TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

The king that faithfully judgeth the poor, his throne shall be established forever. Proverbs 29:14.

Parity Price Fight

As this is written, predictions of close observers are that the Eisenhower administration will win its battle for a flexible plan of price supports for basic farm commodities, in the range of 82.5 percent to 90 percent.

If the new farm law is approved, the natural result will be that Secretary Benson, who is fighting for an elimination of the firm 90 percent parity formu- . la, will cut most supports to the new minimum.

The nation's farm program has come under fire from conservative quarters since the days of the first Roosevelt administration and Henry Wallace's plan to plow under cotton and kill off the piggie crop. The parity plan was inaugurat ed then, 20 years ago, and has been in vogue since. The original idea was to use a low level of support on commodities in heavy supply and a high level support on commodities which were scarce. The war came along, and everything was scarce, with the result that parity on all supported products was fixed at the highest level. Politics being what it is supports have remained at the peak since, with some scandalous results. Everyone remembers the potato glut, a perishable, which should have never been supported in the first place, and butter, artificially high due to supports. Actually, there is a surplus today in almost every supported item.

Politicians are reluctant to change because their constituents are reluctant to change. Thus onetime Secretary of Agriculture Brannan was castigated in all manner of terms when he suggested that the government let prices fall where they would and pay producers the differential between their market place sales and parity, the theorectical fair price in relation to other commodities. Secretary Benson wants to do the same thing and has ordered it in the instance of wool, talked about it on butter. It would mean that the taxpayer would pay for the support one time, not two, since he now pays in taxes and also via artificial high price at the grocery check out station.

Badly Out-Numbered?

In today's neighboring column "Other Editors Viewpoints" the Herald includes the comments of the Shelby Daily Star which support the proposal of Representative B. T. Falls, Jr., to change the county's voting basis in Democratic primaries.

Since 1951, Democrats have voted for only one county commissioner, the one representing their district. Under the proposed change the residence feature of the districts would be maintained, but a Democrat could tally a vote in all the district contests.

The Herald, as previously stated, opposes this change, in contrast to the Shelby Star and the Cleveland Times, though recognizing full well that no sys-tem is perfect for all situations. Usually, when pressure is on to change a system, the protagonists are interested in changing the identity of the office-holders. Rep. Falls, the Star and the Times disclaim this intention completely.

Objections to the change previously stated - and from comments received general in this area — are these; 1) The cost of political campaigning for the five offices, which pay only a $25 monthly honorarium, will go up about fivefold; and 2) the change would have the tendency to give an undue bulge to the voting preponderance of the county seat community. Both objections are couched here in the long rivalry between Shelby and Kings Mountain which has continued through the years since Kings Mountain's hot election to determine whether the east portion of the community should join Cleveland and thereby secede from Gaston county.

CHOOSING

Theoretically no industry should be supported by the government, with the exception of those producing scarce, must products. But the theory ignores the dislocations which would result. A man who has been farming all his life would not find it easy to adapt himself to a new task.

Enactment of flexible supports will undoubtedly cost the farmer money, but the differential, at a maximum of 7.5 percent will not be fatal, such as a complete decontrol would be. Needless to say, the GOP support of this proposal will not be popular in the farm states.

Report for the month of July from the Kings Mountain branch of the Employment Service is enheartening, since the job picture here shows improvement over the preceding months. However, more than 450 job seekers in the labor market is still more than a normal total. Reports from industry, however, iadicate some quickening of the beat which should result in further recalls of former workers and for new workers to man machines.

Our congratulations to County Tax Collector Bob Gidney and City Collector Clarence Carpenter on their good record of tax collections for 1953. Only approximately eight percent of both levies remained to be paid as the annual tax advertising lists are published for the first time. Diligence in collection efforts shows in results.

The rivalry is quite natural and undoubtedly exists in other counties where there is more than one principal city. Rightly or wrongly, many Kings Mountain citizens feel the county seat is inclined to want, expect and push for the "big end of the horn". Some will cite instances, history and/or folklore, to prove it.

The Herald, of course, does not advocate secession, but suggests that its citizens inform Rep. Falls and Senator Robert Morgan of their feelings on the proposal via mail and telephone. Otherwise, the proposal is sure to become fact.

See The Drama

This weekend's performances will be the final ones for the 1954 showing of "The Sword of Gideon" at Kings Mountain National Military Park.

Reports from those who have seen this year's production is that it is quite worth the admission tariff and considerably changed from last year's production, not only in script, but in new staging devices sets and arrangements, which enhance the dramatic art of the production.

Crowds have not been sell-outs, but they have been good. They should be at their best this weekend in view of the national tendency of Americans to put off until the last minute.

Many out-of-towners have made the trek to the park amphitheatre to see the old historic battlefield again covered with rustic woodsmen and red-coated Britishers.

Kings Mountain folk who have not seen it should reserve a, night for the show this weekend. And it would be wise to check on tickets in advance.

Local merchants, as usual, will be on top of the fashion trend and if it clicks they'll have it.

Speaking of local merchants reminds of a true story with a trade-at-home moral. It happened to a local missus. Shopping some Shelby stores, the lady returned to her auto to find one of those little pink slips noting an over-parking infraction tucked neatly under her windshield wiper. As people sometimes are wont to do, she figured that being an out-of-towner was prima facie evidence of immunity from the constabulary on such matters as over-parking and promptly erased the incldent from her memory.

But not for long. m-m

A few days later, a peace of-ficer served an official-looking paper which indeed was offi cial. The City of Shelby had summoned her to court to stand trial for over-parking and failure to pay the tariff. Result: she was taxed with the costs in the amount of $13.10.

m-m

The lady says she's learned a lesson and in the future will attend to her shopping needs in Kings Mountain, where, at least, a person gets a second notice before being hailed into court on the parking charge,

August is the beginning of the sad season for sun-lovers. Though there has been no shortage of sunshine, the evenings have a different "feel" in the air, producing a kind of wistfulness for the demise of long, hot days; as well as the signal that coal bins and oil tanks will oon become an important consideration again.

Are summers getting hotter and drier? Without benefit of weather figures, it seems they are. More and more business firms are turning over air-con-ditioning possibilities in their minds. The selling arguments are several, including happler working conditions for employees and happier shopping conditions for customers. In ten years, air-conditioning will be a "must" item for new construction in retail business and will be a popular item in many homes.
