

P-T-S-A MEETING
The Parent-Teacher-Student Association of Central school will hold the second of its quarterly meetings on Tuesday, December 6, at 8 p. m. in the Auditorium. Preparations have been made for a most informative panel discussion on such topics as: Juvenile Delinquency, Teen-Age Marriages, and Social Responsibilities of Youth. All parents and students are urged to attend.

In the construction of a house, over 400 pounds of steel nails may be used, says Steel Facts.

ADVENT COMMUNION SUNDAY
The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at St. Matthew's Lutheran church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. This Service and all Advent Services through December will be broadcast over WKMT. They are designed to help prepare hearts for the Coming of the Christ-child, a church spokesman said.

Group To Restate Armory Request
A delegation consisting of Capt. Humes Houston, commanding officer, and Sgt. Charles Wilson, of the Kings Mountain National guard company, Mayor Glee A. Bridges, and city commissioners will appear again before the board of county commissioners Monday to ask for monetary aid in supplying local funds for a Kings Mountain National Guard armory.

The county commissioners took no action on the request presented Monday, November 21, stating they preferred to delay action until two recently elected commissioners, Hugh Dover and David E. Beant, are seated. The two commissioners will be sworn into office at Monday's session.

Mayor Bridges told the county commissioners that the City of Kings Mountain is furnishing the present three-acre armory site and has committed itself to providing an additional $20,000, which it expects to obtain by issuance of bonds.

Commissioners at the November 21 session were sympathetic toward the project and stated the county funds would have to be obtained by the same route of bond issuance.

Capt. Houston told the board at that time that from $15,000 to $20,000 will be needed in county appropriation to supplement to city funds and the federal appropriation of $104,000 made by the recent Congress.

Horace Rudisill, Pianist, Dies
Horace D. (Rudy) Rudisill, a Kings Mountain native who was for many years a pianist with the Jan Garbur orchestra, died at his home in Daytona Beach, Fla., November 20.

Mr. Rudisill, son of the Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rudisill, was a first cousin of W. K. Mauney, Mrs. S. A. Crouse, Miss Annie Rudisill, and Mrs. E. C. Cooper, of Kings Mountain, and kinsman of many other Kings Mountain citizens.

Following a 17-year stint with the Garbur band, one of the nation's outstanding dance music organizations in the twenties and thirties, Mr. Rudisill formed his own orchestra.

Survivors include his wife; a brother, William Rudisill, of Charleston, S. C.; and three sisters, Mrs. Minnie Page, Moncks Corner, S. C., Mrs. Horace McGee, Greenville, S. C., and Mrs. Nettie Godwin, of Dunn.

Cotton Vote December 13

Cotton growers will make an important decision on Tuesday, December 13, 1960, D. B. Blalock, Chairman of the Cleveland County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reminds farmers.

On that day, growers will vote in a referendum to decide whether marketing quotas will be in effect for their 1961 upland cotton crop. All farmers who engaged in the production of upland cotton or who had cotton acreage in the Soil Bank in 1960, will be eligible to vote in the referendum.

"If at least two-thirds of the growers voting approve the quotas," Mr. Blalock explains, "marketing quotas will be in effect on all farms growing upland cotton in 1961 and penalties will apply on 'excess' cotton.

"By complying with the farm allotment, a grower will be eligible for price support at the full level available — not more than 90 nor less than 70 percent of parity in 1961.

"If more than one-third of the growers disapprove quotas, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, allotments will remain in effect, and price supports to eligible growers will drop to 50 percent of parity.

"In either case, acreage allotments of some kind will continue in effect for the 1961 cotton crop as a means of determining eligibility for the available price support."

The Chairman pointed out that legislation directs the Secretary of Agriculture to proclaim marketing quotas for the next upland cotton crop when the cotton supply exceeds normal. Quotas are not put into operation, however, unless they are approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in a referendum on the question.

Yule Shopping Now Underway

Kings Mountain's Christmas shopping season began last weekend.

The business section lighting display was turned on for the first time Thanksgiving night, and merchants reported a bumper than customary situation on Friday and Saturday.

On Monday, city electrical crews added to the Christmas lighting display four new aluminum stars which had just arrived from a California display manufacturer.

The new decorative displays are lighted and are located at entrance intersections to the blanket of Christmas lights over Mountain street, Battleground and Railroad avenue.

Charles Blanton, president of the Kings Mountain Merchants association, said he and other association officers are particularly appreciative of the work of the city electrical department in installing the lights and in adding the new decorations as quickly as they arrived Monday.

Retailers have suspended the Wednesday half-holiday for the duration of the pre-Christmas shopping season.

Stores are well-stocked with both Christmas gift and regular season, goods, and majority anticipate a busy Christmas shopping season.

First Union National Bank said this week all but a few of its more than $90,000 in 1960 Christmas Club checks, mailed to members last week, already have been cleared.

Grover Student Wins 4-H Honor

Miss Margaret Ann Davis of Grover, freshman at Berea College in Kentucky, won the Sears-Roebuck Foundation home improvement scholarship valued at $400 at the 39th National 4-H Club Congress held over the weekend in Chicago, Ill.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Davis of the Antioch community near Grover, Miss Davis earned top honors by making additions that raised the value of her family's home by $13,000.

The Grover student, graduate of Blacksburg, S. C., high school, did most of the actual construction work in remodeling and enlarging the family's home when two new bedrooms and a bath were added. With the help of her brother, she dug a 15-by-15 cellar. A seamstress as well, Miss Davis made her own bedspread and curtains, also a desk and nightstand for use in her room.

Miss Davis accompanied the North Carolina 4-H delegation to the Chicago Congress, leaving November 25th.

Judge Says Court Will Not Collect Bogus Checks

"Hereafter, Kings Mountain Recorder's Court will not require payment of worthless checks in the sentence rendered. The collection of a worthless check is a civil matter and this court will only try a defendant on the criminal charge of issuing a worthless check from now on," said Judge Jack White in Monday's session of City Recorder's Court.

He further stated he would not permit the court to be used as a collection agency for local businessmen.

The court has recently been swamped by worthless check offenders who have repeatedly told the court they were asked to sign checks for merchants to hold until after their accounts were paid.

Judge White said he will try only criminal charges and persons holding worthless checks can file for their payment in civil action.

Russell Heads Methodist Men

Some 30 men of Central Methodist church met in the Fellowship Hall for supper Monday at 6:30 p. m. and formally organized a Methodist Men's organization, electing W. A. (Bill) Russell as president.

The group also heard a humorous after-dinner speech by Rev. L. B. Laye, Methodist minister of Cliffside, on the theme: "Humor Can Be Clean."

"Many persons think that a joke, in order to be funny, has to be vulgar or contain vile language," Rev. Mr. Laye told the group. "But that is not true. Humor in which you make yourself the butt of, or your wife or children, can get more laughs than any," he said, and continued to prove his point with many witty anecdotes.

Other officers elected were Paul Walker, vice-president; Howard K. Bryant, secretary; Jacob Dixon, treasurer; and C. T. Carpenter, Jr., reporter.

The group voted to hold the charter open until the February meeting and President Russell urged all present to contact other men in the church to ask them to join. The fourth Monday night in the school-year months was selected as the regular meeting night, with no meeting scheduled for next month.

Paul Walker was temporary chairman for the meeting, which was scheduled when some 20 laymen in the church met in late October to discuss formation of the fellowship. "Methodist Men is a church-wide organization begun in 1942," Rev. H. D. Garmon, pastor, said. "It presents a challenge calling laymen to a new way of life — one that will find its way into the business world and in the social contacts of its members. It points a way of life to be led every day of the week. Men must not be guilty of passing the plate on Sunday, then passing the buck the rest of the week."

Iron was more precious than gold in 1600 B. C., says Steel Facts.

A steel plant annually replaces over 280,000 light bulbs, according to Steel Facts.

Keeping a steel plant clean requires over 250,000 gallons of soap annually, says Steel Facts.

An automobile contains over 100 separate varieties of steel, says Steel Facts.

Use of mechanical power and machinery on the farm increased by 57 per cent from 1940 to 1959.
