

Burlington Plans Trade Fair Exhibit

An expected quarter-million people will have a chance to learn more about the products and services of Burlington Industries, North Carolina's leading industrial employer.

W. B. Grimes, Jr., Plant Manager, announced that products of Phenix Plant would be part of the Burlington exhibit at the North Carolina International Trade Fair in Charlotte.

The widely-publicized event is scheduled for April 27 through May 4. Among the quarter-million spectators expected to attend will be thousands of professional buyers from throughout the United States and abroad.

An earlier announcement that Burlington Industries planned to exhibit at the Trade Fair was made through the Governor's office by Hargrove Bowles, Jr., chairman of the State's Board of Conservation and Development.

The board is sponsoring the eight-day international event for benefit of North Carolina industries wishing to aggressively improve their marketing positions on a state, national, and world-wide basis.

Burlington's exhibit area will measure some 400 square feet and will be located in the center of the Charlotte Coliseum, Mr. Grimes said.

In describing the design and contents of the Burlington exhibit, Mr. Grimes said:

"The Burlington exhibit will include products of Phenix Plant, as well as those of over 60 Burlington plants in North Carolina. Entitled 'The Wonderful World of Textiles,' Burlington's display will depict the wide diversity of the Company's production in North Carolina and 15 other states where Burlington manu-

Trinity Gives Easter Plans

The Easter Feast of the Resurrection will be celebrated at Trinity Episcopal church, Phifer Road, at 10 a.m. Sunday. Worship of the Risen Lord will be offered in the service of the Holy Eucharist.

In preparation for this celebration, there will be services each day beginning tonight. The events will be traced that led up to the Crucifixion and the proclaiming of its victory in the Resurrection. Today's Maundy Thursday observance at 7:30 p.m. will include the Office of Evening Prayer with portions of scripture from the Lamentations of Jeremiah and Christ's great prayer for His church in the 17th Chapter of the Gospel according to St. John. The story of Christ's suffering and crucifixion is recited in the words of St. Luke's Gospel as part of the Order for the Lord's Supper. The congregation will then watch with Christ as he prays in agony in the Garden of Gethsemane before his arrest.

On Friday, the Day of the Crucifixion, there will be a series of devotions beginning at 12 noon, "the ninth hour", when darkness covered the whole land. Scripture readings will include the story of the offering of Isaac by Abraham and then the story of the offering of Christ on the Cross for the sin of mankind as told in the 18th and 19th Chapters of St. John.

On Good Friday night the 7:30 service will include readings from Isaiah about the Second Chapter of St. Peter's First Epistle.

On Saturday at 7:30 p.m. Easter Even will mark the ancient Christian observance of baptism into the crucified and risen Christ. Biblical selections from the Book of Job and the Sixth Chapter of St. Paul's Letter to the Romans foretell the Resurrection and man's share in it through his baptism into the Body of Christ.

At the main celebration of the Resurrection on Sunday at 10 a.m., the living Christ is present through the bread and wine in which He makes His Body and Blood as He did in the Upper Room on the night in which He was betrayed. The Service is divided into two parts, the work of the Word and the Work of the Sacrifice.

In the first part dealing with the Word, God's saving power to deliver the Old Israel from death by the Egyptians is read from Exodus. Then God's saving power in Christ for the New Israel is described by St. Paul in his Letter to the Colossians along with the story of Christ's Resurrection in the 20th Chapter of St.

John. The second part of the Eucharistic Service, the offering of the Sacrifice, the congregation bring their total lives to the risen Christ; these lives are given to God in the sacrificial offering of Christ in the Crucifixion and Resurrection, and then are received back in a renewed form in the Body and Blood of the living Christ.

The sermon and hymns as well as the service itself proclaim the Resurrection news. The congregation's actions and words are all directed toward the praise and adoration of their risen Savior. Because this is the one necessary thing, everything else is eliminated; there will be no Sunday School or Adult Class that day.

The celebration of Easter is continued for the next two days with a service of Holy Communion on Monday at 10:00 and on Tuesday at 7:00 a.m. At these services the scripture passages which tell of the appearance of Christ in the breaking of bread at Emmaus and His appearance to the disciples in the Upper Room.

The public is welcome to attend all services at the church.

Two Cars Totaled In Two Accidents

Two cars were judged total losses in accidents investigated by city police officers during the past week.

The 1951 automobile of James Alex Dugan, Bessemer City, was judged a total loss Saturday following an accident in which Wayne Gerald Staves was charged with a stop light violation.

Staves reportedly ran the red light at the intersection of Battleground Avenue and King Street and struck the Dugan vehicle which was traveling south on Battleground.

Damage to the Staves car was estimated at $125. Sunday Lula Neil Hullender, 815 Gantt Street, was charged with failure to yield the right of way following an accident which left her car a total loss.

Hullender reportedly pulled into Second Street from Blanton Street and struck the right side of a vehicle being driven south on Second Street by Doris Heath Upchurch, 1210 Second Street.

Damage to the Upchurch car, a 1960 model, were estimated at $325.
