Schedule For Floral Fair Is Announced

Schedule of competitions and exhibitions in both flower arranging and horticulture for the October 16 floral fair of Kings Mountain Woman's club have been distributed in the annual fair booklet. The fair catalog includes advertising from supporting business firms and patrons. Format of the one-day event follows that of former shows, with dinner to be served both at noon and in the evening. Complete schedule of competitions, rules for showing, and other information on the event follows:

COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN: Publicity, Mrs. James Dickey; Hospitality, Mrs. Oscar Myers; Advertising, Mrs. John Cheshire; Cashier, Mrs. Vernon Crosby; Bazaar, Mrs. Joe McClure; Candy—Jr. Club, Mrs. J. W. Webster; Dining Room, Mrs. Paul Hendricks; Cakes and Pies, Mrs. Harold Crawford; Kitchen, Mrs. George Houser.

FLOWER DIVISION: General Chairman, Mrs. W. S. Fulton, Jr.; Schedule, Mrs. J. E. Herndon; Staging, Mrs. Tolly Shuford; Juniors, Mrs. Henry Neisler; Entry and Classification, Mrs. J. L. McGill; Judges, Mrs. W. L. Mauney.

RULES AND REGULATIONS: 1. The horticultural classes are open to any amateur gardener. Classes 7 and 8 in the arrangement division are open to persons in neighboring towns. All classes are open to residents of the Kings Mountain area. 2. Only one entry is allowed an exhibitor in each class, except in the unlisted specimen classes where an exhibitor is permitted any number of entries. Judging will be against perfection and ribbons awarded accordingly. 3. Exhibits may be entered the night before the show between 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. or from 8:00 a.m. until 9:30 a.m. the day of the show. Exhibitors must leave the hall by 9:30 a.m. 4. Judging will begin at 10:30 a.m. While judging is in process only the judges and proper officials of the show are allowed on the floor.

5. Doors will be open to the public from 12:00 until 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, October 16. No exhibit may be removed before 9:30 a.m. but all exhibits must be removed before 10:00 a.m. of the following day. 6. All entries in the horticultural classes must be grown by the exhibitor and whenever possible, labeled as to variety. Potted plants must be in possession of the exhibitor for at least three months. In judging, preference will be given to correctly named varieties. 7. Exhibitors must furnish their own Coca-Cola or milk bottles for exhibiting horticulture. The Entry Committee will furnish name tags, if desired. 8. Plant material need not be grown by the exhibitor, except where noted, but arrangements must have been made by the person in whose name they are entered. Garden flowers will be given preference and exhibitors are requested to list on a small card accompanying the exhibit, any unusual plant material used in the arrangement.

Honey Adds Flavor To Family Meals: If you're one of those meal planners who enjoys flavor and variety in meals, then you'll find plenty of honey on the retail counter to help you in your job of serving meals with taste appeal. According to Ruby P. Uzzle, Agricultural Extension Service consumer marketing specialist, this year's honey crop is a big one. Consequently, homemakers who are not acquainted with the merits of honey in the preparation of tasty dishes can plan to experiment with honey, while those who use honey often will find ample supplies to fill their needs. There are several different forms in which honey is marketed, but three fourths of it is sold as extracted honey, Mrs. Uzzle explains.

The four major forms of honey as listed by Mrs. Uzzle are: 1. Extracted honey is liquid honey removed from the comb and is usually sold in glass jars. 2. Comb honey is honey still in the honeycomb and is sometimes sold in the wooden frames as taken from the beehives. 3. Chunk honey is a combination of comb and liquid honey. It consists of pieces of comb with extracted honey poured over them. 4. Creamed honey, also known as granulated honey, is a product made from extracted honey which has been caused to granulate in minute crystal, giving it a creamy texture and a semi-solid but soft consistency. The U. S. Department of Agriculture lists five variations of honey color as being water white, extra white, extra light amber, amber, and dark.

Like all other sweets, honey is an energy producing food. Extracted honey is about one-fifth water. If it were for this, a pound of honey would have practically the same energy value as a pound of granulated sugar. Honey is a pleasant source of readily available energy for growing children. Since bacteria which cause diseases in human beings cannot live in honey, it is considered safe and wholesome. Use honey in your meals to provide that extra energy your family needs.

AWARDS: 1. One first award—blue ribbon, one second—red ribbon, one third, yellow ribbon, and honorable mentions may be awarded in each class. Judges may withhold awards from any class which fails to meet required standards. 2. Sweepstake award seal will be given to the exhibitor winning the most blue ribbons in the HORTICULTURE and ARRANGEMENT DIVISIONS. In case of a tie, red ribbons will be counted. 3. Tri-color seal will be awarded to the best entry in HORTICULTURE DIVISION. 4. Tri-color seal will be awarded to the best entry in ARRANGEMENT DIVISION. 5. Two awards will be given in the JUNIOR DIVISION—one for the most outstanding entry made by a junior in pre-school through fourth grade section, and one for the most outstanding entry made by a junior in the 5th through 8th grade section. 6. Judges may recommend a special award for any entry not provided for in the schedule. 7. All awards will be presented at 7:30 p.m., October 16th.
