

REV. GEORGE C. STARR

Starr To Lead Methodist Series

Rev. George C. Starr, pastor of Oldell Memorial Methodist church, Reservoir City, will conduct revival services at Grace Methodist Church, beginning this Sunday, May 8th.

Services will be held each evening at 7 o'clock.

A prayer vigil will be kept at the church on Saturday, May 7th, from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m. Morning prayer will be observed each day, Monday through Friday, at 10 a. m., at the church, for those who work on another shift.

The public is invited to all the church for Monthly Board of Review. The meeting was opened with Scout Oath and Laws. Plans were made for the Troop to go fishing Monday, May 9 as soon as school is out. Boys were asked to bring their fathers for the fishing trip, also hook, line and sinker. Don't forget to bring bait or worms.

Five new boys passed through their Tenderfoot requirement. Several boys made 2nd Class and several passed merit badges.

Plans are being made for boys to go to Boy Scout Camp, Tryon, N. C. July 25 to 30.

Members of the board of review — Leonard Smith, Glee E. Bridges, Jr., Jack Houser, Jacob Cooper, Scoutmaster, Otis Falls, asst. Scoutmaster, Charles Ramsey, Marriott Phifer was visitor.

Troop plans to camp some Friday night real soon at Davison Boy Scout Camp.

these services, Rev. W. C. Sides, the pastor, said in making the announcement.

When a woman bakery clerk in Gary, Ind., was confronted by a gunman she exclaimed, "Oh, but I'm not allowed to do that!" The startled holdup man left.

QUESTION: Are there any herbicides for controlling crotalaria in soybeans?

ANSWER: No. The best thing to do is to avoid planting soybeans in fields known to have crotalaria. Crotalaria plants that appear anyway, should be removed by hand. If crotalaria seed get mixed with the harvested soybeans, they could cause the soybeans to be turned down by buyers.

QUESTION: How much is it costing North Carolina farmers to produce top hogs?

ANSWER: A recent survey of 17 producers showed that farmers growing hogs on concrete need $16.28 per hundredweight to break even. The survey also showed that farmers growing hogs on pasture can break even at $14.73. These prices included all expenses, including taxes, feed, buildings, pig cost, depreciation, labor, interest on investment, etc. The higher break-even price for concrete feeding was attributed mostly to higher cost of rations fed.

QUESTION: How much land do North Carolinians now have
