$415,000 Issue Would Be Used For New Plant

The county commissioners have set in motion legal procedure to call a $415,000 bond issue for the stated intent of furnishing water and sewer service to Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, if and when the company builds near Shelby a multi-million-dollar fibre glass plant.

The commissioners passed a notice of intention to apply to the Local Government Commission to call a bond election in the near future.

County Attorney C. C. (Cobby) Horn noted that the election will called under a bill recently passed by the General Assembly making such functions legal for county government. Under the present set-up, the oting will be county . wide. Mr. Horn said the proposed bond issue may be discussed further when the county commissioners convene again Tuesday.

County Commissioner Hazel B. Bumgardner said the bond issue is based on "estimated" requirements, and does not include any funds for building water lines to Massachusetts Mohair Plush Company here nor to the new falbrics plant being built near Shelby by P. M. Neisler, of Klings Mountain. Mr. Bumgardner said both these requests are small and it is the feeling of the commissioners that these monies can be provided from non-tax county revenues, as was the case in the county's aid to the new J. W. Wood Company plant near Shel-

Massachusetts Mohair Plush Company is now constructing a water line from the city limits to its Margrace plant here. It has asked the county to pay the bill.

School Board Purchases Lot, Talks Insurance

The city board of school trustees agreed at its Monday meeting to invite a representative of the State School Instrumence combined in the state School Instrumen the State School Insurance com-mission to outline his service, in spite of indications by majority of board members they oppose insuring via this method.

Currently, schools purchase fire insurance from Kings Mountain agents.

The issue was broached several sessions ago and first had the endorsement of Chairman A. W. Kincaid. It had the active opposition of J. W. Webster and Fred W. Plonk. Mr. Plonk remarked, forthcoming May 14 city election "I am against putting government into any more business," and added that he had obtained some new rate schedules from local insurance agents which he described as "very favorable".

In other actions, the board: 1) Voted to pay Alonzo Heavener $800 for a lot near the North school property. Mr. Heavener

2) Deferred action on a recreation commission request to move a piece of playground equipment at Central school and agreed to let the recreation commission use a room at Central, East, Davidson and West schools, plus toilet facilities, for its summer children's recreation program.

Jake Early appeared before the board, said the recreation group would take full responsibility for care and cleaning of the buildings, and would pay utilities ac-counts. The North plant was not included. Supt. Barnes said the building couldn't be "winged off" and the whole building would be open.

3) Agreed to ask property owners adjoining Central school whether they wished gates in a fence to be built on the west property line. The board indicated it want. ed no gates, but would allow property owners to have them at the property owner's expense.

4) Heard a report from Supt. Barnes that an old house on East school property had been sold for employment with this firm he removal to John Sanders for $85. 5) Heard a report from Supt. Cleveland County's quota in the nation - wide effort to secure $30 million for cancer research, education, and service, is $12,000.

"If we make our goal locally, we will be helping to put scientists to work today on problems which must be solved if we are to save more lives tomorrow," Dr. Mauney said. "Surely there is no more inspiring purpose," he continued, "to which we can join ourselves than that of pushing back the darkness of ignorance, suffering, and untimely death to which so many are condemned.

"As many as 25 local people were helped last year through Cancer fund contributions." Dr. Mauney said, adding that last year over 250,000 persons died of fiscal year ending June 30.

The clerk's report showed city income during the first nine months at $512,179 against expenditures of $415,269. He reported bank balances at $138,126 divided by funds as follows: General fund $76,896.16; debt service fund at $55,573; calpitall outlay fund at $4,848; and cemetery fund at $809. No balance was showed for the recreation fund. Mr. Mitcham explained that all monies accruing to the recreation fund are turned over each month to the recreation commission. He also noted that some $23,000 of general fund monies represent water and light deposit fees and are therefore a "suspense" item. The city is planning to invest this amount in local savings and loan associations. It was also pointed out that much of the city's bonded indebtedness comes due in the final quarter of the fiscal year, which virtually will deplete the debt service fund by June 30. The three - quarters report on the operation of the city gas system revealed bank balances of $54,955 and savings and loan deposits of $61,000.
