Costume Jewels for Fall Are Large, Colorful

BY EDNA MILES

INSPIRATION for this fall's fashion jewels come from the elegant 1912 look of ready-to-wear. Beautiful Edwardian mauves, greens, yellows, blues and pinks shine in iridescent rhinestones that have a new brilliance.

These stones appear in bibs, large button earrings, and matching bracelets. The same beautiful colors are also used in shining crystals that have jeweled motifs.

Perfect companions for the high-necked dinner and cocktail dresses are big rhinestone pins in these shining, pale colors. They're meant especially for the simple black sheath that takes to one single, dramatic touch.

There are many golden-toned pieces set with rhinestones. A golden-tone collar in lace design, for instance, is exactly right for black. And for the dress with low-cut back, there are shining golden pins touched with rhinestone. Place one at the base of a low-cut V for dramatic emphasis.

Pearls are combined with golden-hued metal this fall for spectacular shell pins and earrings. And there are large, baroque, colored pearls in interesting shades of white, gray or bronze.

Open the jewel case proffered by Autumn and out will come lovely accessories such as those pictured above. Large and colorful, the costume jewelry pieces for fall make especially stunning accents for the season's simple, black dresses.
