Central FHA Chapter Participating In Week-Long FHA Week Activities

Future Homemakers of America all over the United States and territories are celebrating FHA Week this week—October 31-November 4.

The Kings Mountain chapter is no exception. Seventy club members began the week of activities by attending their respective churches Sunday in groups. On Monday, the group posted bulletin boards in the school and prepared an FHA exhibit for display in Keeter's Department store window.

Tuesday, club members presented the play, "Oophs, Your Manners, Please" at the regular meeting of the club at the high school. Indoor gardens, made by the members, were taken to Kings Mountain Hospital Wednesday. The club presented a radio program over Station WKMT.

New members of the chapter are to be initiated Thursday (today) with a Mother-Daughter tea to climax the activities. Mrs. John Gamble, teacher of Home Economics, announced.

The club will assume duties at the concession stand at Friday night's football game. Mrs. Gamble added, with the proceeds to be used to plan a Mother-Daughter banquet, the official said. It was reported that the club was 100 percent in participation in FHA week activities.

The Future Homemakers of America Club is a club of high school pupils who study Homemaking or who are former students of Home Economics. Mrs. Gamble pointed out, The organization, of which the Kings Mountain chapter is a charter member, is observing its tenth anniversary this year.

Mrs. Gamble added, "The FHA is an integral part of the total homemaking program. It adds interest to the total homemaking program and contributes to personal developments of individual students. Club members may obtain the degree of achievement whereby FHA measures their accomplishments and growth in personal development, contributions to their families and home, to their communities and to the FHA organization."

The Kings Mountain FHA club is an active high school club, the official said, participating in many projects during the school year and during the summer vacation.

Delegates attend county, district and state rallies, as well as

The advertiser's highest standard—

of circulation value

Every industry has a standard by which its products can be measured. The jeweler uses the symbol of a pure diamond. In flatware, the word "sterling" and in dinnerware, the word "bone china" represent high standards of quality and value.

For the advertiser, the symbol of the highest standard of circulation value is the emblem of the Audit Bureau of Circulations*. This hallmark means that newspapers or periodicals so identified are measured according to the most highly regarded rules and standards in the advertising and publishing industry.

The fact that we are privileged to display this A.B.C. emblem here means that you can buy advertising in this newspaper as you would make any other sound business investment—on the basis of well known standards, known values.

*This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations, a cooperative, nonprofit association of publishers, advertisers, and advertising agencies. Our circulation is audited by experienced A.B.C. circulation auditors. Our A.B.C. report shows how much circulation we have, where it goes, how obtained, and other facts that tell advertisers what they get for their money when they use this paper.
