STATE COLLEGE Hints To Homemakers
PROTECT FAMILY WITH HEALTH INSURANCE — For our own well-being, we want to protect ourselves and our families against the major costs of illness or injury. What protection is best? That depends upon the family's individual and particular needs, income and resources, and precisely what you want to accomplish.
Most people have a plan of meeting health care bills, but let's take a look at the suggestions that an insurance expert recommends to us:
First, the family budget should provide for regular health check-ups, dental care and eye care, inoculations, and adequate insurance to meet unexpected expenses. Perhaps these could be taken care of in an emergency fund budget.
An emergency fund budget is a good thing for covering extra expenses which often accompany an illness of injury and cannot be met from the family's regular budget. Frequently, insurance policies do not cover certain illnesses or accidents which could wipe out a lifetime of savings.
All insurance is a good investment but know what you are buying when you buy. Know what is covered and just as important, what is not covered. Take time to study insurance policies. See advice from one who knows.
