Championship Of Conference At Stake Friday

By BOB HOFFMAN
Herald Sports Editor

It's the battle of the year in Cleveland County!
Duke-Carolina, Clemson-South Carolina, Democrats vs. Republicans—all of these battles will be secondary to the one to be fought in Shelby's ballyard Friday night.

The Kings Mountain Mountaineers, undefeated in eight outings this year, will invade Shelby to battle the strong Shelby Lions in a game that will probably determine the Southwestern AA Conference championship. Also at stake is the Cleveland County championship.

Shelby has lost three games and tied one during the season, but are not being taken lightly. The Lions' lone conference loss of the year came at the hands of the Lincolnton Wolves in Shelby Saturday night.

Lawson Brown, principal of Central High School, announced Tuesday that tickets for the Kings Mountain-Shelby football game will be on sale at drug stores in Kings Mountain.

Mr. Brown said the tickets would be on sale at Kings Mountain Drug, Stroupe's and Griffin Drug in the city. Tickets are priced at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Losses outside the conference came at the hand of Hickory and Marion, and Lenoir, top-running team of the Northwestern AA loop, tied the Lions in a 0-0 battle.

Kings Mountain has taken the measure of eight opponents without too much trouble. The biggest scare of the season came in the opener, when the Mountaineers eked out a 6-0 win over Bessemer City.

Since that time the going has been relatively easy for the boys.

A group of Kings Mountain businessmen discussed organization of a Chamber of Commerce Monday night, and scheduled a meeting for November 12 to discuss further plans for forming the organization.

Some 15 persons were present at the Monday night session at City Hall, including Mayor Glee A. Bridges, who reported receipt of an inquiry concerning an industry which wishes to locate a plant somewhere in the South.

The industry, unidentified, had first contacted the State Department of Conservation and Development, who in turn, had forwarded a questionnaire to Kings Mountain, one of four cities invited to reply.

The industry seeks a tract of 30-50 acres with streams capable of handling waste, needs 5.5 million cubic feet of gas daily, up to one million gallons of water daily, and other facilities.

The Mayor reported he was compiling the information.

Dan Weiss, Kings Mountain merchant, presided at the Monday night meeting. Others present included H. D. McDaniel, Sam Collins, James Tart, Odus Smith, Bruce McDaniel, Carl Finger, W. S. Fulton, Jr., Warren Reynolds, Dan Huffstetler, Martin Harmon, Bob Hoffman, and Ted Gamble. Martin Harmon agreed to write the Southeastern office of the U. S. ## CITY BOARD MEETING

The city board of commissioners will hold their regular November meeting Thursday night at 8 o'clock at City Hall courtroom, Mayor Glee A. Bridges said the agenda appeared "short and routine."

C. C. Horn, Shelby lawyer and Democratic party chairman says Cleveland County will add to the 2100-plus majority it gave the Democrats in 1952 and adds confidently, "That's conservative."

J. Worth Silver, Shelby realtor and county Republican chairman, acknowledged Wednesday morning that his party won't capture the county and admitted, "We probably won't do quite as well as last time." But he didn't talk in terms of a 3500-vote majority for the Democrats.

Nationally, the two are at considerable variance.

Silver, who has silver hair to match his name, had a confident glint in his eye when he commented on the national voting picture, "Why, we've got it made."

Silver likes Richard Nixon, the vice-president, too. "They've tried hard, but they can't pin a thing on him, never could, prove he called the Democrats traitors."

Mr. Horn was feeling good Wednesday morning over a letter he had just received from a California politico who had written that California, in the GOP camp in 1952 and also put in the GOP camp this year by virtually all the polling experts, appeared 50-50 with a touch-and-go race

SPEAKER—Mrs. Louis G. Rogers, of Charlotte, Republican National committeewoman, will make the principal address at a county Republican rally in Shelby Friday night.

Republicans Schedule Rally

Cleveland County Republicans will hold a rally in Shelby Friday night, with Mrs. Louis G. Rogers, Republican national committee woman to make the principal address.

J. Worth Silver, county GOP chairman, described the gathering as a "countywide Eisenhower fellowship rally" and urged all Cleveland Republicans to attend.

Also invited to attend the rally is Kyle Hayes, of North Wilkesboro, GOP candidate for governor.

The rally will get underway at the Shelby Community center at 8 o'clock.

There is no admission charges. Mr. Silver said refreshments would be served, buffet style, and also stated that door prizes will be given.

"We want everyone interested in the re-election of President Eisenhower and Vice-President Nixon to attend," Mr. Silver said. "Peace, progress and prosperity will be the theme of the rally."

"We believe there are a lot of people who like the kind of government we've had for the past few years and we want to bring them together for a good fellowship rally," Mr. Silver added.

Patterson Grove To Begin Revival

Rev. H. G. McElroy, pastor of Temple Baptist church, will begin a week's revival Sunday night at Patterson Grove Baptist church.

Services will be held nightly through Saturday, November 10, at 7 o'clock each evening. Special singing will also feature the meeting.

"We invite the public to attend these services," Rev. J. J. Thornburg, pastor, said.

For Commissioner of Insurance — Charles F. Gold (D) vs. David W. Lee. For Secretary of State — Thad Eure (D) vs. Grover C. Robbins.

For Commissioner of Labor — Frank Crane (D) vs. J. M. Standil.

"The farmers are tired of Eisenhower prosperity, and next Tuesday's results will show it. The farmer hasn't enjoyed any prosperity under this Republican administration."

Mr. Silver gave the back of his hand to the Democrats on another score. Asked why the GOP hadn't filed a slate of county candidates lately, Mr. Silver said "Democrats changed the law to require that candidates file for office in person." Mr. Silver said he couldn't get his Republican confederates to file their candidacies.

Registrars Opine Local Balloting Will Be Heavy

Kings Mountain area citizens will join other citizens throughout the nation Tuesday in casting votes in the general election.

Chief interest here is in the presidential election, between President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican, and Adlai Stevenson, Democrat. The vice-presidential nominees are Richard M. Nixon, Republican incumbent, and Senator Estes Kefauver.

Registrations have been considered heavy by the registrars. Last Saturday was the final day for registering and Kings Mountain registrars had a busy day. Mrs. Nell Cranford, East Kings Mountain registrar, added 79 names to her pollbook, including 69 Democrats, nine Republicans and one independent. More women registered than men, Mrs. Cranford said. In addition, many people came in to establish that they were registered. During the registration period Mrs. Cranford added 170 names to the East Kings Mountain books.

Mrs. J. H. Arthur, West Kings Mountain registrar, reported addition of 183 names to the West Kings Mountain book, including 111 last Saturday. A total of 81 listed themselves as Democrats while 27 were of the Republican faith and three said they were independents. Mrs. Arthur also had a busy day checking names of persons previously registered.

Both Mrs. Cranford and Mrs. Arthur thought that election day would be a busy one at the polls here.

At Grover, J. B. Ellis reported he had added some 30 to 40 names to the pollbooks, said most were Democrats.

Mrs. H. A. Goforth, Bethware registrar was not available Wednesday.

The polls open Tuesday morning at 6:30 and will remain open for 12 hours, closing at 6:30 p. m.

In addition to the presidential election, citizens will help elect a governor, other state officers, a congressman and county and township officials.

The Republicans have no candidates for township and county offices, and none for United States Representative. Sure of election therefore, are the Democratic County Commissioner candidates, all incumbents, State Senator Robert Morgan, State Representative B. T. Falls, Jr., Constable Gus Huffstetler, and Congressional Nominee Basil White, as well as other local and district Democratic candidates.

Governor Luther Hodges is opposed by Kyle Hayes, Republican, of North Wilkesboro.

Other contests include: For U. S. Senator — Sam Ervin (D), vs. Joel A. Johnson. For Lieutenant — Governor — Luther Barnhart (D) vs. Joe A. Dunn.

For State Auditor — Henry Bridges (D) vs. William White. For State Treasurer — Ed Gill (D) vs. Calvin Monroe Adams. For Attorney-General — George Patton (D) vs. C. E. Hoyle.

For Superintendent of Public Instruction — Charles F. Carroll (D) vs. T. E. Story. For Commissioner of Agriculture — L. Y. Ballantine (D) vs. Fred Keith.

For Commissioner of Insurance — Charles F. Gold (D) vs. David W. Lee. For Secretary of State — Thad Eure (D) vs. Grover C. Robbins.

For Commissioner of Labor — Frank Crane (D) vs. J. M. Standil.

New Ballot Box Demands "No Fold"

Voting Tuesday? Then please don't fold your ballots.

Kings Mountain precincts at City Hall and Victory Chevrolet Company will be using new ballot boxes for the general election and these specially designed boxes are made to stack the ballots properly without folding. Folding the ballots will cause the election officials much extra work when counting time begins, a registrar pointed out.

The specially designed and patented ballot boxes are being used in the county "on trial." If the election officials like the result, the county commissioners may buy them.

The boxes, the manufacturers claim, will speed the work of election officials in tallying the election results.
