Mrs. Doris DeBruler, Graham, N. C.

Mrs. Sam O. Davis Fetes Fortnighters Bridge Club

Mrs. Sam O. Davis entertained members of the Fortnighters club Friday afternoon at the Country Club. Quantities of different graceful flowers in rich autumn shades were used in decorating the club, where the guests assembled at several tables for a session of bridge.

Throughout the afternoon several progressions of contract bridge were played. When scores were added, Mrs. Don Blanton was high scorer.

Playing other than club members were Mrs. Halbert Webb and Mrs. Hugh Ormand.

A tempting salad course was served at the close of the progressions.

Miss Jessie Williams and Mrs. Mae Nance, of Charlotte, were spend-the-day guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Harmon on Sunday. Also guests at dinner were Mrs. M. L. Plonk, Miss Jette Plonk, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Harmon.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY
Little Delva Ann Sprouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sprouse, route 2, celebrated her second birthday anniversary, Wednesday, September 30. Her maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Summitt of the Patterson Gro. community. Her paternal grandfather is L. B. Sprouse.

Installation Service Held With Mrs. B. Hord

The monthly meeting of the Gleaners Class of the First Baptist church was held Thursday night with Mrs. Bryan Hord. Mrs. Gwin Whisnant conducted the devotional period.

Mrs. Clyde Jolly, president, presided. New members coming into the class were welcomed. A report of the year's work was given by the treasurer. It was voted to send $10.00 to the Korean Children fund and to give the rest in the treasury to the building fund.

A bundle light installation service for the officers of the class was led by Mrs. Bryan Hord. Mrs. Sam Hughes will teach the Gleaners class. A new class being formed will be taught by Mrs. Earl Ledford.

All members stood, joined hands, making a link and sang in unison, "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again."

Mrs. Hord invited the ladies into the kitchen where all served themselves to homemade ice cream and cake.
