

New Tax Helps For Taxpayer

Information to help taxpayers prepare the 1964 estimated tax declarations are available now in pamphlets distributed today by the Internal Revenue Service. The reduced rates and other major changes made by Revenue Act of 1964 are outlined in a new Form 1040-ES Supplement. The form is available at the 28 local offices of Internal Revenue in North Carolina. Copies should reach post offices and some banks by mid-week. The information on this form is for use by taxpayers required to file by April 15 declarations of estimated tax on income earned in 1964. There taxpayers should use the estimated tax forms previously mailed to all taxpayers and apply the new rates and other provisions described on the Form 1040-ES Supplement when preparing the declaration. Approximately six million taxpayers filed declarations of estimated tax last year. Provisions of the new tax law apply to 1964 income. Tax returns on 1963 income due April 15 are not affected. Cayenne pepper is named for the city of Cayenne, capital of French Guiana, and source of much of the world's supply of this type of red pepper, according to the Book of Knowledge.

DRAWN WORK TAUGHT IN LENOIR

Learning an art or craft has proven to be a favorite part-time activity for many homemakers in Lenoir County. Mrs. Charles Levick is teaching the Kinston Young Homemakers how to make place mats and luncheon cloths featuring drawn work. Miss Marie Feneul, home economics agent, says Mrs. Levick is a member of the Kinston Home Demonstration Club which is sponsoring the young homemaker's group. Mrs. Levick learned to do drawn work at the northeastern district crafts workshop several years ago.

NEEDLEWORK CLASSES HELD

It seems that all homemakers in Rowan County are interested in doing needlework. Miss Edith Hinshaw, home economics agent, reports they had an all-day workshop with Home Demonstration Club members teaching the classes. "And all classes were full," she said. Teaching the classes were Mrs. Frank Bostian and Mrs. C. P. Fisher needlepoint; Mrs. E. S. Temple and Mrs. Arnold Anderson, Swedish darning; Mrs. J. C. Cheek, drawn work; Mrs. H. M. Brown, crewel embroidery; Mrs. A. L. Pring, monogram embroidery.

their community and are teaching the members in a neighboring club. Mrs. Paul O'Kelly and Mrs. Harvey Bartlett are teaching tailoring in other areas of the county.

UNIFORMS NEEDED

The Bells 4-H Club girls need money to buy material to make their 4-H uniforms so they decided to have a chicken barbecue in Chatham County and work out the money.

Mrs. Annabel Powers, home economics agent, says the 4-H adult leaders, Mrs. Louise Holleman and Mrs. Louise Ragan supported the youngsters with their project and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Blalock assisted in barbecuing the chickens. After the girls get the material, they will make the uniforms.

The State Ports Authority, as we know it today, was created in 1945 with two modern port terminals - Morehead City and Wilmington. The two terminals handle nearly 800,000 tons of cargo annually to service industry and commerce over a wide inland area.

SHOPPING TOUR

"This is the easiest money we have ever made for our county council," said Mrs. G. F. Shackley, president of the Virginia Edwards Club in Currituck County. The club was presented a monetary award for going on an educational tour of a supermarket.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sanderlin, home economics agent, says they visited each department receiving tips on how to buy food. Visiting back of the scene, they saw meat cut, packed, weighed, and priced by a machine.

LEADERS GIVE DEMONSTRATIONS

The leaders in the Morning Hour Home Demonstration Club are sharing homemaking secrets with each other. Each month, a leader will give a "quickie" or "how-to" demonstration of some simple, timely homemaking skill. Recently they learned to make a simple cake decorating bag from waxed paper.

Mrs. Martha Adams, home economics agent, says club members in Richmond County are also learning to knit. Several "knitters" in the county have agreed to teach a group of beginners in regular knitting sessions.

SHARES INFORMATION WITH OTHERS

Many leaders in the Home Demonstration Clubs are not only eager to learn but willing to teach others. Mrs. Mary Ray, home economics agent in Buncombe County, says she has several leaders who are showing exceptional leadership ability.

Mrs. Joyce Hendrix and Mrs. B. C. Morton have conducted several re-upholstering workshops in
