MISS PEGGY HAWKINS
Miss Hawkins
Contest Winner

Miss Peggy Hawkins, Central high school senior, was winner of the local high school Homemaker of Tomorrow contest recently conducted by General Mills, Inc.

Miss Hawkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Hawkins, receives a Homemaker of Tomorrow pin and is eligible for state competition, according to announcement by General Mills which sponsors the Betty Crocker contests in schools throughout the state.

Miss Carolyn Brown, of Kings Mountain, also participated in the contest which was open to all high school senior home economics students.

Mrs. John Gamble, Central FHA advisor, said that the contest examinations were graded by Science Research Associates, an educational testing agency. From test results, she added, a Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for each school in the state was selected.

The winner in state competition receives a $1,500 college scholarship plus an all expense paid educational tour of the nation's capital, Mount Vernon, and Colonial Williamsburg, Va. The winner's school receives a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

State winners are to be announced in April.

G. C. Looney is expected to be discharged Thursday from Mooresville, N. C., hospital where he has been undergoing treatment for the past four weeks.

Miss Peggy Love Jones Wed Saturday To John Osborne Ware In Church Rites

Miss Peggy Love Jones and John Osborne Ware of Kings Mountain, exchanged marriage vows Saturday afternoon at half after five o'clock in Shelby's Popular Springs Baptist church.

The Rev. W. P. Hall, Jr., pastor of the church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. White gladioli, pines, and English ivy interspersed with lighted tapers in wrought-iron candelabras provided background decoration. Family pews were bow-marked with white satin ribbon.

A program of traditional wedding music was presented by Miss Anne Greene, of Shelby, pianist, and Mrs. Max Goode, of Camp Lejeune, vocalist.

Mrs. Goode sang "Indian Love Call," "Because," by d'Hardelot, and the benedictional selection "Bless This House." Traditional wedding marches by Wagner and Mendelssohn were used.

The bride was given marriage by her brother, Robert Allen Jones, of Shelby. The wedding gown of white bridal satin was fashioned with a fitted bodice of rose point lace accented by portrait neckline outlined in seed pearls and lace medallions and long sleeves that ended in calla-lily points at the wrists. The bouffant skirt, of tulle and satin, extended into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil was attached to a pearl embroidered rosepoint lace cloche and she wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a white orchid on a white prayerbook.

Miss Betty Melton, of Charlotte, was maid of honor, and Mrs. David Hamrick, of Shelby, and Mrs. Bobby Webster, of Kings Mountain, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids.

The honor attendant wore a dress of Nile green taffeta made with bouffant skirt of tulle and satin and a fitted bodice topped with a matching stole. She wore a nylon tulle headdress and carried an arm bouquet of white daisies showered with white ribbon streamers. Bridesmaids were gowned in mint green taffeta dresses and wore matching bandeaux and stoles. They carried bouquets of white daisies.

Martha Ann Stone, niece of the groom, was flower girl. Her dress of mint green taffeta was made with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a white basket of white roses and daisies.

Eddie Callahan, cousin of the bride, was ring-bearer. Walter Ware, of Shelby, was best man for Mr. Ware, and ushers included Lyman Jones and Allen Jones, both of Shelby, brothers of the bride, Buford Ware, brother of the groom, and Menzell Phifer, brother-in-law of the groom. Both are of Kings Mountain.

The bride's mother wore a dress of slate blue with navy blue accessories and a shoulder corsage of red roses. Mrs. Ware, mother of the groom, wore a dress of navy crepe with grey accessories and a red rosebud corsage.

Mrs. Ware, daughter of Mrs. Allen Jones, of Shelby and the late Mr. Jones, was graduated from Bowling Springs high school, Gardner-Webb Junior college, and Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing, Charlotte. She is a member of the nursing staff of Gaston Memorial hospital, Gastonia.

Mr. Ware, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Ware, of Kings Mountain, was graduated from Bethware high school and Gardner-Webb Junior college at Bowling Springs. He is employed in the offices of Foote Mineral company here.

The couple received wedding guests in the church vestibule and left for a Florida wedding trip.

For traveling, Mrs. Ware wore a suit of black linen, black patent accessories, and a gray cashmere wool topper. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Ware will reside at 1726 Poston circle, Gastonia.
