A Gastonia savings and loan association announced this week it is increasing, effective January 1, its regular dividend payment to 4% percent. Local savings and loan offici-als said they understood another Gastonia association is planning to follow suit.

Thomas A. Tate, secretary-breasurer of Home Savings & Loan association, said his firm will consider action at a board meeting on Tuesday. He didn't predict what action will be taken, though he acknowledged the fact his firm has a branch office at Bessemer City in Gaston county would be a factor in the deliberations. Increase of onequarter of one percent would ean an increase of about $20,-000 annually to shareholders

Mr. Tate estimated. He also said officials of several Shelby associations are opposed to increasing the dividend rate.

Ben H. Bridges, secretary-reasurer of Kings Mountain Savings & Loan association, said within the ensuing ten days. He noted tax law changes effective January 1 will mean savings and loan associations will become federal income taxpay-ers in 1963. While savings and

Commission May Launch Replacement

City "White Way" Action Expected

Specifically, the board is expected to invite bids on ten outdoor lighting units to replace present lights on S. Railroad avenue, from Gold to Mountain, and on S. Battleground from Gold to Mountain.

Mayo rKelly Dixon said he considers action Thursday night as "likely" and City Clerk Joe McDaniel, Jr., said inquiries of commissioners also indicated likely affirmative action,

Cost is expected to be in the range of $4,000, and Mr. McDaniel has informed board members that this amount is available in unbudgeted funds.
