It will soon be strawberry time in the garden. Spring will be upon us before we are ready for it. This is the 1st call for setting strawberry plants for next year's crop in Eastern North Carolina if you are planning to build up a matted row or close bed. In Western North Carolina the planting season will extend through April. Good plant makers such as the Massery and Albritton varieties may be set 24 to 30 inches apart in rows 3 1/2 to 4 feet apart and will give a good stand of plants if they have sufficient moisture. Apply one-half gallon of an 8-8-8 fertilizer per 100 ft. of row about 10 days before planting and thoroughly mix with the soil.
Get plants from a reliable source in order to avoid bringing in serious diseases.
In the Mountain area the ever-bearing strawberries are popular

Like Flowers, Children Emerge In Springtime

RALEIGH — "Children, like flowers, come out in the Spring." With those words, Assistant Motor Vehicles Commissioner Joe W. Garrett spoke this week on the year round importance of child safety.

"But children are not like flowers in one respect," he said. "Children don't stay put. In fact, the only way drivers can really play it safe is always to expect the unexpected from youngsters." Garrett, father of a blossoming little girl himself, reminded Tar Heel motorists that with the coming of Springtime children will engage in more outdoor activities. "Young folks are always unpredictable," he said, "but at this time of year, when vacation from school is just around the corner, they represent even a greater hazard."

He especially warned motorists to be on the alert for children, either on foot or on a bicycle, tricycle or other vehicle, suddenly darting into the roadway from driveways, from behind parked cars or at intersections. Garrett listed four suggestions for motorists to put into practice in the months immediately ahead:

1. Be on the alert in zones where children might naturally be expected. Residential areas, school zones, playground areas, athletic fields, vacant lots—these are potential danger spots.
2. Watch carefully for children on tricycles, roller skates, wagons, scooters, bicycles. Unpredictable on foot, children are even more unpredictable on wheels.
3. Give the child a "brake" and resist the temptation to honk your horn. A sudden blast from an automobile horn can throw a child already in danger into a panic.
4. Remember every minute you are driving, especially where children may be found—always expect the unexpected from children.

Bankers Schedule Convention Cruise

RALEIGH — For the first time in nearly 20 years, the North Carolina Bankers Association will hold its annual convention outside of North Carolina. In fact, the 1956 bankers' convention won't even be held in the United States.

John G. Mitchell of Warrenton, president of the bankers association has announced that the 30th annual convention of the organization will be held May 19-26 aboard a cruise ship en route to Havana and Nassau. Some 650 North Carolina bankers and their guests will make the trip.

The Association has chartered the 28,000-ton "Queen of Bermuda," flagship of the Furness-Bermuda Line, for the voyage. The ship will leave Norfolk on May 19 and return on May 26.

Mitchell expressed disappointment that the Association was unable to persuade the steamship company to send the ship into one of North Carolina's ports. Mitchell and other officials of the association made trips to New York and elsewhere in an attempt to originate the cruise from either Morehead City or Wilmington.

The steamship company explained that the "Queen of Bermuda" normally operates out of New York. When it uses a port south of New York, which it seldom does, it must "run empty" from New York to that port at a cost of about $20,000 a day. It already loses a day's operation in coming to Norfolk, and to come farther south, to Morehead City or Wilmington, would involve and additional day's loss of revenue.

No other ship of adequate size could be found which would come into a North Carolina port, Mitchell reported. The Splendid Swedish-American Line vessels, the "Stockholm" and the "Kungs-

Kiwanians Hear Harry Golden

Harry Golden, editor and publisher of the Carolina Isarelite, Charlotte Jewish publication, was the guest speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Kings Mountain Kiwanis Club Thursday night.

Mr. Golden delivered a stirring address of the need of brotherhood of our various races.

"Let's eliminate prejudices based on race characteristics," he said, "and judge each person on his individual merits."

The speaker also cleared up several points concerning the Jewish religion during his address. At the end of his talk, he allowed time for a question and answer period.

Mr. Golden was introduced to the club by Bob Hoffman, Mr. Hoffman gave a brief summary of the publisher's background, and noted that he is considered to be the foremost authority on Jews in the southland.

President Sonny Peeler presided over the business portion of the meeting. Special guests attending include five members of the Marion Kiwanis Club, who were here on an inter-club meeting project.

Two Gardens To Take Care Of Vegetables

Johnnie Parker of Elm City, route 3, doesn't take any chances on getting caught short of vegetables.

Wilson County Negro Agent W. G. Pierce explains that Parker always has two vegetable gardens, one near the house and one back of the field. Parker says the garden site near the house isn't the best for vegetable production but he says he has a reason for using it. Some folks say he uses it as a decoy so that his neighbors won't be calling on him just when vegetables are right for eating.

Whatever his reasons, he has a nice home freezer filled to the top with vegetables, says Pierce.

It Pays To Know How To Buy Hose

There's more to buying a pair of stockings than knowing your foot size. You also have to know the stocking length, foot style, gauge, denier, and color you want.

Denier is the size of thickness of the thread from which the stockings are made. Denier 15, for example, means a very fine cobwebby yarn used in sheer hose; 20 is a little heavier, and 30 still heavier.

Gauge is the number of threads in every one and a half inches of the stockings or the fineness or closeness of knit. At present, 51 gauge is considered low or coarse, 54 is medium, 60 is fine or close, and 66 is very fine.

According to Julia McIver, State College extension clothing specialist, there's a relation between denier and gauge. The finer the yarn or lower the denier number, the more closely the stockings must be knit. A very fine yarn calls for a fine or close knit to endure the tension of wear. For any given denier, the higher the gauge figure the better wear you'll likely get. For example, 15 denier hose can be expected to last longer in the close 66 gauge rather

Let's keep it that way!

IT'S A FINE THING to have the "welcome mat" out for a new factory on opening day. But it's not enough! A community's long-range industrial growth and prosperity depend on sincere and continuing hospitality to industry, long after the welcoming committee has gone home. This is a job for all of us in the South today.

The steady, year-by-year expansion of existing industry is impressive proof that the job is being done. Southern industries are getting an honest day's work for a fair day's pay... understanding acceptance of technological progress, which ultimately creates still more jobs... honest, stable, friendly, state and local government and fair tax treatment... efficient, dependable rail service.

With all of us doing all we can to welcome new industries to the South and to keep them happy in their new home, the Southland will continue to grow and prosper. And all in the South will benefit!
