

Harrleson-Sweezy Vows Exchanged In Shelby Church Ceremony Saturday

The wedding of Miss Phyllis Ann Harrleson, of Shelby, and James Edward Sweezy, of Kings Mountain, took place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in a double ring ceremony in Beulah Methodist church.

The Rev. Donald Fisher heard the exchange of vows. Wedding music was rendered by Eugene Sweezy, brother of the groom, pianist, and Miss Ann Dodd, vocal soloist.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding dress of white lace over net and taffeta. The gown featured a strapless bodice topped with fitted jacket and ankle-length skirt fashioned of scalloped tiers of lace. Her illusion veil was draped from a coronet of pearls and lace and her bouquet was a cluster of white roses on a white prayerbook.

Mrs. Jimmie Brackett was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Doris Hamrick and Juanita Lackey, the latter of Kings Mountain.

The attendants wore dresses of baby blue silk embroidered organza with beaded dresses of matching blue flowers. Their bouquets were nosegays of mixed flowers.

The bridegroom's father was best man, and Joe Harrleson and Charles Sweezy, brother of the bride and bridegroom respectively, served as ushers.

Mrs. Sweezy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Ralph Harrelson of Shelby, is a recent graduate of Waco high school where she was active in the Waco chapter of the Future Homemakers of Tomorrow having been chosen as the school's "Homemaker of Tomorrow."

Mr. Sweezy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Sweezy of Kings Mountain, was graduated from Waco high school last year. He is employed by Goforth Brothers.

The couple will live in Shelby at 703 Royster street.

Preparations are being made for the opening of the 34th Summer Workshop of the College Department of the Plonk School of Creative Arts on June 27, closing August 8. The school is located at One Sunset Parkway, at Charlotte Street in Asheville, North Carolina.

The summer workshop is especially designed for college boys and girls, high school students, high school graduates, children, parents, teachers, and other professional people — for all those who, irrespective of age, occupation, and profession, are interested in developing not only mentally, but physically, vocally, and spiritually. Special emphasis during the six weeks of study will be laid on creative expression.

The summer workshop will base its work on the following course of study.

For the development of the mind — vocal expression, public speaking, creative English.

For the development of the body — Harmonic training, Dalcroze eurythmics, pantomime.

For the development of the voice — speech correction, diction, voice.

For the development of the spirit — character discussion, spiritual training, Bible study.

Other courses will be given in platform art, poetry, acting, music, and art.

Tutoring will be given in mathematics, English, Latin, French, history, remedial reading and remedial speech.

Members of the faculty will include: Miss Laura Plonk, Miss Lillian Plonk, assistant director, Mrs. Anna Lee Styles, platform artist, Miss Patricia M. James, Miss Nancy Plonk, Reuben Gambrell, and R. Fred Brown.

Further information and bulletins may be had at the Plonk school.

Doctor Faces Court Charges

An Ohio doctor is scheduled to face two counts in City Recorder's court Monday afternoon as a result of a car collision at the intersection of Gold street and Battleground avenue, Saturday evening around 6:25.

Dr. Wallace Chiles, whose address was listed on police records as Springfield, Ohio, was charged minutes after the accident by city police with driving while drunk and carrying a concealed weapon.

According to police records, Dr. Chiles operating a 1954 Chrysler, attempted to make a right turn off Gold street into Battleground avenue. During the attempted turn, he failed to straighten his vehicle and hit a 1950 Nash, knocking it into a 1956 Chevrolet. Both cars, the records stated, were parked in a parking lot on Battleground avenue, a cross from the B & B Restaurant.

Max G. Bolin, route 2, was listed as owner of the Nash, and Joe Thomas Barrett, of 111 Cleveland avenue, was listed as owner of the Chevrolet.

Property damages were estimated to total $340.
