and thus would not preclude the subsequent award of Increment II to Hunter and Waiden Co.," he said. The $58,700 differential to which Lampke referred is the difference between the two firms' bids on Increment II. Hunter and Waiden bid $61,228.90 on this increment, and Bryant Electric's bid was $60,640.20. Lampke recommended that the city contract with Hunter and Waiden for Increment I, and in order to save additional administrative and engineering expense associated with two separate contracts, to later contract with the same firm for Increment II. The new council will meet on Thursday and is expected at that time to act on Lampke's recommendations.

MORE ABOUT Plunk Defeated

In the mayoral campaign, Mr. Bridges, 68, will retain the seat he held for eight years and lost to Mayor Dixon in a close runoff election in 1961. The Dixon margin was 116 votes out of 2210 cast. In the mayor's race, the first returns of the evening, those of Ward 1, where 252 voted, set the pattern for the rest of the evening. Bridges carried the box by 144 votes to Dixon's 101. Mr. Dixon is an ordained Baptist minister and a building contractor. Dixon, 61, congratulated Mr. Bridge on his victory. He said, "It has been a very decent campaign. I've enjoyed the past two years and am very proud of the record we've left behind. I appreciate the support that has been given me."

Myers Children Struck By Auto

Bonnie Myers, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Myers, of Patterson Springs, formerly of Kings Mountain, is a patient at the Cleveland Memorial hospital, where she is recuperating from injuries received when she and her brother, six-year-old Bill Myers, were struck by an automobile Friday afternoon. The accident occurred when the children were walking along N. C. highway 226 near the Patterson Springs school, according to State Patrol Trooper William Valentine. Bill has multiple bruises, but no serious injuries, while Bonnie suffered a head injury, plus a broken collarbone broken arm and leg. Wednesday afternoon her condition was reported by a hospital nurse to be serious. A car driven by Charles Jackson Greene, 38, of Rt. 1, Grover, struck the two children. Greene told the trooper that the children ran in front of his car, he was unable to stop, and they were knocked into a ditch. No charges were filed in the accident which occurred at 6:55 p.m.

Hickory Mentor Is Undecided

Coach Mark Loverly, mentor of the Northwestern AAA conference champions, is undecided about who will pitch against the Mountaineers Friday night. The Mountaineers will play undefeated Hickory in Hickory's Legion Stadium at 7:45 p.m. for the semi-final championship of the Western North Carolina athletic association. Gary Abernathy (3-0), Steve Fisch (2-0), and Kenny Morrison (2-0) are the aces of the Hickory staff. Fisch is a left-hander. Coach Fred Withers, as is his policy, hasn't announced his starter either. The aces on the Mountaineer staff are Barry Gibson, Jackie Hughes, and Bo Gorth. Coach Loverly, former Lenoir Rhyne college player, is a native of Salisbury. He has guided his team to 10 wins.

places; Ward 2; at the American Legion Hall; Ward 3 at East school; and Ward 5 at the new Armory. Election officials were also pleased with the new pollbooks made possible by the all-new registration. Ward 2 election officials, reporting on a busy day, were laughing about one candidate's "mistaken identity." Hazel Lee Gill, the Ward 5, candidate for city commissioner, was referred to as "the woman we voted for" by several visitors to the polls who had apparently mistaken the name Hazel for the name of a lady. There was one write-in candidate for Commissioner at the Ward 5 polling place. The name of Bright D. Ratterree was written in. Herald staffers were assisted by former staffer David Baily, now of the Mount Holly News staff, in gathering results of Tuesday's voting. Steve Barnett, 21, registered for the first time to vote in a municipal election. Barnett voted in Ward 4. As it frequently happens, the Lions club ladies night came on election day. Returns were just beginning to come in as the banquet got underway, the Lions and guests attending the 25th ladies' night affair didn't get final returns until long after the party was over.

MORE ABOUT Elected

MORE ABOUT Letter To Editor

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE COMMUNITY: We of the Kings Mountain Ministerial Association wish to go on record with you in commending a fellow minister for a job well done in serving our Lord and this community. The Reverend J. W. Phillips, pastor of The Wesleyan Methodist Church has rendered a service to us and our community that will never be forgotten. We are thankful for his witness for our Lord and Saviour in this community. Many lives are better by having Reverend Phillips as their pastor, friend, counselor and guide. We wish to thank this fellow minister of ours, in his departing from us, for a job well done in serving His Lord and, in turn, our community. The Christ-like character exhibited by Reverend Phillips has been a constant inspiration to many. We thank our gracious Heavenly Father for placing him in our midst. We feel sure that many will express their gratitude individually to this noble servant of our Lord Jesus Christ. Our greatest consolation in bidding farewell to this friend is that Kings Mountain's loss is another community's gain! We, in our monthly meeting, went on record to write this letter for publication so that all may know our love, devotion and gratitude for you. Kings Mountain Ministerial Association. M. D. Senior Superlatives Featured In Annual
