Kings Mountain National Guard Lost Kitchen Tent In Bragg Blow

The 72 officers and men of Kings Mountain's National Guard company returned from a two-week encampment at Fort Bragg Sunday none the worse for wear, in spite of a battle with the elements that cost the lives of two Kannapolis Guardsmen and injured 47 others of the same company.

Capt. Humes Houston, commanding officer of the Kings Mountain headquarters labels as plain "scuttlebutt" the tale of some local guardsmen that a last-minute change of orders moved the Kings Mountain company away from the area where the Kannapolis company was located and where lightning produced by a summer storm struck.

Capt. Houston's comment: "Or-

Power Rate Hike Complaints Aired

Rate Increase Costs Hospital $250-$400 Month

The city's commercial power rate increases, made effective last February was attacked Monday night, and resulted in the city board of commissioners ordering a new cost study of Duke Power Company's billings to the city.

Principal spokesman was Grady Howard, manager of Kings Mountain hospital, who told the board the increase is costing the hospital from $250 to $400 per month. Also registering complaints were E. S. Peeler, Jr., of Elmer Lumber Company, and Martin Harmon, Kings Mountain Herald.

Mr. Howard said the hospital uses from 35,000 to 40,000 kilowatt hours per month, and added the hospital board feels the 85 percent increase in the base rate schedule "excessive." The rate was upped from 88 cents per KWH to 1.40 cents per KWH.

Mayor Glee A. Bridges suggested the city shouldn't charge rates any less than Duke Power Company. Mr. Harmon rejoined that Duke Power pays taxes, while the city collects taxes.

In another action the board re-enacted the 1956 privilege license without change. The licenses are purchasable in July.

The board also listened, without action, to pleas of Dean Payne, chairman, and Charles Dixon, member of the recreation commission, for appropriation of parking meter profits for commission use. Both explained that the commission had set up a "restricted" $11,000 budget and that failure to appropriate would virtually kill all plans for a year-round recreation program.

Comm. Ben Bridges objected that the commission had no winter program mapped and that the only winter expenditures would be for the director's salaries. Mr. Payne said the commission has plans for a winter program to be paid for by donations.

In other actions, the board: 1) Voted to charge a fee of $15

S & L Dividends Set New Record At $69,988

Kings Mountain savings and loan associations are preparing to pay record semi-annual dividends as of June 29, directors of the associations having already declared the payments at the annual rate of 3 1/2 percent.

It is the first payment under the indicated rate increase ordered by the associations in late December.

The aggregate payments to savings account shareholders will be $69,988.24.

Home Savings & Loan association will pay shareholders $37,761.04, while Kings Mountain Savings and Loan association will pay shareholders $32,227.20.

Both A. H. Patterson, secretary-treasurer of the Home association, and Ben H. Bridges, secretary-treasurer of the Kings Mountain firm, say the semi-annual payments set new dividend records.

Home Savings and Loan association will mail checks to holders of full paid shares a total of $20,071.72, and will add to the accounts of optional savings shareholders $17,689.32.

The Home firm's payment is up nearly $10,000 over June 1956, up about $7,000 over December 1956 payments. This association paid dividends of $28,078.85 last June, and $30,857.08 last December.

Kings Mountain Savings and Loan will pay $15,490.70 to 265 holders of full-paid shares and add $16,736.50 to its 690 optional savings accounts.

The Kings Mountain firm's payment is up nearly $10,000 over the $22,308.40 paid last June up more than $7,000 over the $24,913.20 paid last December.

While the rate raise accounts for some of the increase, both association officials say savings total have increased during the past six months.

Lions Officers Are Installed

J. W. Webster took over the president's gavel of Kings Mountain Lions club Tuesday night, as officers were installed for the club year beginning July 1.

The installation was conducted by Gail Bridges, of Boiling Springs, deputy district governor. Prior to the installation, the club had received reports from retiring President Nathan Reed and Treasurer F. A. McDaniel, Jr.

Two new members, Jim Jonas and R. G. Whisnant, were welcomed by Sam Stallings, a past president, the district governor awarded a "100 percent secretary" pin to George Thomason.

Star Favorable On Local Area Representative

Prospects for the Kings Mountain area's producing a successor to Rep. B. T. Falls, Jr., were brightened Tuesday, when the Shelby Daily Star editorialized in favor of the proposal advanced by numerous Kings Mountain citizens.

Rep. Falls becomes District Solicitor Falls July 1 and it is in the power of Governor Luther H. Hodges to name a successor. However, Cleveland Democratic political leaders don't anticipate a gubernatorial appointment barring a special session of the General Assembly between now and next spring's primary.

Governor Hodges, away from Raleigh attending the Governor's conference, could not be reached for a statement Wednesday morning. His personal secretary, Mrs. Margaret Birrell, told the Herald by telephone, "I doubt the Governor has given much thought to the appointment, since there are numerous other appointments the Governor is now considering and must make at once."

Chief speculation on a Kings Mountain successor to Rep. Falls has centered on County Coroner J. Ollie Harris, the mortician. Other names mentioned have included W. L. Plonk, merchant and onetime secretary to the late U. S. Congressman (later Judge) E. Yates Webb, C. D. Blanton, drugist and current president of the North Carolina Pharmaceutical association, Jack White, attorney, Wilson Crawford, realtor, Charles E. Dixon, auto sales manager, and A. W. Kincaid, machine shop owner and Eastern Star leader.

Last Kings Mountain member of the General Assembly was the late Senator H. Tom Fulton, Sr. 1925-27. Attorney J. R. Davis served in the House of Representatives 1923-25.

The Star's editorial, entitled "An Opportunity for Kings Mountain," follows:

"Speculation has already started as to who will replace B. T. Falls, Jr., as representative to the General Assembly from Cleveland County since he has been appointed district solicitor.

"Word comes that it may be

Once-In-Demand Teacher's Home Accommodations Going Begging

By ELIZABETH STEWART
The city teacherage needs more customers!

Reporting Monday night to the city board of education on operation of the teacherage, Mrs. Hill Carpenter opined that continued service depends upon getting more occupants, a hard task she is quick to admit.

An even harder task has been Mrs. Carpenter's management of the teacherage and her "cutting of corners" on the small income the teacherage has produced, she said.

Board Discharges Newest Policemen

The city board of commissioners ordered discharge June 30 of Policemen Ellis King and Bill Roper — most recently employed on the city force — to implement the board's agreed-to slashes in Chief Hugh A. Logan's budget request.

The action came on recommendation of Police Commissioner R. Coleman Stroupe, who said discussions with other board members indicated that the last-in-first-out paring method seemed most fair.

Chief Logan declined to recommend, remarking he would have to abide by the board's decision. Comm. Luther Bennett said he agreed to the "lifo" method, provided abilities were equal.

The unanimous board action provided that Officers King and Roper would receive whatever vacation pay they might be due.

Dean Payne, attending the session in behalf of the recreation commission, asked if he could comment and was told to proceed. Mr. Payne suggested, "The colored officer idea is not too popular. He doesn't win his cases and he has a car by himself which is expensive."

Comm. Stroupe also presented Chief Logan a proposed work schedule for the men in his abbreviated department which would retain the eight-hour day. It provided that the chief work one shift during vacations and that a "swing" officer fill in to provide each officer a day off weekly. The Chief complained that there are 11 officers and only seven days in a week.

Mr. Logan also pointed out that the budget figure for salaries did not allow pay of $5 per month extra for the three department sergeants. The board took no action, but some indicated the pay item could be squeezed from other expense items.

Negro Burned In 1 A.M. Fire

Fire, about 1 o'clock Wednesday morning, razed the top floor of the Cansler street residence of Mrs. Emma Lathers Spenser, aged Kings Mountain Negroess.

Fire Chief Pat Tignor said the fire started in the bedroom of Dillard McCoy, Negro boarder, who escaped the burning building by climbing through a window onto the front porch roof. McCoy was treated Wednesday morning by Dr. John McGill for second degree burns of the face, neck and hands.

Chief Tignor stated investigation indicated the fire originated in a mattress from a lighted cigarette dropped by McCoy. The downstairs of the residence, Mr. Tignor said, was not burned, but did sustain considerable smoke and water damage.

City firemen were out on the call approximately one and a half hours.

A call was also answered last Thursday by firemen to Massachusetts Mohair Plush Company, Margrace plant, to extinguish a flash-fire originating in a dryer. No damage was reported.

Goring Victim Is Improving

William A. Scism, 79, sustained nine broken ribs and bruises Saturday at 6 p.m. when a bull owned by the Kings Mountain farmer attacked him.

Mr. Scism is a patient in Gaston Memorial hospital, Gastonia, where his condition was reported satisfactory by the attending physician. He was to have undergone more X-rays yesterday morning, his wife said.

Mr. Scism was in the pasture when attacked by the animal and was apparently unaware that the bull was Scism about a year ago, had never been known to attack anyone before.
