

HOUSE of the WEEK

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. C-387

DESIGN C-387. Here is a roomy plan with features that are desirable for either city or farm.

The small room off the side entry has a toilet, lavatory and large closet. However, there is still room for a freezer, washer and dryer, if necessary.

There are lots of closets, well distributed throughout the house; a large storage closet and others for coats and linens.

The kitchen is compact and well arranged, and has a larger than usual dinette and a china cabinet. The center bedroom could be used as a den, workroom, or even be converted into a dining room by leaving out the partition.

The exterior finish combines wide siding and stone with wide eaves. Floor area is 1415 sq. ft. with a cubage of 26,838 cu ft. including the full basement.

For further information about DESIGN C-387, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

The United States Forest Products Laboratory at Madison, Wis., has developed a cheap wood fiber building board which is said to filter out poisonous gas and radioactive fall-out. Spokesmen say that the "diffusion board" might someday be used to build shelters for troops and civilians.

A lithograph print of Davy Crockett on display at the Chicago Public Library shows him in the outfit he wore to Congress—swallow-tail coat and all the trimmings. On it, in his own hand is this inscription: "The only correct likeness that has been made of me."
