Mrs. Mauney At Meeting

The Board of Directors of Boys Home of North Carolina met on Sunday, May 1, in Lake Waccamaw with the Chairman J. Sanders Dallas of High Point, presiding.

The meeting was well attended and the directors were enthusiastic in their remarks on the tremendous progress Boys Home has made in the past year. Several of the directors who have been on the board since Boys Home was started, expressed gratification in seeing all that has been accomplished since the property at Lake Waccamaw was purchased in 1956.

Lions Cottage at Boys Home, which will provide facilities for sixteen more boys, is now under construction and will be completed about July 1. This cottage will be occupied between July 15 and August 1 so that the boys will be ready to start the 1960 fall school term.

While the completion of Lions Cottage will provide a home for sixteen boys, the board realizes the immediate need of another cottage to care for boys on the "waiting list." The directors are studying ways and means to start construction of the third cottage at Boys Home when Lions Cottage is completed. It is hoped that the erection of this cottage can begin in the summer.

Upon completion of the third cottage the board expects to proceed with the construction of a Vocational - Recreational Building. This building will make possible work shop activities and additional recreational facilities.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the directors with their wives and guests, enjoyed a "dutch" luncheon with the boys in Civitan Budd, Sanford; D. L. Todd, Whiteville; Mrs. John M. Council, Lake Waccamaw; Mrs. Aubrey Mauney, Kings Mountain; R. G. Maulsby, Charlotte; E. A. Sisco, Lexington; W. Crowell Black, Whiteville; Raleigh E. Dingman, High Point. Also present: David Saunders, Belmont; Gentry, Greensboro; W. D. Welch, Jr., Washington; Dr. W. H. Hoskins, Whiteville; Fred L. Swartzberg, High Point; Stacy

Jesus of Nazareth Did Not Invent Organized Cult

The insistent question that underlies all organized Christianity is one of the personal relationship of men and women to the Christ—Jesus of Galilee of the New Testament.

To what extent does His example and His teaching dominate their lives? Does the love that He enjoined in the two great commandments show up in the outlook of these people—in their daily lives and conduct?

These two commandments: to love God with all the heart and soul and mind, and to love one's neighbor as one's self are not, of course, limited to the Christian religion.

They were not inventions of the Master, but a basic part of the Jewish religion and of the law of the prophets which, Jesus said, He had come to fulfill, not to destroy.

In one sense, Jesus was not the founder of Christianity. He was not the originator as others have been founders of cults or religions.

If one looks deeply into the life, teaching and mission of Jesus one finds that what the Gospels show is not a religion, but a religion in all its essence and basis in God's relation to man and man's relation to God and the relation of men to each other.

The religions world of Jesus, like the world of the universe in which we live, is a world of spiritual facts and laws. It is not a world in which there is anything artificial or invented.

Every year, summer gains in importance as a fashion season. This is probably due to the fact that spring seems to have vanished in some part of the country. At any rate, there seems to be more summer weather and in turn, this means a larger wardrobe.

This year, when you shop for summer fashions, you'll find the dress with the little sleeve. But you'll also find the sleeveless dress with the little jacket. For

Drip-dry, little-care fabric is used for airy summer dress at left with full skirt. Skirt is circled by bands of white lace and embroidery. Certain to make summer even more pleasant is the little sleeveless dress with its own jacket, right. The cap sleeve has given way to this look in the jacket-dress. Both fashions by Jeanne d'Arc.

BY EDNA MILES

Sheer coats are coming in for summer and they'll be most welcome. They're designed to fill that gap when a wrap is needed on a warm summer evening.

There are lots of fabrics that are easily cared for, thus cutting the amount of time you need spend washing and ironing in the hot weather. These include Dacron-and-cotton blends, printed, checked or plaid cottons, plus the many drip-dry fabrics.
