GRACE METHODIST

CHURCH NEWS

A special week of activities just for youth and youth and adult workers began at Grace Methodist church Sunday evening. The group went just out of town to the lovely private lake of R. L. Lewis for a picnic supper and a Galilean-type worship service.

The script for the service was written by Coy Lee Brown, Jr., and directed by Libby Camp, re-tiring chairman of christian faith. The service began with scriptural reading and old time spiritual singing on the north bank of the lake.

As a spirit of reverence came over the group, the histori. makes this move possible". an for the program read the his ciples by the sea of Galilee, and how that he still calls young and brave leaders who will answer his call. As the historian's voice died away, the group's attention was caught by a small boat coming across the lake in their direction. In the boat were four boys who represented the two sets of brothers, James and John, Andrew and Peter, whom Jesus had called to be his disciples while they were fishing by the Sea of Galilee. As the group listened they heard the boys discussing things it was imagined that the disciples discussed after their Lord had been taken from them. Title of the service was "We Recall" and appropriate scriptures were used. It helped the Grace youth to also recall some of the great promises and teachings of not only the disciples' Lord but the Lord of all who would hear and answer His call. The group returned for the evening service at 7:30 at the church and an hour

As an American citizen, observing the problem between Employer and Labor, I write you, one newspaper in — at the least each town or city in the United States having a population of 5,000 or over, making this sug-

Strikes tie up street cars, bus lines, railways, telephones, shipping lines, airways, automobile and steel industries, generally incommoding and distressing the nation. Strikes are government by force of arms; but the American way is government by law.

Under our Constitution, men have freedom of contract: they have the right to possess and use property freely, without interfer-ence from others; they have the right to establish and carry on business in their own way, employing others to help them, freely, by contract, as they may de-sire and be able. And the public have the right to use their telephones, to travel on their railways, bus lines, and airways, without interference; and they have the right to buy their steel and other commodities without interference. But it has come to pass that the Unions have tied up a railway system, and a telephone system, for 60 days over several states with numerous acts of destructive sabotage; they threaten automobile and steel industries that supply the nation; they stop ocean navigation. Five years ago, after 100 years of circulation, under the demands of a Union, the New York Sun discontinued. This year the Brook-lyn, New York, Eagle, also over 100 years old, because of a strike called against it by the New York Newspaper Guild, suspended permanently. There is always a cons-
