Gastonia By-Pass Opens February

The U. S. 74 by-pass of Gastonia will be opened to traffic in February, Highway Commissioner J. Clint Newton said Wednesday.

He added department engineers had not indicated a firm date but guessed that the new strip of four-lane, limited access road would be ready within three months.

I've had nothing official on it," he said, "though I know the road construction is well ahead of schedule. It's a beautiful piece of road."

The Gastonia Gazette said a few days ago the new by-pass would be opened on January 15.

For travelers to Charlotte and beyond, and from east to west and south, the new by-pass will eliminate Gastonia's crowded, traffic-signal laden Franklin avenue U. S. 74.

Comm. Newton also reported that planning work on another projected section of U. S. 74 is well ahead of schedule—this strip from Moresboro to the Alexander Mills interchange south of Forest City.

He said the highway department will begin obtaining right-of-way on this section within three months.

Already approved is a four-lane, limited access road through Cleveland, Rutherford, and Polk counties to intersect with Interstate 86 from Charleston, S. C., to Asheville.

2 and 1 Pact With Lincoln Held Possible

By MARTIN HARMON

It is a possibility that Democratic leaders of the new four-county two-senator 31st senatorial district will be able to recommend to the respective party executive committees approval of rotation agreements involving Cleveland and Lincoln counties, and Catawba and Alexander counties.

Under discussion, but not yet agreed between party leaders, is this rotation plan: 1) Cleveland would supply a Democratic nominee for senator for two biennia, with Lincoln supplying the nominee each third biennium; 2) Catawba would supply a Democratic nominee for senator for three biennia, Alexander each fourth biennium.

Rep. Jack Palmer, of Cleveland, said party chairmen and General Assemblies in the four counties met in Catawba two weeks ago without decision.

Another exploratory session is tentatively scheduled for Cleveland within a fortnight.

Rep. Palmer and Cleveland Chairman J. Clint Newton expressed optimism that the Cleveland-Lincoln agreement can be effected.

Rep. Palmer noted that the relative populations of Cleveland and Lincoln dictate the 2 to 1 arrangement.

Biggest bar to date has been the fact that Catawba, now represented in the Senate by Senator Johnston, of Iredell, feels it is now due a senator for the 1965 term. In turn, Senator David Clark, of Lincoln, is an incumbent, and Cleveland already has an announced Democratic candidate in the person of R. Patrick Spangler, the Shelby - Kings Mountain businessman.

Rep. Palmer, as chairman did previously, pointed out that the groups now exploring the possibility of rotation agreements will conclude no firm nor formal agreements. "That's the province of the respective Democratic executive committees," Rep. Palmer said.

The re-districting ended the long - continuing agreement with Rutherford and McDowell in the former two-senator 27th district whereby Cleveland enjoyed senatorial representation each biennium.

In the absence of an agreement, all candidates for the 31st district's two senate seats would run at large. In that event, Mr. Spangler, for instance, to be the nominee, would have to place one-two on basis of total primary votes in the four counties.

If agreements are reached, the candidates will appear on primary ballots only in their home counties.

Mrs. Miller Joins Faculty

Mrs. Carol R. Miller, of Charlotte, joined the Kings Mountain high school faculty Monday as a teacher of physical education and health.

She was elected Saturday after resignation of Mrs. Carleton Mullinax, of Gaffney, S. C. Mrs. Mullinax has moved to Florence, S. C., where she was to join the school faculty there.

Mrs. Miller is a graduate of Pfeiffer college and has had teaching experience at West Stanley high school, in Stanley county.

IN COMEDY — Hal England will appear in the lead role of Finch in the musical comedy, "How To Succeed In Business Without Really Trying" opening Friday in Charlotte.

Hal England At Coliseum

Hal England, Kings Mountain native, will star in the musical comedy, "How To Succeed In Business Without Really Trying" Friday and Saturday at Ovens Auditorium in Charlotte.

England will portray Finch, billed as a "charming schemer."

Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. England, now of Camden, S. C., England is a graduate of Kings Mountain high school and received his B. A. degree in drama from the University of North Carolina. Shortly after going to New York, he was in the Broadway comedy "Love Me Little" followed by a series of off-Broadway productions: Marchbanks in "Candida"; Sebastian in "Twelfth Night" and Treplev in "The Sea Gull." The musical stage claimed him for the N. Y. City Center revival of "The Beggar's Opera" as Jimmy the Twitchee with Shirley Jones. He was understudy and later played the boy producer in "Say, Darling." He was standing by for Robert Morse in the New York production of "How To Succeed In Business."

In Hollywood England alternated between "Conversation at Midnight," a successful stage play for Moral Rearmament, and running TV parts in "The Dobbie Gillis Show and Clear Horizon. Producers Feuer and Martin first discovered him when they were looking for a versatile performer to play the leading role in an industrial musical they were creating for General Motors in 1961. Mr. England was their choice to play "The Magic Man."

Tickets are on sale at the Coliseum Box Office or may be ordered by mail.

Kings Mountain Local Funds School Budget Is $828,338

United Fund Total Climbs To $4000

Kings Mountain United Fund's 1964 financial campaign reached the $4,000 mark this week, Chairman Robert O. Southwell said Wednesday.

He said several major divisions of the solicitation campaign have made only sparse reports of campaign results to date.

"Some of our chairmen have been out-of-town and reports are quite incomplete," he commented.

Chairman Southwell reminded that the $19,415 goal provides operating funds for the upcoming year for seven charitable and service organizations.

The beneficiaries of the campaign are the Boy Scouts of America, Girl Scouts, Kings Mountain high school band, Kings Mountain Chapter, American Red Cross, Cleveland County Life-Saving and Rescue Squad, Davidson-Compact band, and Jacob S. Mauney Memorial library.

"All these organizations are local, rendering service to all our people. Failure to attain the full budget means that the organizations must operate on restricted basis," Chairman Southwell commented.

Many industrial firms are just launching their solicitations, he added, with only one Kings Mountain industry reported "complete."

Under the United Fund plan, several organizations join for their solicitation campaigns, sharing receipts on a pro-rata formula based on the particular organization's percentage of the initial budget.

Individuals are being asked to give a day's pay for the support of the seven organizations.

Several industrial firms are tendering their employees with holding arrangements for their contributions.

New Gift Shop Opens Thursday

Mrs. Myrtis P. Julian is announcing the opening Thursday of the "weeLANTERN", a gift shop and new Kings Mountain business enterprise.

The new firm is located in the Webb Building on West Mountain street, adjacent to Sterchi's.

Mrs. Julian said the firm would be open afternoons, from 1 to 5 p.m. Mondays through Wednesdays, and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursdays through Saturdays.

The firm will offer gift specialties, stationery, children's books, Christmas cards and numerous other items.

Mrs. Julian is the wife of Rev. George Julian, pastor of Second Baptist church.

Youth Appreciation Week Features Naming Of Outstanding Teen-Agers

The Kings Mountain Optimist club is receiving nominations this week and next for "Outstanding Teenager" awards to be presented to two young people of the community.

Youth Appreciation Week, which gets underway Monday, is sponsored by the Kings Mountain club and nation-wide. The award presentation will climax the observance.

Trophies which the civic club will present are on display at City Paint Store. Nominations for "Outstanding Teenagers" should be mailed to P.O. Box 121.

Commenting on next week's observance, Optimist President R. W. Hurlbut said, "Youth Appreciation Week is aimed at adult recognition of and appreciation for all teenagers. The 'pat' on the back' programs are not only for the sports heroes and scholarship winners but for the recognition of the achievements of the average youngsters, the FIRST GOSPEL OF JHON — Rev. H. G. Clayton, at right, pastor of First Church of The Nazarene, gives a first copy of the Gospel of John to Kings Mountain Mayor Glee A. Bridges. Local Nazarenes began a 10-day crusade Wednesday in which they will "Witness by Distribution" and distribute copies of the scripture. Two million witnesses in ten days is goal of the church. Rev. Mr. Clayton told his congregation at Wednesday night's service. He added, "In India 70 percent of the literature available is communist. As the grandson of Gandhi has said, "The British taught the people of India how to read, but the Communists gave them the literature." The world needs gospel literature and the Church of the Nazarene joins in an all-out attack against atheism and communism, Mr. Clayton said.

ARP Moderator To Speak Here

Boyce Memorial Will Hear Dr. Younts

Dr. C. R. Younts of Doraville, Ga., moderator of the General Assembly of the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church, will speak at Boyce Memorial ARP church Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Blood Research Promises Results

Better utilization of blood to serve people will result from studies currently being conducted jointly by the American Red Cross and the National Heart Institute, Charles F. Mauney, blood program chairman of the Kings Mountain Red Cross chapter, said this week.

The project involves separating blood into red cells, platelets, and plasma immediately upon collection. The red cells are used to transfuse anemic patients with heart disease. Platelets are taken from the plasma to treat leukemia patients. The remaining ultra-fresh plasma is used to prepare high potency antithrombin globulin, which controls bleeding in hemophiliacs much faster than other means now available.

Separation of blood into different components to meet specific needs of patients is a primary purpose of the ARC Blood Program research department, which has facilities in Washington, D. C., New York, and Los Angeles.

Operational Expense Set At $329,344

Kings Mountain school district's local funds school budget for the current year is $828,338.

The schools anticipate expenditures of $329,344 for current expenses (operational expenditures) and $498,994 in capital outlay (new buildings, equipment, etc.)

The total expendable funds available are derived from several sources:

1) Carry-over balances of $342,462, including $266,583 in capital outlay funds and $75,879 current expense funds.

2) $201,065 for both funds from county and district ad valorem taxes.

3) Supplement from state and federal governments normally include in local funds budgets (vocational instruction, lunchroom supplements, driver education expenses, etc.)

4) Anticipated expenditure of $150,000 from the $1,100,000 high school plant bond authorization. These bonds have not been sold but advance tax payments will total that amount, or more, by January 31.

The schools expect to spend for operations the following amounts:

General control, $8,025; for instructional services $125,885; for plant operation $6,250; for plant maintenance $112,305; for fixed charges (insurance, surety bonds, etc.) $13,390; and for auxiliary agencies, $62,849.

Kings Mountain district's receipts from tax monies include $67,010 for capital outlay from the county - wide levy of 24 cents per $100 valuation; $86,555 for operations from the 31 cents per $100 valuation; and $47,500 for operations from the 20 cents per $100 valuation special Kings Mountain district tax.

The three county school districts share county - wide tax funds, as well as the school share of intangible taxes rebated from the state receipts from fines and forfeitures on a pupil per capita basis.

The percentage for this year is: Kings Mountain, 24.6 percent; Shelby, 28.26 percent; and county, 47.14 percent. Kings Mountain district's pupil population percentage is derived from last year's 4368 pupils. Total Cleveland County pupil population last year was 17,754.

Among the supplemental receipt items anticipated by Kings Mountain district are $31,600 for vocational instruction, $35,000 in lunchroom supplements, $11,251 for driver's education, and $14,600 from fines and forfeitures.

Four Nominated For Scholarship

Four Kings Mountain high school seniors are among the 20 students from five high schools in Cleveland County who have been nominated for Morehead scholarships to the University of North Carolina.
