The three most common reasons for ornamental plants dying suddenly are lack of water, injury to the trunk and fertilizer injury.

Cotton exports from the U. S. from August 1961 through March 1962 were about one-third less than the similar period average for the previous five seasons.

There's no doubt in the minds of the Tar Heel natives that our Variety Vacationland is most accurately titled. What other state in the country offers the wide range of natural and man-made attractions to be found within North Carolina's borders? With the addition last Fall of skiing facilities on the western slopes, what might any excursionist desire that cannot be found readily and inexpensively "at home" during the course of the year? The subject of skiing on the slopes reminds this traveler of the fact that innumerable opportunities for the summertime version of this sport exist in VV. Since the mid-40's water skiing has become increasingly popular in North Carolina, probably as an adjunct to a greatly increased interest in pleasure boating. And one reason for the accelerated tempo of pleasure boating is found in the north-central portion of VV - just a short drive. On a recent weekend my family and I were amazed with the from the picturesque and progressive city of Henderson. tremendous boating and water skiing activity on the John H. Kerr Reservoir (sometimes referred to as Kerr Lake). Not that there isn't plenty of room roughing it" will prefer the cabins located at Satterwhite's Point (just a stone's throw from Henderson.) Here all of the staple necessities, excepting linens, are provided at a weekly cost that is entirely reasonable. But whether you prefer tent or cabin, be sure to reserve these in advance. Regardless of your length of stay, the entire family will enjoy "sunning" on the beaches and refreshing dips in the cool waters of Kerr Lake. To put mom and dad at ease, lifeguard services are available at Bullock's Landing and Satterwhite's Point. Be assured that you've a real treat in store once you've set your plans for a visit to Kerr Lake. The Henderson Chamber of Commerce, 111 W. Montgomery Street, will be pleased to supply full information desired. As of June 1, 12 southern states had nearly 40 million acres of "tree farms" - two thirds of the nation's total. "Tree farming" is a term for good forest management.
