Atomic Energy Exhibit Scheduled For Spindle-Center Fair Showing

The Spindle-Center Fair will present the nation's outstanding atomic energy exhibit as a public service during Fair Week, September 10 thru 15.

Arrangements for the Gastonia showing have just been made by Howard Robbins, General Manager of the Fair and officials of the American Museum of Atomic Energy in Oak Ridge, Tenn.

The exhibit, called "Atoms at Work" will be housed in a huge flame-proof tent, located at the entrance to the Fair. It will include a model nuclear reactor where visitors may see and hear the result of uranium-235 atoms splitting. There will also be a 250,000-volt model of an atom-smasher, radioactive animals and how radiotopes—or tracer atoms—are produced and used. All of the major atomic energy processes are illustrated in the display which contains more than fifteen different components.

Robbins said the "Atoms at Work" exhibit duplicates much of the material in the American Museum of Atomic Energy, in Oak Ridge, only one of its kind in the world. The Museum is operated for the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission by the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, a non-profit educational corporation comprised of 32 Southern Universities.

The "Atoms at Work" exhibit will be brought to Gastonia in a giant trailer-truck, Mr. Robbins said. Employees for Oak Ridge will accompany the exhibit and will train local personnel as guides for the showing.

The Oak Ridge exhibit material was prepared by a skilled museum staff, who were guided by scientific and technical personnel at Oak Ridge and from other atomic energy centers. The exhibit has been designed so that all visitors may understand the various atomic energy processes.

More than 60,000 Student Tickets are being distributed free, Mr. Robbins said, and additional tickets may be obtained for schools not on the distribution list by writing to P. O. Box 1193, Gastonia.

In addition to its academic responsibilities, the University of North Carolina School of Public Health has two other major functions: research and service to North Carolina and the South.

COUNTRY PLATTERS

LES CARROLL

DESPITE innovations in country music, old-time sacred singing retains its popularity and there are several outstanding new releases. Wally Fowler's "You Can't Run Away From God" and "Singin' Camp Meetin' Style" are a "must" for collectors (Decca). The Jordanaires harmonize beautifully in "The Hands of God" and "Fighting for the Lord" (Capitol). Jack Valentine's "These Ol' Bones" and "Jimmy Williams' "Alpha and Omega" are choice releases (MGM). George Beverly Shea has a very moving recording, "How Great Thou Art" (RCA).

Elvis Presley (RCA) continues rocking with "Hound Dog" and "Don't Be Cruel." Try Autry Inman's "It Would Be a Doggone Lie." Ernest Tubb brings back memories with "Jimmie Rodgers' Last Blue Yodel." And the Wilburn Bros. give a memorable performance with "Deep Elem Blues" (all Decca).

For a pleasing blending of styles there is Wanda Jackson's "I Gotta Know" (Capitol). Even "Casey Jones" comes in for a fine new treatment by Eddy Arnold (RCA).

In the love song field, Wiley Barkdoll's "Going Walking" is terrific (Hickory). Webb Pierce has two big ones in "Any Old Time" and "Well Find a Way," while Charlie Walker's "Stand Still" is one of his best (Decca). "Except" by Billy Worth, though sad, is VERY pretty as is Skeets Yaney's "If It Was a Teardrop." Despite the title, "Last Dance Tonight" by Bud Hobbs is gay and beautiful (all MGM).

In the novelty vein, Bobby

Grove's "No Parking Here" is a cutie (King) and Bill Wimberly's "At the Old Town Hall" is rhythmic, has tricky fiddling (Mercury). For tops in guitar duets, Chet Atkins and Hank Snow team up on "Reminiscing" and "New Spanish Two-Step" (RCA).

Johnny and Jack do "Love Love Love" with their usual vim and vigor (RCA) and "Till the End of the World" by Jimmy and Johnny is another snappy one (Decca).

Among girl artists, Goldie Hill offers an invitation to "Sample My Kissin'" and Patsy Cline sings beautifully "I've Loved and Lost Again" (Decca). Wanda Jackson's "Half as Good a Girl" (Capitol) is thought-provoking.

OTHER GOOD RELEASES are "Where Will I Shelter My Sheep?" (Jimmy Williams, MGM); "Will You Be Satisfied That Way?" (Jimmie Skinner, Mercury); "Mirror on the Wall" (Tommy Duncan, Coral); "Handcuff Our Hearts" (Eddy Akridge, Capitol); "They Had to Say Goodbye" (Jenks Carman, Sage and Sand); "Once to Every Heart" (Bobby Grove, King) and "Wayward Wind" (Jack Valentine, MGM).
