

Rules For Club Treasurers Given

Ten rules for the club treasurer — hapless victim of spring elections — are featured in the current issue of Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

An article in the magazine notes that the advice from a certified public accountant who has had "a good bit of experience (more than he wanted) in straightening out the tangled accounts of amateurs." The rules include:

- Record each transaction when it happens, giving a complete description. Never delay writing up a ledger, check book or receipt stub.
- Deposit ALL money received in a checking account at regular intervals.
- Write checks for ALL disbursements. Prenumbered checks aid in reconciling the bank statement.
- Insist on bills and/or vouchers before making disbursements.

- Always have on hand a small book of detachable prenumbered receipts with stubs or carbon copies; immediately write out a receipt for cash received.
- Retain and file by year bills and duplicate receipts or receipt stubs.
- Write down the explanation for every transaction, no matter how trivial or obvious it appears; and write it down in all appropriate places.
- Reconcile the bank statement each month to catch errors within 30 days.
- When in doubt, or when a question arises about the books or records, seek help at once from an accountant or bookkeeper.
- Don't be satisfied if the books "almost balance." Keep records so that every penny can be accounted for.

K. M. Alumni Of Gardner-Webb Meet Thursday

BOILING SPRINGS — Gardner-Webb College Alumni Association officials are making last efforts to organize a dozen alumni chapters before the May 26 banquet set as their deadline.

Already 10 chapters have been organized and are active: Thomsville, Spindale, Chase area, Forest City, Boiling Springs, Gastonia, Belmont, Shelby, Cherryville, and Western North Carolina, near Sylva.

The Boiling Springs chapter will hold a second meeting tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the E. B. Hamrick Auditorium. Officers for this spearheading group are Frank Wall, former procurement officer at the College, president; Mrs. Dorothy W. Hamrick, vice-president; Lansford Jolley, program chairman; Mrs. Betty Banning Jones, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Marie Hamrick, secretary - treasurer.

Organizational meetings scheduled prior to May 26 are Thursday, May 10, Kings Mountain, and Tuesday, May 15, Lawndale.

A Cherokee County (S. C.) chapter organized in the fall of 1960 has tentatively planned to meet during the summer months. Another chapter is expected to be organized in the Hickory-Newton-Maiden area in the near future.

President E. Eugene Poston has urged alumni in the Boiling Springs area to attend tonight's meeting. Around 500 letters have been mailed to alumni in the area inviting them to attend this important meeting.

"We feel, of course, that those living in and around the Boiling Springs Area form the nucleus of the College and should lead out in this program," Poston said. That thinking was behind planning a second meeting for this nucleus group.

By 1980, America will need an estimated 51 million acres less than the 458 million acres in 1959.
